Matt,

Following up to get your thoughts on the below as well as the proposed revisions to S.3200 sent in e-mail dated 12/29/2021. Happy to discuss in a call if convenient.

Also, be advised that the McKenzie County Grazing Association has sent the attached letter to Representative Armstrong requesting that the Little Missouri National Grasslands be completely removed from the current bill. Paragraph 3 calls out the section line rights-of-way issue.

Thank You,

James

Matt,

I don't believe we have specifically discussed sections 54-01-12, 54-01-13, 54-01-13.2, 54-01-13.3, but I don't see any glaring issues aside from those we have already discussed. Here is my take, please let me know if you disagree with anything - I would be happy to discuss further.

- Article IX, § 6 of the constitution requires further legislative authority to exchange state- owned original grant lands with federal lands (see highlighted language below).
- This legislative authority appears in N.D.C.C. §§ 15-06-19.1, 54-01-12, and 54-01-13:
  - § 15- 06- 19.1 grants the Board legislative authority to exchange "[o]riginal grant school or institutional lands and any other lands controlled by the board of university and school lands" with federal lands "of like character and value". I interpret this grant of authority to be quite broad and apply to all lands under the control of the Board (whether granted in the Enabling act or otherwise acquired thereafter, and wherever located).
  - § 54- 01- 12 grants legislative authority to exchange state- owned non- grant lands located on Indian reservations within the state with federal lands also located on Indian reservations within the state. The language does not indicate that the lands exchanged must be located the same reservation.
  - § 54- 01- 13 grants legislative authority to exchange state- owned non- grant lands located within the borders of Fort Berthold reservation with federal lands located outside of Fort Berthold reservation.
- S.3200 specifically proposes an exchange of state- owned land located within the Little Missouri National Grassland and within the reservations.
- N.D.C.C. §§ 54- 01- 13.1, 13.2, and 13.3 all appear to apply only to exchanges of land within Theodore Roosevelt National Park. It is my understanding that most (if not all) state- owned land within the Park has already been exchanged.

N.D. Const. art. IX, § 6.
Any of said lands that may be required for townsite purposes, schoolhouse sites, church sites, cemetery sites, sites for other educational or charitable institutions, public parks, airplane landing fields, fairgrounds, public highways, railroad right of way, or other railroad uses and purposes, reservoirs for the storage of water for irrigation, irrigation canals, and ditches, drainage ditches, or for any of the purposes for which private lands may be taken under the right of eminent domain under the constitution and laws of this state, may be sold under the provisions of this article, and shall be paid for in full at the time of sale, or at any time thereafter as herein provided. Any of said lands and any other lands controlled by the board of university and school lands, including state coal mineral interests, may, with the approval of said board, be exchanged for lands and coal mineral interests of the United States, the state of North Dakota or any county or municipality thereof as the legislature may provide, and the lands so acquired shall be subject to the trust to which the lands exchanged therefor were subject, and the state shall reserve all mineral and water power rights in land so transferred, except coal mineral interests approved for exchange by the board of university and school lands under this section.

15-06-19.1. Exchange of lands with the United States

Body	15-00-15.1. Exchange of lands with the United States. Original grant school or institutional lands and any other lands controlled by the board of university and school lands may be exchanged for lands of like character and value belonging to the United States government when it appears that such exchange will be advantageous to the state of North Dakota and will effect an increase in the value of such lands by consolidation or by making lands more accessible. Such exchange is subject to the approval of the proper department of the federal government, and such lands must be appraised as provided by law in the case of sale of real property owned by the state. The state also may execute and deliver proper conveyances of such land in the manner and form provided by law without the necessity of complying with any statute requiring the giving of notice of exchange or competitive bidding, and may accept in return therefor a proper instrument of conveyance to the state of North Dakota of the land for which such lands are exchanged, and the lands so acquired are subject to the trust to which the lands exchanged therefor were subject. 54-01-12. Exchange of lands on Indian reservation between state and federal government. The state of North Dakota, through its several departments and agencies, may exchange tracts and sections of land on Indian reservations within the state, belonging to the state of North Dakota, and not a part of the original grant of land to the state provided in the Enabling Act, for lands of like character and value belonging to the United States government on Indian reservations within this state. Such exchange is subject to the approval of the appropriate department of the federal government and the lands must be appraised in the manner provided by law. The state also may execute and deliver proper conveyances of such land in the manner and form provided by law, without the necessity of complying with any statute requiring notice of exchange or competitive bidding, and it may accept in return therefor a proper instrument of conveyance to the state of the lands for which such state lands are exchanged. 54-01-13. Exchange of lands on Fort Berthold reservation. The state of North Dakota, through its several departments and agencies, is hereby authorized and empowered to exchange tracts, sections, and parcels of land located within the diminished borders of Fort Berthold reservation belonging to the state of North Dakota and not a part of the original grant of lands to the state provided for in the Enabling Act, for lands of like character and value belonging to the United States government located outside of the diminished borders of said Fort Berthold reservation. Such exchange is subject to the approval of the proper department of the federal government, and such lands must be appraised as provided by law in the case of sale of real property owned by the state. The state also may execute and deliver proper conveyances of such land in the manner and form provided by law, without the necessity of complying with any statute requiring the giving of notice of exchange or competitive bidding, and may accept in return therefor a proper instrument of conveyance to the state of North Dakota of the land for which such lands are exchanged. 54-01-13.1. Exchange of lands within Theodore Roosevelt National Park. The state of North Dakota is hereby authorized to transfer and convey to the United States of America any lands situated within the Theodore Roosevelt National Park in the county of Billings, state of North Dakota, including state school lands and lands held by the state historical society or for the use and benefit of the state game and fish department, such transfer and conveyance to be made in exchange for federal lands of not less than equal value situated outside of the Theodore Roosevelt National Park. 54-01-13.2. Appraisal. The lands to be conveyed to the United States of America and also the lands to be taken in exchange therefor, under the provisions of section 54-01-13.1, must be appraised by the county superintendent of schools, the county auditor, and the chairman of the board of county commissioners in the county where the land is situated, at its fair market value, but no state school lands may be appraised and valued at less than ten dollars per acre [.40 hectare]. The county director of tax equalization shall serve as an assistant in making the appraisals. 54-01-13.3. Conveyance. Conveyances made under section 54-01-13.1 to the United States of America of state school lands must be executed in the same form and manner as now provided by law for the sale and conveyance of state school lands and conveyance by the state of other lands under the provisions of section 54-01-13.1 must be executed on behalf of the state of North Dakota by the governor and attested by the secretary of state. Body	Wayne, it looks like SA Burdick has entered into a stipulation with the Plaintiffs in this case, which will allow the county to essentially "sit the case out." Any objections? Even if we had objections, I bet the County would still file... We represent Birch Burdick in his official capacity, whose position is and always has been "tell me what the law is and I will enforce it." We've been riding the State's coattails in this case, but with the recent depositions it has become more and more expensive for us to participate in the case. I believe we have found a way out of this dilemma. Attached you will find a stipulation that has been approved by Burdick and the plaintiffs' counsel. We didn't want to file it without running it by you. Could you let us know if you have any concerns with the attached document? We'd like to get it filed before any additional depositions take place. Body	Attached is a new amicus request. The issue before the Court is whether the leaders of North Carolina's General Assembly should have been allowed to intervene under Rule 24(a)(2) to defend a state voting law where another state party was already named. This law was passed over the Governor's veto, and the named defendants are the members of the state elections board who serve under the Governor. The issue before the Court is whether the leaders of North Carolina's General Assembly should have been allowed to intervene under Rule 24(a)(2) to defend a state voting law where another state party was already named. This law was passed over the Governor's veto, and the named defendants are the members of the state elections board who serve under the Governor. I applogize that this draft is not as far along as I would like, but I wanted to circulate it for your consideration given the impending long weekend. I will circulate an updated draft later this week, but I think this draft conveys the substance of the arguments. My overall goal in this brief is to support intervention by authorized agents because I think it is good for the rule of law long term, but also to do no harm to institutional interests of attorneys general. I am open to any edits, large or small, including cutting sections or adding sections. So far, I am the only drafter of this, so all errors are mine, not my team's. McCarthy,* No. 21-940 (U.S.) (draft attached). The new deadline is Monday, January 24, 2022, at 5:00PM EST. The brief is due on January 26, 2022. The questions presented are: (1) whether the Fourth Amendment prohibits the admission of a defendant's refusal of a blood test in an impaired-driving prosecution; and (2) whether the Fourth Amendment prohibits a mandatory minimum sentence based on a defendant's refusal of a blood test in an impaired-driving prosecution. The amicus brief supports only the evidentiary use argument. In this case, the Supreme Court of Kentucky held that the Commonwealth could not criminally penalize McCarthy for his refusal to submit to a blood test, and that the increased mandatory minimum sentence constituted a criminal penalty. The Kentucky Court also held admitting a defendant's refusal to consent to a search as evidence of guilt violates the Fourth Amendment, relying on its prior decisions in non-DUI cases. The Kentucky Court justified applying that precedent to the DUI context because it concluded that the Fourth Amendment question had not been squarely addressed by the Supreme Court, which had previously focused on the Fifth Amendment implications of admitting refusal evidence. Moreover, the Kentucky Court reasoned the prosecution's argument for its admission was undermined by the analysis presented in Birchfield, which held that a warrantless blood draw incident to arrests for drunk driving are normally unreasonable under the Fourth Amendment. By contrast, almost all states allow the admission of evidence that the driver refused a blood draw. A number of you joined the amicus brief we filed in Mitchell v. Wisconsin, No. 18-6210, a case about the scope of implied consent laws; and like that brief, this one discusses the constitutionality of such laws as well as the critical role refusal evidence plays in criminal prosecutions of impaired drivers. 	The District of Columbia has prepared the attached amicus brief supporting Respondent-Appellant North Carolina Department of Revenue in Quad Graphics, Inc. v. North Carolina Department of Revenue, No. 407-A-21 (N.C.). The question presented is whether the dormant Commerce Clause bars North Carolina from requiring out-of-state retailers to collect sales tax when they deliver goods to in-state consumers.

	Quad Graphics, Inc. ("Quad") is a Wisconsin-based corporation that prints books, magazines, and other items for direct mail to customers nationwide. The North Carolina Department of Revenue issued an assessment to Quad for uncollected sales tax on printed materials that Quad delivered to customers in North Carolina, pursuant to the provision of its tax code that clarifies that sales are "sourced to the location where the purchaser receives the product." N.C.G.S. § 105-164.8(a)(2).

	A North Carolina Business Court judge held that the dormant Commerce Clause prohibited states from imposing sales taxes on out-of-state goods delivered by common carrier into the state. Under Dilworth, the court concluded, a state sales (as opposed to use) tax "survives scrutiny under the Commerce Clause only where the purchase of tangible personal property—i.e., the transfer of ownership from the seller to buyer—takes place in the taxing state." Quad Graphics, Inc. v. N.C. Dep't of Revenue, No. 20 CVS 7449, 2021 WL 2584282, at *11 (N.C. Super. June 23, 2021). North Carolina has appealed this decision to the North Carolina Supreme Court. Notably, many other states have similar destination-based sourcing schemes.

	To: Civil Amicus Contacts
	From: District of Columbia SG Office

	The District of Columbia is preparing an amicus brief supporting respondent-appellant North Carolina in Quad Graphics, Inc. v. North Carolina Department of Revenue, No. 407-A-21, in the North Carolina Supreme Court. The relevant question presented is whether the dormant Commerce Clause bars states from asserting and collecting sales taxes on transactions originating from out-of-state and delivered to in-state consumers. We expect the North Carolina AG to argue that Dilworth formalism—which allows use taxes, but not sales taxes on such transactions—is no longer good law.

	States have a critical interest in protecting their sovereign authority to fairly tax interstate commerce and to preserve the gains they received from the Supreme Court's decision in South Dakota v. Wayfair, 138 S. Ct. 2080 (2018). The District's brief will therefore make two related arguments: First, the brief will argue that reaffirming Dilworth formalism would be inconsistent with the Supreme Court's decision in Wayfair and would reintroduce many of the policy concerns that animated the Court's abrogation of the physical-presence rule. Second, the brief will highlight the particular concerns raised by the lower court's decision in states with destination-based sourcing schemes. The District and at least 39 states have tax-sourcing statutes that identify the location of the "sale" as the place where the goods are delivered. Allowing courts to override such statutes and conclude that there is no transactional nexus absent physical purchase within the taxing state would undermine states' sovereign taxing authority and contradict the fundamental principle that "the modes adopted [by the States] to enforce the taxes levied should be interfered with as little as possible." Dows v. City of Chicago, 78 U.S. 108, 110 (1871).

	As we craft and refine the brief, it would be helpful to know the following by January 7 (if you happen to have responsive information):

	1. Does your state have a destination-based sourcing scheme? If so, a citation to the specific provision of the state tax code would be ideal.
	2. In the wake of Wayfair:
	    1. Is your state assessing and collecting sales taxes on out-of-state companies that deliver goods to in-state consumers?
	    2. Has your state faced Dilworth-based challenges such as the one at issue here?

	Please contact caroline.vanzile@dc.gov and norah.rast@dc.gov with your responses. We will circulate a draft brief on or around January 14, in advance of the January 21 join deadline. Many thanks in advance for your help.

Body	Attached is a new amicus request prepared by West Virginia and Arizona. Deadline is 1/19. The issue that Petitioners ask the Court to hear is whether Maryland's ban on "assault weapons" commonly used by law-abiding citizens violates the Second Amendment. More specifically, the Maryland statute bans any semi-automatic centerfire rifle with a detachable magazine that has at least two of (1) a folding stock, (2) a grenade or flare launcher, or (3) a flash suppressor. The ban also specifically applies to a list of 45 enumerated rifle types. In both the district court and the Fourth Circuit, Petitioners conceded that their Second Amendment claim is foreclosed under the en banc Fourth Circuit's decision in Kolbe v. Hogan, 849 F.3d 114 (4th Cir. 2017) (en banc). That decision erroneously holds that any firearm that is "most useful in military service" falls outside the protections of the Second Amendment. The petition asks the Court to overrule Kolbe and adopt a categorical approach to the Second Amendment. Cooper and Kirk represents the Petitioners and their petition is attached. From: Catlett, Michael <Michael.Catlett@azag.gov> Sent: Friday, January 14, 2022 2:16 PM To: Roysden, Beau <Beau.Roysden@azag.gov>; elacour@ago.state.al.us; krobertson@ago.state.al.us; jessie.alloway@alaska.gov; cori.mills@alaska.gov; vincent.wagner@arkansasag.gov; nicholas.bronni@arkansasag.gov; henry.whitaker@myfloridalegal.com; daniel.bell@myfloridalegal.com; christopher.baum@myfloridalegal.com; rbergethon@law.ga.gov; dwaldbeser@law.ga.gov; apinson@law.ga.gov; tjohnson@law.ga.gov; spetrany@law.ga.gov; brian.kane@ag.idaho.gov; kimi.white@ag.idaho.gov; tom.fisher@atg.in.gov; julia.payne@atg.in.gov; melinda.holmes@atg.in.gov; jeff.chanay@ag.ks.gov; brant.laue@ag.ks.gov; barry.dunn@ky.gov; matt.kuhn@ky.gov; brett.nolan@ky.gov; murrillE@ag.louisiana.gov; scott.stewart@ago.ms.gov; justin.matheny@ago.ms.gov; justin.smith@ago.mo.gov; john.sauer@ago.mo.gov; david.dewhirst@mt.gov; dave.bydalek@nebraska.gov; jim.campbell@nebraska.gov; sean.gill@doj.nh.gov; Sagsveen, Matthew A. <masagsve@nd.gov>; Seibel, Troy T. <tseibel@nd.gov>; 'Higgins, Kevin A (LAW)' <kevin.higgins@alaska.gov>; benjamin.flowers@ohioattorneygeneral.gov; mithun.mansinghani@oag.ok.gov; thomashydrick@scag.gov; esmith@scag.gov; paul.swedlund@state.sd.us; andree.blumstein@ag.tn.gov; jonathan.skrmetti@ag.tn.gov; sarah.campbell@ag.tn.gov; brandon.smith@ag.tn.gov; grant.dorfman@oag.texas.gov; judd.stone@oag.texas.gov; lanora.pettit@oag.texas.gov; benjamin.wilson@oag.texas.gov; melissaholyoak@agutah.gov; 'ryan.schelhaas@wyo.gov' <ryan.schelhaas@wyo.gov> Cc: Roysden, Beau <Beau.Roysden@azag.gov>; lindsay.s.see@wvago.gov; Anklam, Rachel <Rachel.Anklam@azag.gov>; Mancuso, Sarah <Sarah.Mancuso@azag.gov>; Napolitano, Anthony <Anthony.Napolitano@azag.gov>; 'Michael R. Body	Attached is a new amicus request, written by Texas on behalf of Arizona, supporting Arizona's motion to dismiss a case relating to Arizona's voting laws. I would normally support such an amicus request, but I generally do not recommend amicus briefs at this early stage of a case. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know they are safe.  Hello all, I've attached a draft States amicus brief in support of Arizona's motion to dismiss in its most recent voting litigation concerning two laws: (1) requiring missing signatures on mail-in ballots to be provided by election day; and (2) removing voters from the early voting list such that they no longer automatically receive mail-in ballots if they don't vote for two cycles and fail to respond when asked if they wish to remain on the list. Plaintiffs have not brought a section 2 results claim, but only a discriminatory-purpose claim and an undue-burden claim. Our amicus brief focuses on the purpose claim and highlights the need for adequate allegations of invidious purpose, the presumption of legislative good faith, and the discovery burdens that await if the motion to dismiss is denied. We'd like to file this on Friday, so please let me know if you'd like to join by noon (CT) on Friday, January 21. Thank you! Body	Attached is a new amicus request regarding a brief written by Utah – response is due January 26. I don't have a strong opinion, but Parrell might. Here is a description: Utah plans to file the attached amicus in support of appellant in Epic Games v. Apple pending in the Ninth Circuit. The amicus argues that (1) the district court's holding that "contract" under Section 1 of the Sherman Act does not include "unilateral contracts" violates rules of statutory interpretation, is inconsistent with Supreme Court precedent, and makes bad public policy; and (2) the district court erred in failing to balance the overall competitive effects as part of its rule-of-reason analysis. In addition to generally ensuring effective standards for antitrust enforcement, these arguments are directly relevant to the 39-state multistate Google IAP litigation pending in the Northern District of California. From: Dan Schweitzer <dschweitzer@naag.org> Sent: Thursday, January 20, 2022 6:56 AM To: Dan Schweitzer <dschweitzer@naag.org> Cc: Melissa Holyoak <melissaholyoak@agutah.gov> Subject: Amicus Brief in Epic v. Street View Electronic Communications Litigation* (opinion attached). Your AGs previously signed on to the amicus brief that we filed in the Ninth Circuit in August 2020 (also attached). As a reminder, this is a case where the settlement creates a $13 million cash fund, but the entire fund is being sent to class counsel, class representatives, and cy pres recipients. Additionally, the settlement's injunctive relief mirrored relief already obtained by 39 State AGs in 2013. Judge Bade wrote the opinion for the court, affirming the district court's order certifying the class, approving the settlement agreement, and awarding attorneys' fees. But Judge Bade also wrote a separate concurrence expressing general concerns about cy pres awards. The objector has filed a petition for rehearing and rehearing en banc (attached). We intend to file a short amicus brief in support of the petition. Our brief will focus on the importance of this issue, as evidenced by the Supreme Court granting a petition in a similar case a few years ago (in which they ultimately did not reach the merits). We will also include some of the language in our original brief about cy pres in class actions generally. The brief is due January 20th, but because of the quick turnaround, we may not be able to circulate until a day or two before and wanted to give you advance notice of the request to join. If you have any questions in the meantime, please feel free to reach out to me, Keena, or Beau. North Dakota friends,

I just wanted to let you know that we're up to 22 states and there may be a few more sign-ons tomorrow. If North Dakota would like to sign on, we can add you up to 11am ET tomorrow.

Sincerely,
Beau

Friends,

As a follow-up to the email below about the attached amicus brief in Bianchi v. Frosh, the Court on Friday ordered a response to the petition, which gives us some additional time to file the brief. As a result, we are extending the deadline to join until 5:00 p.m. EST on January 24, 2021. Nine states have already joined and we hope the additional time will result in others joining as well.

Best,

Mike

Frosh - 21-902 - Cert Stage Amicus Friends, Attached is a draft of a cert-stage amicus brief from the perspective of states in Bianchi v. Frosh. The brief is a joint effort between West Virginia and Arizona. The issue that Petitioners ask the Court to hear is whether Maryland's ban on "assault weapons" commonly used by law-abiding citizens violates the Second Amendment. More specifically, the Maryland statute bans any semi-automatic centerfire rifle with a detachable magazine that has at least two of (1) a folding stock, (2) a grenade or flare launcher, or (3) a flash suppressor. The ban also specifically applies to a list of 45 enumerated rifle types. In both the district court and the Fourth Circuit, Petitioners conceded that their Second Amendment claim is foreclosed under the en banc Fourth Circuit's decision in Kolbe v. Hogan, 849 F.3d 114 (4th Cir. 2017) (en banc). That decision erroneously holds that any firearm that is "most useful in military service" falls outside the protections of the Second Amendment. The petition asks the Court to overrule Kolbe and adopt a categorical approach to the Second Amendment. Cooper and Kirk represents the Petitioners and their petition is attached. Given our printer deadline, if you could get us sign-ons by 11am ET on Wednesday 1/19, we would appreciate it. Best, Mike Michael S. Body	Wayne and Troy, I just want to make sure you are aware of this request from supplemental briefing from the Court – see below. It is probably unnecessary for the AG to file an amicus brief regarding this matter, but the issues considered by the court could definitely impact the Attorney General's administration of the open meetings law, and every single governing body's relationship with their attorney. State Board of Chiropractic Examiners*, Supreme Court No. 20210273, which was argued on January 6, 2022. Briefs must be no more than 15 pages, are due February 4, 2022, and are limited to the following issues: 1. Is the definition for "attorney consultation" found in N.D.C.C. § 44-04-19.1(5) ambiguous? If so, what is the meaning and scope of "attorney consultation" in this case? 2. What is meant by the phrase "an adverse fiscal effect" in N.D.C.C. § 44-04-19.1(5)? 3. Does the phrase "which, if held in public, would have an adverse fiscal effect on the entity" modify the entire subsection in N.D.C.C. § 44-04-19.1(5)? Please be advised that these issues will be discussed at the February 8, 2022, oral argument in Schmitz v. State Board of Chiropractic Examiners, Supreme Court No. 20210135. Ten additional minutes will be provided to each party. The argument on the supplemental briefs will occur in the first 20 minutes, followed by argument in Supreme Court No. 20210135. Oral argument has been rescheduled to 2:45 on February 8, 2022, to allow for the additional time. Sincerely, /s/ Petra H. Hi all,

Here is a very slightly updated version of the amicus brief supporting the challenges to SEC's/Nasdaq's explicit race- and sex-based quotas, and last call for sign-ons.

Thanks to everyone that has joined so far. We are currently at 8 states: Arizona, Alabama, Alaska, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Montana, and South Carolina.

We can accept sign-ons until tomorrow, Monday, December 27 at 5pm EST. Please also let us know if you have any questions, concerns, or edits.

Sincerely,

Drew

Subject: Re: Amicus Brief Supporting Challenge to NASDAQ Race- and Sex-Based Quotas

Hi all,

Attached is a slightly updated version of the Fifth Circuit amicus brief for the Nasdaq/SEC Quota Rule challenge. So far Alaska, Arkansas, and Montana have joined.

Basically, the brief makes two points that are probably pretty uncontroversial for this group: (1) explicit race- and sex-based quotas are bad and violate the Constitution and (2) SEC cannot use a highly generalized and circumscribed grant of authority to intrude upon an area traditionally regulated by state law and in service of an agenda of restructuring society in the agency's own social-justice-minded image (while violating the Constitution in the process).

We will be able to accept sign-ons until December 27 at 5pm Eastern. Please let us know if you have any questions or would like to discuss any of this.

Sincerely,
Drew

Subject: Re: Amicus Brief Supporting Challenge to NASDAQ Race- and Sex-Based Quotas

Hi all,

Attached is our draft amicus brief in support of the challenges to the SEC/Nasdaq Quota Rule. Please let us know any questions or suggestions that you have. Given the outrageousness of SEC's adoption of explicit race- and sex-based quotas for Nasdaq-listed companies, we are hopeful that we can have a broad coalition here.

For greater detail on the challenged rule, we are attaching the opening brief of one of the challengers as well.

We will be able to accept sign-ons until December 27 at 5pm Eastern.

The amicus brief would support challenges to SEC approval of a NASDAQ proposed "diversity" requirement. That requirement (discussed in greater detail below) adopts one of the crudest and most odious tool available to the government: race- and sex-based quotas. All companies that fail to satisfy those quotas would be compelled to make statements explaining (i.e., apologizing for) their failure to do so. Challenges to SEC's approval have been consolidated in the Fifth Circuit. One opening brief challenging the rule has already been filed (attached). Another will be filed on December 20, so our amicus brief will be due December 27. Because of the holiday season, we wanted to give everyone a heads up that this brief will be coming. We will be able to accept sign-ons until December 27 at 2pm Eastern. Please feel free to reach out to us with any questions or suggestions. Sincerely, Drew Nasdaq Quota Requirement Overview: On December 1, 2020, the Nasdaq proposed to adopt a series of rules related to corporate board "diversity." After taking comments, Nasdaq submitted an amended proposal to the SEC in February which had three main components, which apply to every Nasdaq-listed firm (minus some exceptions for small and foreign firms): (1) to have, or explain why it does not have, at least one director who "self-identifies her gender as a woman;" (2) to have, or explain why it does not have, at least one director who self-identifies as "Black or African American, Hispanic or Latinx, Asian, Native American or Alaska Native, Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander, or Two or More Races or Ethnicities" or as "LGBTQ+," which is defined as "lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender or as a member of the queer community;" and (3) to provide statistical information on directors' sex, race, and sexual orientation status. See Securities and Exchange Commission, Order Approving Proposed Rule Changes, as Modified by Amendments No. 1, 86 Fed. Reg. 44,424 (Aug. 6, 2021). https://www.federalregister.gov/documents/2021/08/12/2021-17179/self-regulatory-organizations-the-nasdaq-stock-market-llc-order-approving-proposed-rule-changes-as. On August 6, 2021, the Securities and Exchange Commission—on a 3-2 party-line vote—approved Nasdaq's proposal without modification, finalizing these requirements as Nasdaq rules. In response to objections that this proposal violated the Constitution, the SEC adopted Nasdaq's argument that the rule was not subject to the Constitution because Nasdaq was not a state actor. https://www.federalregister.gov/d/2021-17179/p-301. On August 10, 2021, the Alliance for Fair Board Recruitment (AFBR) filed a Petition for Review of the SEC's action in the Fifth Circuit. Additional petitioner National Center for Public Policy Research (NCPPR) filed in the Third Circuit, and was transferred to the Fifth Circuit on October 28, 2021.

Subject: Re: Amicus Brief Supporting Challenge to NASDAQ Race- and Sex-Based Quotas

Hi all,

Here is a very slightly updated version of the amicus brief supporting the challenges to SEC's/Nasdaq's explicit race- and sex-based quotas, and last call for sign-ons.

Thanks to everyone that has joined so far. We are currently at 8 states: Arizona, Alabama, Alaska, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Montana, and South Carolina.

We can accept sign-ons until tomorrow, Monday, December 27 at 5pm EST. Please also let us know if you have any questions, concerns, or edits.

Sincerely,

Drew

Subject: Re: Amicus Brief Supporting Challenge to NASDAQ Race- and Sex-Based Quotas

Hi all,

Attached is a slightly updated version of the Fifth Circuit amicus brief for the Nasdaq/SEC Quota Rule challenge. So far Alaska, Arkansas, and Montana have joined.

Basically, the brief makes two points that are probably pretty uncontroversial for this group: (1) explicit race- and sex-based quotas are bad and violate the Constitution and (2) SEC cannot use a highly generalized and circumscribed grant of authority to intrude upon an area traditionally regulated by state law and in service of an agenda of restructuring society in the agency's own social-justice-minded image (while violating the Constitution in the process).

We will be able to accept sign-ons until December 27 at 5pm Eastern. Please let us know if you have any questions or would like to discuss any of this.

Sincerely,
Drew

Subject: Re: Amicus Brief Supporting Challenge to NASDAQ Race- and Sex-Based Quotas

Hi all,

Attached is our draft amicus brief in support of the challenges to the SEC/Nasdaq Quota Rule. Please let us know any questions or suggestions that you have. Given the outrageousness of SEC's adoption of explicit race- and sex-based quotas for Nasdaq-listed companies, we are hopeful that we can have a broad coalition here.

For greater detail on the challenged rule, we are attaching the opening brief of one of the challengers as well.

We will be able to accept sign-ons until December 27 at 5pm Eastern.

The amicus brief would support challenges to SEC approval of a NASDAQ proposed "diversity" requirement. That requirement (discussed in greater detail below) adopts one of the crudest and most odious tool available to the government: race- and sex-based quotas. All companies that fail to satisfy those quotas would be compelled to make statements explaining (i.e., apologizing for) their failure to do so. Challenges to SEC's approval have been consolidated in the Fifth Circuit. One opening brief challenging the rule has already been filed (attached). Another will be filed on December 20, so our amicus brief will be due December 27. Because of the holiday season, we wanted to give everyone a heads up that this brief will be coming. We will be able to accept sign-ons until December 27 at 2pm Eastern. Please feel free to reach out to us with any questions or suggestions. Sincerely, Drew Nasdaq Quota Requirement Overview: On December 1, 2020, the Nasdaq proposed to adopt a series of rules related to corporate board "diversity." After taking comments, Nasdaq submitted an amended proposal to the SEC in February which had three main components, which apply to every Nasdaq-listed firm (minus some exceptions for small and foreign firms): (1) to have, or explain why it does not have, at least one director who "self-identifies her gender as a woman;" (2) to have, or explain why it does not have, at least one director who self-identifies as "Black or African American, Hispanic or Latinx, Asian, Native American or Alaska Native, Native Hawaiian or Pacific Islander, or Two or More Races or Ethnicities" or as "LGBTQ+," which is defined as "lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender or as a member of the queer community;" and (3) to provide statistical information on directors' sex, race, and sexual orientation status. See Securities and Exchange Commission, Order Approving Proposed Rule Changes, as Modified by Amendments No. 1, 86 Fed. Reg. 44,424 (Aug. 6, 2021). https://www.federalregister.gov/documents/2021/08/12/2021-17179/self-regulatory-organizations-the-nasdaq-stock-market-llc-order-approving-proposed-rule-changes-as. On August 6, 2021, the Securities and Exchange Commission—on a 3-2 party-line vote—approved Nasdaq's proposal without modification, finalizing these requirements as Nasdaq rules. In response to objections that this proposal violated the Constitution, the SEC adopted Nasdaq's argument that the rule was not subject to the Constitution because Nasdaq was not a state actor. https://www.federalregister.gov/d/2021-17179/p-301. On August 10, 2021, the Alliance for Fair Board Recruitment (AFBR) filed a Petition for Review of the SEC's action in the Fifth Circuit. Additional petitioner National Center for Public Policy Research (NCPPR) filed in the Third Circuit, and was transferred to the Fifth Circuit on October 28, 2021.

Hobbs Hello all, I've attached a draft States amicus brief in support of Arizona's motion to dismiss in its most recent voting litigation concerning two laws: (1) requiring missing signatures on mail-in ballots to be provided by election day; and (2) removing voters from the early voting list such that they no longer automatically receive mail-in ballots if they don't vote for two cycles and fail to respond when asked if they wish to remain on the list. Plaintiffs have not brought a section 2 results claim, but only a discriminatory-purpose claim and an undue-burden claim. Our amicus brief focuses on the purpose claim and highlights the need for adequate allegations of invidious purpose, the presumption of legislative good faith, and the discovery burdens that await if the motion to dismiss is denied. We'd like to file this on Friday, so please let me know if you'd like to join by noon (CT) on Friday, January 21. Thank you! NEWS: FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Five years after taking office, Burgum, Sanford reflect on stateâ€™s historic progress and challenges during 2021

Governor to deliver 2022 State of the State Address on Jan. 19 at NDSU

VIEW THIS RELEASE ONLINE: governor.ND.gov

BISMARCK, N.D. (DEC. 15, 2021) â€“ Gov. Doug Burgum and Lt. Gov. Brent Sanford today marked the fifth anniversary of being sworn into office, reflecting on a year filled with historic progress on infrastructure, workforce, economic development and other priorities, as well as major challenges including extreme drought conditions and the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic.

â€œAs always, North Dakotans have responded to this yearâ€™s unprecedented challenges with incredible strength and resiliency,â€ Burgum said. â€œOur administration continues to draw inspiration from the hardworking citizens of our great state as we strive to empower people, improve lives and inspire success.â€

In his January 2021 State of the State Address, Burgum called for bold action to move the state forward. He worked with the state Legislature to deliver a landmark $680 million bonding package to support infrastructure improvements across the state. The package includes flood control, roads, bridges, water projects and an agricultural products development center â€“ all with using Legacy Fund earnings and without raising taxes. The water project funding includes $435.5 million for the Fargo-Moorhead-West Fargo area flood diversion, $74.5 million for Mouse River Flood Control at Minot and a $50 million revolving loan fund for water projects.

As recommended in Burgumâ€™s Accelerate ND proposal, a special session of the Legislature in November also invested hundreds of millions of dollars of federal funding into infrastructure, including a proposed west-to-east natural gas pipeline to support communities and economic growth; workforce development including career centers where high school students can pursue high-demand careers; economic development programs and energy projects; and health care and behavioral health enhancements.

Burgum proposed and signed into law an income tax relief package that will provide an estimated $211 million in relief to approximately half a million North Dakotans in tax years 2021 and 2022. The governor also signed legislation eliminating the state income tax on Social Security income, making North Dakota the 38th state to eliminate the tax. As a result, approximately 20,000 North Dakotans will save an estimated $14.6 million per biennium.

The administration worked closely with stakeholders to usher in several of the largest economic development project announcements in state history, with a focus on diversifying the economy and adding value to the stateâ€™s raw commodities. The projects include ADMâ€™s plans to build a $350 million soybean crush and refinery in Spiritwood, N.D.; plans by Bakken Energy LLC and Mitsubishi Power Americas Inc. to establish a world-class clean hydrogen hub; and Cerilon Inc.â€™s plans to build a $2.8 billion gas-to-liquids complex in Williams County.

Sanford also spearheaded the administrationâ€™s efforts on the sale of Coal Creek Station, the stateâ€™s largest coal-fired power plant, to Rainbow Energy â€“ avoiding a shutdown of the plant, saving jobs and preserving baseload power generation.

Together, these projects will play a major role in North Dakotaâ€™s agriculture, energy and overall economic growth, along with efforts toward the governorâ€™s goal, announced in May, of making North Dakota the first carbon-neutral state by 2030.

Burgum also appointed several members to the governorâ€™s cabinet: Indian Affairs Commission Executive Director Nathan Davis, Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation Director Dave Krabbenhoft, Commerce Commissioner James Leiman, Parks and Recreation Director Cody Schulz, Department of Water Resources Director Andrea Travnicek, State Health Officer Dr. Nizar Wehbi, and Game and Fish Department Director Jeb Williams. Stacey Breuer also joined the cabinet as chief people officer.

Historic drought

- The governor declared a statewide drought disaster in early April, marking the second time in five years that North Dakota farmers and ranchers faced widespread extreme drought conditions that threatened crops, livestock herds and livelihoods.
- At the same time, Burgum, who chairs the State Water Commission, and Agriculture Commissioner Doug Goehring, also a member, announced the reactivation of the Drought Disaster Livestock Water Supply Project Assistance Program through the newly formed Department of Water Resources. So far, over $5.6 million in cost-share assistance has been approved for over 1,400 projects submitted by more than 1,000 unique applicants, with an average approval time of less than three days from application.
- Burgum also signed an executive order waiving hours of service for haulers of livestock, hay and water to help livestock producers battling extreme drought conditions across the state.
- With its partners at the North Dakota Forest Service and North Dakota National Guard, the Department of Emergency Services (DES) coordinated the response to significant wildland fire events, including an April 1 fire that encroached on Medora and prompted evacuations. Army National Guard Black Hawk helicopters supported local and regional firefighting efforts to save Medora by distributing water via 600-gallon water buckets.
- Local, tribal, state and federal agencies responded to two large wildfires from April 30 to May 2. The Roosevelt Creek Fire in the Little Missouri National Grassland, north of Medora, burned more than 4,600 acres, while another fire on the Fort Berthold Reservation, about six miles south of Mandaree, burned an estimated 9,800 acres.
- Total Army National Guard support, including to Mandaree, involved distributing over 108,000 gallons of water and eight Guard members working with the North Dakota Forest Service on the ground.

- As of Dec. 2, North Dakota had experienced more than 2,400 fires burning over 125,600 acres in 2021.
- As proposed in Accelerate ND, Burgum signed legislation providing funding to convert abandoned oil wells to permanent freshwater supply wells to enhance resiliency against drought conditions in western North Dakota. Itâ€™s estimated the $3.2 million appropriation will support the conversion of up to 16 wells.
- While serving and protecting citizens at home, DES also coordinated and resourced firefighting teams to provide aid to another state. A group of 15 firefighters from the Williston, Williston Rural, Bismarck Rural and Dickinson fire departments spent two weeks supporting Hurricane Ida recovery efforts in September along the Gulf Coast. This was after Burgum approved an Emergency Management Assistance Compact (EMAC) request from the state of Louisiana, allowing North Dakotaâ€™s firefighters to assist with fire suppression missions there.

COVID-19 pandemic response

- Since January 2021, more than 900,000 doses of the COVID-19 vaccine have been administered in North Dakota. The percentage of adults in the state with at least one dose is 60.7%, and more than 83% of those over age 65 have started their vaccine series.
- The North Dakota Department of Health (NDDoH) State Laboratory processed more than 692,497 tests, and its hotline responded to more than 93,000 citizen calls and 4,100 emails. The NDDoH developed the North Dakota COVID-19 Impact Wall to connect North Dakotans impacted by the disease.
- The NDDoH developed and updated communication channels for citizens, including website dashboards for COVID-19 cases and vaccine distribution, so citizens could quickly access data to make informed decisions about their health. The COVID-19 cases dashboard had more than 2 million page views this year, and the COVID-19 vaccine dashboard had more than 400,000 page views in this time frame.
- The pandemic has the North Dakota National Guard serving its longest domestic response in history â€“ 638 days and nearly 128,000 personnel days as of Monday. Guard members have administered testing, facilitated over 103,000 doses of vaccine, conducted traffic control, partnered with local and tribal health organizations, and transported test samples to the state lab, among other duties.
- The DES has coordinated the obligation of more than $126 million through the Federal Emergency Management Agencyâ€™s Public Assistance Program. The agency assisted eligible local, state, tribal and nonprofit organizations in submitting applications to reimburse costs for medical care, testing and vaccinations, as well as costs required to perform safe opening and operations.
- Job Service North Dakota provided vital economic support to the unemployed by injecting over $1.2 billion into the economy since the start of the pandemic. In a typical year, Job Service will pay between $80 million to $90 million to recipients during times of economic downturns, but payments to unemployed recipients in 2021 alone had already reached $362 million by early December.
- Security and medical team members from the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (DOCR) have cared for more than 950 residents diagnosed with COVID-19 at facilities across the state. Partnering with the NDDoH, DOCR team members offered extensive testing and monoclonal antibody treatments to provide excellent care on-site to prevent serious illness. Very few COVID-positive residents required hospitalization, minimizing the impact on already strained community medical resources.
- The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) helped develop the executive proposal for over $1 billion in federal American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) investments; managed the distribution of over $25 million in ARPA funding to North Dakota cities; and managed the stateâ€™s reporting requirements for $1.25 billion in federal Coronavirus Relief Funds.
- Recognizing how employers play an essential role in healthy, vibrant communities, Job Service worked with policymakers to ensure that the Unemployment Insurance (UI) Trust Fund remained healthy and that employers were held harmless for UI benefit charges to their employees during 2020. As importantly, the steps taken ensured there were no unemployment tax rate increases for employers in 2021. By utilizing federal Cares Act dollars to strengthen the UI Trust Fund, it positioned the UI program to again hold rates flat in the upcoming 2022 calendar year.

In addition to addressing drought and COVID challenges, the administration continued to make progress on the governorâ€™s five strategic initiatives: Main Street Initiative, Behavioral Health and Addiction, Tribal Engagement, Transforming Education and Reinventing Government.

Main Street Initiative

- The Department of Commerce worked to increase infill and reduce property taxes by updating Renaissance Zones and working across state agencies to successfully stack and align state programs for mixed use and infill.
- North Dakota was one of only six states selected for the second phase of the National Governors Associationâ€™s Workforce Innovation Network, in which states will deploy cross-agency teams to identify and implement strategies that advance digital skill development and more equitable economic participation.
- Commerceâ€™s Workforce Division is implementing systematic changes with $20 million allocated to improve talent attraction efforts. One strategy launched in 2021 involves a national project with RoleCall to address workforce needs by helping to make North Dakota a national leader in talent attraction innovation and action.
- The Main Street ND Summit, held in West Fargo this year, featured a lineup of renowned speakers and community innovators on the topic of smart, efficient infrastructure. Videos of the keynotes, breakout sessions and Main Street Awards can be viewed here.

Body	• Due to the many workforce challenges facing North Dakota, Job Service took a strategic, targeted approach to a statewide campaign called #JOBUPND. The campaign utilized several online ad platforms generating over 3 million impressions with a 75% view rate. • Smart, efficient infrastructure is a pillar of the Main Street Initiative, and infrastructure is vital to North Dakotaâ€™s economy, commerce, agriculture, tourism and families. In 2021, the state of North Dakota made an unprecedented $2.3 billion dollar investment in infrastructure. • Recognizing the key role that parks play in creating healthy, vibrant communities, lawmakers approved and Burgum signed legislation during the special session investing $17.9 million in deferred maintenance and capital improvements at state parks, plus $5 million in matching funds to renovate and upgrade existing facilities in local park districts. The Legislature last spring also created a Challenge Grant for the Parks and Recreation Department to drive investment from the private and public sectors for parks. • Commerce, Job Service and the DOCR worked together on The Last Mile, a collaborative effort to provide instruction on front- and back-end website design to enable DOCR residents to be workforce ready in a highly technical field of coding and website design. • The Department of Water Resourcesâ€™ Cost-Share Program continued to advance critical water supply infrastructure in all areas of the state. For municipal water supply projects, $19.7 million was approved to benefit over 15,000 water users in communities of all sizes. Rural water systems received over $8 million for system expansions and improvements that will benefit over 20,000 water users. • The larger regional water supply systems, including the Western Area Water Supply, Red River Valley Water Supply, Southwest Pipeline Project, and Northwest Area Water Supply were approved for $93.6 million in state funding, and $20.4 million in federal Municipal, Rural and Industrial Water Supply Program funding. Combined, these four regional water supply systems will one day provide water service to 75% of North Dakotaâ€™s population. Behavioral Health and Addiction • More than 650 in-person attendees and over 3,000 online viewers participated in the fifth Recovery Reinvented, a daylong event in Bismarck focused on reinventing recovery through eliminating the stigma of addiction. The governor and First Lady Kathryn Burgum shared the results of the statewide North Dakota Addressing Addiction survey, which found stigma has been reduced over the last three years. • The Department of Human Services completed statewide implementation of a behavioral health crisis services response system that includes crisis line, mobile response and walk-in services at its eight human service centers. At the Life Skills and Transition Center in Grafton, the system was expanded with a specialized team who respond to people with developmental and intellectual disabilities in crisis so they can continue to live successfully in their communities. Crisis response services de-escalate situations and prevent law enforcement involvement and unnecessary emergency room visits. • Building on the success of the Free Through Recovery program, Human Services launched the Community Connect program, which provides community-based behavioral health services designed to assist individuals with care coordination, peer support and recovery services. • Human Services also implemented a Medicaid 1915(i) state plan amendment, which allows North Dakota Medicaid to pay for additional in-home and community-based services to support individuals with behavioral health conditions. Services include care coordination, benefits planning, nonmedical transportation, respite, supported education, supported employment, housing and peer support. • The DOCR partnered with Restoring Promise, an initiative of the Vera Institute of Justice, and MILPA, to create a housing unit at the State Penitentiary grounded in dignity for young adults in prison. Restoring Promise helps transform correctional culture through training, presentations, workshops and healing circles â€“ setting a new tone for the entire system. Young adults participate in meaningful daily activities, experience healing, cultivate an ideology of self-determination and restore relationships with family and community. Mentors over the age of 25 support them in their personal growth, and staff undergo intensive training to become agents of change within the system. • The Highway Patrol created a two-member crash assistance program that will provide enhanced services to victims of crashes, including providing information about understanding grief; reducing stress reactions after trauma; tools to process reactions to crisis and trauma; and information to support children as they process grief and trauma. Tribal Engagement • The North Dakota National Guard finished signing memorandums of agreement with all five tribal colleges in North Dakota to make the State Tuition Assistance program available to qualified student service members attending college. • Burgum signed legislation providing a framework for the state and the Mandan, Hidatsa and Arikara (MHA) Nation to share tax revenue from oil wells that straddle the boundary of the Fort Berthold Reservation, settling an unresolved issue from the stateâ€™s historic 2019 tax agreement with the MHA Nation. • The North Dakota Highway Patrol entered an agreement with the MHA Nation to enhance emergency response on the Fort Berthold Reservation. The agreement, signed by Burgum and MHA Chairman Mark Fox, allows the closest available peace officer to respond to an emergency call for service until the agency with primary jurisdiction arrives and assumes the lead. The agreement to allow mutual aid across reservation boundaries was made possible by legislation signed in 2019 and 2021. • Burgum also signed legislation to allow NDIT to enter into agreements with tribes and other government entities to assist with cybersecurity incident response, and to allow NDDOT to enter into agreements with tribal governments to assist with federally funded safety improvement projects on tribal-owned highways, streets, roads and bridges. • The Highway Patrol created and implemented a five-member criminal interdiction team that

Body	focuses on drug and human trafficking and other criminal activity occurring on roadways in the state. The team is tasked with working closely with tribal law enforcement to intercept illegal substances destined for North Dakota reservations. • A pilot program that aims to ensure all justice-involved, at-risk tribal and non-tribal youth have access to similar services was extended for two years. Transforming Education • Burgum signed â€œpathways to graduationâ€ legislation that capped a four-year collaborative effort to pave the way for authentic learning and flexibility in pathways for North Dakota students to achieve graduation. Creating personalized graduation pathways to complement the traditional credit-hour K-12 education system was the No. 1 recommendation from the Governorâ€™s Innovative Education Task Force created through executive order in 2017. • Burgum proposed and ultimately signed legislation providing $38 million to Bismarck State College to create the stateâ€™s first polytechnic institution. This new approach to higher education will equip students with the skills needed to fill in-demand careers throughout the state. • The North Dakota Information Technology (NDIT) Cybersecurity Team enhanced IT security services for the K-12 education community as part of the IT Shared Services/Unification initiative. This increased cybersecurity posture for the K-12 community sets the stage for better response planning and defense, and better security around school and student data. NDIT also expanded Extended Detection Response in schools, added protection to 10,000 Chromebooks, and provided Security User Awareness training to over 2,500 users. • NDIT also enabled a 24-hour service desk supported by live agents for all state agencies and school districts. In the past year, NDIT has processed an average of 12,000 incidents per month. By offering around-the-clock support, NDIT is better equipped to handle support queries more quickly while improving customer service and creating long-lasting relationships. Reinventing Government • The North Dakota Department of Transportation (NDDOT) increased driverâ€™s license and motor vehicle kiosks to 52 locations across North Dakota. Citizens are now able to print their motor vehicle tabs, renew or request a replacement license or ID card, schedule a road test, pay a reinstatement fee, change their address and edit donor registry information without visiting an office. The department also increased online appointments and reduced customer wait times for driverâ€™s license and motor vehicle services from nearly 30 minutes to less than 10 minutes. • The NDDOT also launched driverâ€™s license online knowledge tests, allowing North Dakotans an easy and convenient way to get their learnerâ€™s permit 24/7 from anywhere with internet access. • The Highway Patrolâ€™s unmanned aircraft systems (UAS) program became fully active in 2021 following several months of planning and officer training. The UAS program will provide enhanced crash reconstruction services and allow officers to assess dangerous incidents from a safe distance, such as fire hot spots, unknown package identification or quickly locating missing or dangerous individuals in rough terrain. • The DES completed a new streamlined system to provide a one-stop shop for energy industry producers, transporters and developers, as well as the public, to report hazardous material spills and releases instead of reporting spills to multiple state agencies. The reporting system, available at www.spill.nd.gov or by calling 1-833-99SPILL (1-833-997-7455), was supported by the Department of Environmental Quality, Department of Agriculture and the Industrial Commissionâ€™s Oil and Gas Division. • Wildfire response by the DES led to some dramatic improvements leveraging technology. One of those innovations was a GPS-configured wildland fire dashboard that provided leaders, planners and firefighters with better situational awareness. It was the first time data could be compiled through reports from local emergency managers and 9-1-1 calls, as well as historical data from the Integrated Reporting of Wildland-Fire Information (IRWIN) system used by fire departments. • The DES also initiated a program to augment the stateâ€™s firefighting capabilities and resources by creating a wildland task force for the state. The task force concept was adopted to allow local fire departments the ability to respond outside their jurisdictions, if needed. Departments that volunteer will coordinate directly with the Forest Service to preposition personnel and equipment for potential state wildfire suppression missions. • The North Dakota Game and Fish Department became the first state in the nation to allow electronic posting of private land with the passage of Senate Bill 2144. The bill gives landowners and hunters alike a convenient option for posting private land and checking its status for hunting, while also leaving the traditional physical posting process in place for those who wish to continue using it. • The Department of Human Services implemented the Safety Framework Practice model, which redesigned in-home child and family support services and foster care services to increase the number of children remaining safely in their homes. • Human Services also launched statewide centralized intake for child abuse and neglect reporting in January 2021. Overall, the number of children living in foster care has decreased in 2021. Efforts are underway to continue shifting resources to in-home services to support children and their families together. • The pandemicâ€™s challenges provided an opportunity for Job Service to reinvent how it ensures benefits are getting to those who need it and not to identity thieves and criminal enterprises. By implementing an industry-leading ID proofing/verification service and by expanding utilization of fraud detection data analytics, Job Service prevented over 8,000 fraudulent claims, which could have resulted in over $150 million in fraudulent payments. • The North Dakota Healthcare Directive Registry development by NDIT was completed and is available at https://apps.nd.gov/itd/nin/hdir/login. This system allows citizens to store, maintain and retrieve important health care documents, such as advance directive documents that are key when determining proper patient care. Users can share documents with providers and family as

- Workforce Safety & Insurance (WSI) successfully deployed upgrades to its myWSI and CAPS systems, providing better customer experience for internal and external customers through automation of manual tasks and online accessibility.

- The Department of Water Resources expanded the utility and functionality of PRESENS (Pushing REmote SENSors), a real-time water level monitoring program. The program now has a much broader range of data collection opportunities to include soil moisture, soil temperature and precipitation measurements. This real-time data will assist with water management into the future and will be used for modeling efforts and analysis. The department deployed more than 220 PRESENS units at peak operation, and aims to grow that number to around 1,000 units in the coming years.

- The Securities Department completed two significant technology projects designed to improve efficiency and the service experience for constituents. A new case management system facilitates the timely, effective and impactful execution of examinations and investigations to support the departmentâ€™s mission of protecting investors. And the new ND Securities Filing Portal delivers a fully electronic filing experience for issuers of securities and other filers, while completing the departmentâ€™s conversion to electronic systems for all securities and investment industry filings, which totaled approximately 148,000 in the last fiscal year.

- Five state agencies â€" the NDDOT, Department of Water Resources, Department of Environmental Quality, Public Finance Authority and Bank of North Dakota â€" collaborated to create Funding for Infrastructure in North Dakota (FIND), a central hub for local governments to apply for infrastructure funding. With five different infrastructure funding programs in the state, knowing which fund to apply for and completing multiple applications was a strain for city and county staff, but FIND provides a one-stop shop for applications. The site was gradually rolled out starting in June and has already received 13 applications.

Citizen-focused agencies make progress

In addition, state agencies worked hard to deliver core services and improve outcomes in many areas:

- Human Services launched a new early childhood division to focus resources on school readiness; strong, stable families; and quality early childhood experiences. To date, the division has awarded federal grant dollars to 713 North Dakota child care programs for financial stabilization.

- Human Services worked with housing partners to implement the new, more comprehensive ND Rent Help program to support housing stability and financial stability and promote strong, stable families. In 2021, 3,295 renter households received emergency rent or utility assistance from ND Rent Help, and 1,095 unique housing providers and utility providers received direct payments from the program. Total assistance disbursed through Nov. 30, 2021, was $13,428,408.

- Human Services improved access to in-home and community-based long-term support services so that older adults and adults with physical disabilities who qualify for skilled nursing care can live at home if they choose. North Dakotans can easily apply online or by phone through the Aging and Disability Resource LINK (ADRL) to get connected to in-home services.

- Human Service provided all Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) households with the maximum benefit amount for households their size. During 2021, approximately 17,800 North Dakota households benefited each month during the COVID-19 public health emergency.

- During the 67th Legislative Assembly, Burgum signed a bill to redesign the way nursing homes are paid by North Dakota Medicaid. Under this new payment system, nursing homes will be incentivized to provide cost-effective care and to renovate rather than build facilities. The new payment system will reduce overall expenses in the future, making it advantageous to taxpayers as well.

- In January 2021, Human Services assumed administration and operation of resettlement support services from contracted vendor Lutheran Social Services of North Dakota. Services help individuals adjust to life in North Dakota and become self-sufficient. The goal is to see New Americans accepted, integrated and supported as they add value to North Dakota and enrich the culture of their new communities. In 2021, 35 refugees resettled in North Dakota.

- The statewide cancer registry maintained by the NDDoH was recognized by the CDC as a â€œRegistry of Excellence.â€ For the period December 2020 through November 2021, Womenâ€™s Way screened 284 people for breast and/or cervical cancer. The program provides these important services to more than 70 women per month.

- The Women, Infants & Children (WIC) Program provided healthy food and support to more than 15,000 North Dakotans. The oral health program distributed 47,000 toothbrushes to 188 schools; 14 workplaces were designated as infant friendly, benefiting 3,821 employees; and the child passenger safety program launched new interactive maps and certified 67 technicians.

- The NDDoH distributed 1,560 state-of-the-art automated external defibrillators (AEDs) to law enforcement via a partnership with the Helmsley Charitable Trust. One of these AEDs was successfully deployed in August 2021 in Grand Forks and helped save a life.

- OMB launched Team ND Connect, a statewide intranet available to all state team members, and delivered Leadership Everywhere training to over 1,500 Team ND members. The agency also led a statewide change management initiative, launched a new website on the statewide platform and centralized certain printing and procurement services.

- Parks and Recreation began offering a new option for North Dakota State park annual permit holders. The family permit, authorized by the 67th Legislative Assembly, allows members of the same household to buy two annual permits at a discounted price of $55.

- The NDDOT finalized the long-range transportation plan, â€œTransportation Connection.â€ The 25-year plan helps identify future transportation needs in the state.

- The NDDOT and Parks and Recreation partnered to replace and install various signs to promote recreational opportunities across the state. The project is designed to increase visibility of state parks and help guide visitors to parks and recreational areas.

- Parks and Recreation also partnered with the State Historical Society to offer the North Dakota

Body	Passport. The goal is to help residents and out-of-state travelers make the most of their visits to recreational and historical sites throughout the state. The passport is an all-in-one guide to adventure as users collect stamps at 37 featured destinations, varying from state parks and recreation areas to state historic sites and museums. • North Dakotaâ€™s regulatory framework for geologic sequestration of carbon dioxide led the nation as the state Industrial Commission in October approved the first Class VI carbon capture and storage project under state primacy in North Dakota and in the United States. North Dakota was the first state to receive primacy of Class VI wells from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency in 2018, followed only by Wyoming in 2020. • An exhibit featuring Dakota, a mummified hadrosaur, opened at the North Dakota Heritage Center with over 600 families and friends of paleontology at the grand opening in October. The new interactive exhibit includes a 3D print of Dakotaâ€™s mummified dinosaur skin and a large mural depicting what Dakota looked like when she roamed North Dakota. • Bank of North Dakota transferred the servicing of most of its residential loan portfolio to the North Dakota Housing Finance Agency, taking advantage of an opportunity to consolidate residential lending, streamline service to consumers and increase efficiency in state government. On April 1, BND discontinued its residential lending program by the end of the year. BNDâ€™s residential portfolio was just over $535 million on Dec. 31, 2020, compared to NDHFAâ€™s portfolio of $1.4 billion. • Game and Fish unveiled the Meadowlark Initiative, a statewide strategy that teams landowners, conservation groups, biologists and others to enhance, restore and sustain native grasslands in North Dakota. • The Heart River Correctional Center (HRCC) opened its doors to minimum custody women on June 15 in Mandan, the result of a team approach to ensure the facility was prepared for adult women. HRCC focuses on providing person-centered rehabilitative and recovery services in a safe, consistent and structured environment of support where women can develop lifelong skills and experience long-term success. • Burgum signed bipartisan legislation aimed at increasing access to services and improving outcomes for youth involved in the juvenile justice system. It was the first major overhaul of state law covering juvenile justice issues since 1969. • The North Dakota Department of Labor and Human Rights entered a space-sharing agreement with the Gaming Division of the Attorney Generalâ€™s Office to utilize office space and tax dollars effectively while continuing to work on a rotating remote basis and in a completely paperless system. • In just the past six months, the NDIT Cybersecurity Team has defended against 187 million threats that were prevented or detected; over 72 million vulnerability attacks that were blocked; and more than 7 million spam and phishing messages. • The Department of Financial Institutions (DFI) spent considerable efforts modernizing outdated laws affecting banks and credit unions and oversaw a 17% increase in financial service providers doing business in North Dakota, now licensing 8,300 entities. Banks and credit unions under DFIâ€™s supervision grew their assets by 18% to a total of $43 billion. • WSI reported that workplace injury rates have been reduced by 30% over the last decade, with a rate of 4.6 claims filed per 100 covered workers in 2021. The agency issued nearly $26 million in safety premium discounts to employers for successful participation in safety programs in fiscal year 2021. • North Dakota maintains one of the nation's highest drinking water compliance rates, with 99% of public water systems meeting all health-based standards overseen by the Department of Environmental Quality. The state also ranked No. 3 in cleanest air and water in US News and World Reportâ€™s Best States for Air and Water Quality. • The Happy Hooligans of the North Dakota Air National Guardâ€™s 119th Wing accepted the Air Force Outstanding Unit Award (AFOUA) for the 22nd time on March 6 and is among the most decorated Air National Guard wings in the nation. Burgum will deliver his 2022 State of the State Address at 10 a.m. Jan. 19 in Festival Concert Hall at the Reineke Fine Arts Center at North Dakota State University in Fargo. The address will be livestreamed from the Governorâ€™s Office website at www.governor.nd.gov. Census 2020 results released in April showed North Dakotaâ€™s population at a record high of 779,094, with a 15.8% growth rate that was the fourth-highest among states from 2010 to 2020. â€œWorking together, we are overcoming the challenges facing our state and emerging stronger than ever before,â€ Burgum said. â€“ # # # â€“ CONTACT: Mike Nowatzki mnowatzki@nd.gov 701.328.2424 Mike Kennedy mikekennedy@nd.gov 701.328.2937 600 E Boulevard Ave. Bismarck ND 58505-0001 PHONE 701.328.2200

NEWS: FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Five years after taking office, Burgum, Sanford reflect on stateâ€™s historic progress and challenges during 2021

Governor to deliver 2022 State of the State Address on Jan. 19 at NDSU

VIEW THIS RELEASE ONLINE: governor.ND.gov

BISMARCK, N.D. (DEC. 15, 2021) â€“ Gov. Doug Burgum and Lt. Gov. Brent Sanford today marked the fifth anniversary of being sworn into office, reflecting on a year filled with historic progress on infrastructure, workforce, economic development and other priorities, as well as major challenges including extreme drought conditions and the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic.

â€œAs always, North Dakotans have responded to this yearâ€™s unprecedented challenges with incredible strength and resiliency,â€ Burgum said. â€œOur administration continues to draw inspiration from the hardworking citizens of our great state as we strive to empower people, improve lives and inspire success.â€

In his January 2021 State of the State Address, Burgum called for bold action to move the state forward. He worked with the state Legislature to deliver a landmark $680 million bonding package to support infrastructure improvements across the state. The package includes flood control, roads, bridges, water projects and an agricultural products development center â€“ all with using Legacy Fund earnings and without raising taxes. The water project funding includes $435.5 million for the Fargo-Moorhead-West Fargo area flood diversion, $74.5 million for Mouse River Flood Control at Minot and a $50 million revolving loan fund for water projects.

As recommended in Burgumâ€™s Accelerate ND proposal, a special session of the Legislature in November also invested hundreds of millions of dollars of federal funding into infrastructure, including a proposed west-to-east natural gas pipeline to support communities and economic growth; workforce development including career centers where high school students can pursue high-demand careers; economic development programs and energy projects; and health care and behavioral health enhancements.

Burgum proposed and signed into law an income tax relief package that will provide an estimated $211 million in relief to approximately half a million North Dakotans in tax years 2021 and 2022. The governor also signed legislation eliminating the state income tax on Social Security income, making North Dakota the 38th state to eliminate the tax. As a result, approximately 20,000 North Dakotans will save an estimated $14.6 million per biennium.

The administration worked closely with stakeholders to usher in several of the largest economic development project announcements in state history, with a focus on diversifying the economy and adding value to the stateâ€™s raw commodities. The projects include ADMâ€™s plans to build a $350 million soybean crush and refinery in Spiritwood, N.D.; plans by Bakken Energy LLC and Mitsubishi Power Americas Inc. to establish a world-class clean hydrogen hub; and Cerilon Inc.â€™s plans to build a $2.8 billion gas-to-liquids complex in Williams County.

Sanford also spearheaded the administrationâ€™s efforts on the sale of Coal Creek Station, the stateâ€™s largest coal-fired power plant, to Rainbow Energy â€“ avoiding a shutdown of the plant, saving jobs and preserving baseload power generation.

Together, these projects will play a major role in North Dakotaâ€™s agriculture, energy and overall economic growth, along with efforts toward the governorâ€™s goal, announced in May, of making North Dakota the first carbon-neutral state by 2030.

Burgum also appointed several members to the governorâ€™s cabinet: Indian Affairs Commission Executive Director Nathan Davis, Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation Director Dave Krabbenhoft, Commerce Commissioner James Leiman, Parks and Recreation Director Cody Schulz, Department of Water Resources Director Andrea Travnicek, State Health Officer Dr. Nizar Wehbi, and Game and Fish Department Director Jeb Williams. Stacey Breuer also joined the cabinet as chief people officer.

Historic drought

- The governor declared a statewide drought disaster in early April, marking the second time in five years that North Dakota farmers and ranchers faced widespread extreme drought conditions that threatened crops, livestock herds and livelihoods.
- At the same time, Burgum, who chairs the State Water Commission, and Agriculture Commissioner Doug Goehring, also a member, announced the reactivation of the Drought Disaster Livestock Water Supply Project Assistance Program through the newly formed Department of Water Resources. So far, over $5.6 million in cost-share assistance has been approved for over 1,400 projects submitted by more than 1,000 unique applicants, with an average approval time of less than three days from application.
- Burgum also signed an executive order waiving hours of service for haulers of livestock, hay and water to help livestock producers battling extreme drought conditions across the state.
- With its partners at the North Dakota Forest Service and North Dakota National Guard, the Department of Emergency Services (DES) coordinated the response to significant wildland fire events, including an April 1 fire that encroached on Medora and prompted evacuations. Army National Guard Black Hawk helicopters supported local and regional firefighting efforts to save Medora by distributing water via 600-gallon water buckets.
- Local, tribal, state and federal agencies responded to two large wildfires from April 30 to May 2. The Roosevelt Creek Fire in the Little Missouri National Grassland, north of Medora, burned more than 4,600 acres, while another fire on the Fort Berthold Reservation, about six miles south of Mandaree, burned an estimated 9,800 acres.
- Total Army National Guard support, including to Mandaree, involved distributing over 108,000 gallons of water and eight Guard members working with the North Dakota Forest Service on the ground.

- As of Dec. 2, North Dakota had experienced more than 2,400 fires burning over 125,600 acres in 2021.
- As proposed in Accelerate ND, Burgum signed legislation providing funding to convert abandoned oil wells to permanent freshwater supply wells to enhance resiliency against drought conditions in western North Dakota. Itâ€™s estimated the $3.2 million appropriation will support the conversion of up to 16 wells.
- While serving and protecting citizens at home, DES also coordinated and resourced firefighting teams to provide aid to another state. A group of 15 firefighters from the Williston, Williston Rural, Bismarck Rural and Dickinson fire departments spent two weeks supporting Hurricane Ida recovery efforts in September along the Gulf Coast. This was after Burgum approved an Emergency Management Assistance Compact (EMAC) request from the state of Louisiana, allowing North Dakotaâ€™s firefighters to assist with fire suppression missions there.

COVID-19 pandemic response

- Since January 2021, more than 900,000 doses of the COVID-19 vaccine have been administered in North Dakota. The percentage of adults in the state with at least one dose is 60.7%, and more than 83% of those over age 65 have started their vaccine series.
- The North Dakota Department of Health (NDDoH) State Laboratory processed more than 692,497 tests, and its hotline responded to more than 93,000 citizen calls and 4,100 emails. The NDDoH developed the North Dakota COVID-19 Impact Wall to connect North Dakotans impacted by the disease.
- The NDDoH developed and updated communication channels for citizens, including website dashboards for COVID-19 cases and vaccine distribution, so citizens could quickly access data to make informed decisions about their health. The COVID-19 cases dashboard had more than 2 million page views this year, and the COVID-19 vaccine dashboard had more than 400,000 page views in this time frame.
- The pandemic has the North Dakota National Guard serving its longest domestic response in history â€“ 638 days and nearly 128,000 personnel days as of Monday. Guard members have administered testing, facilitated over 103,000 doses of vaccine, conducted traffic control, partnered with local and tribal health organizations, and transported test samples to the state lab, among other duties.
- The DES has coordinated the obligation of more than $126 million through the Federal Emergency Management Agencyâ€™s Public Assistance Program. The agency assisted eligible local, state, tribal and nonprofit organizations in submitting applications to reimburse costs for medical care, testing and vaccinations, as well as costs required to perform safe opening and operations.
- Job Service North Dakota provided vital economic support to the unemployed by injecting over $1.2 billion into the economy since the start of the pandemic. In a typical year, Job Service will pay between $80 million to $90 million to recipients during times of economic downturns, but payments to unemployed recipients in 2021 alone had already reached $362 million by early December.
- Security and medical team members from the Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (DOCR) have cared for more than 950 residents diagnosed with COVID-19 at facilities across the state. Partnering with the NDDoH, DOCR team members offered extensive testing and monoclonal antibody treatments to provide excellent care on-site to prevent serious illness. Very few COVID-positive residents required hospitalization, minimizing the impact on already strained community medical resources.
- The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) helped develop the executive proposal for over $1 billion in federal American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) investments; managed the distribution of over $25 million in ARPA funding to North Dakota cities; and managed the stateâ€™s reporting requirements for $1.25 billion in federal Coronavirus Relief Funds.
- Recognizing how employers play an essential role in healthy, vibrant communities, Job Service worked with policymakers to ensure that the Unemployment Insurance (UI) Trust Fund remained healthy and that employers were held harmless for UI benefit charges to their employees during 2020. As importantly, the steps taken ensured there were no unemployment tax rate increases for employers in 2021. By utilizing federal Cares Act dollars to strengthen the UI Trust Fund, it positioned the UI program to again hold rates flat in the upcoming 2022 calendar year.

In addition to addressing drought and COVID challenges, the administration continued to make progress on the governorâ€™s five strategic initiatives: Main Street Initiative, Behavioral Health and Addiction, Tribal Engagement, Transforming Education and Reinventing Government.

Main Street Initiative

- The Department of Commerce worked to increase infill and reduce property taxes by updating Renaissance Zones and working across state agencies to successfully stack and align state programs for mixed use and infill.
- North Dakota was one of only six states selected for the second phase of the National Governors Associationâ€™s Workforce Innovation Network, in which states will deploy cross-agency teams to identify and implement strategies that advance digital skill development and more equitable economic participation.
- Commerceâ€™s Workforce Division is implementing systematic changes with $20 million allocated to improve talent attraction efforts. One strategy launched in 2021 involves a national project with RoleCall to address workforce needs by helping to make North Dakota a national leader in talent attraction innovation and action.
- The Main Street ND Summit, held in West Fargo this year, featured a lineup of renowned speakers and community innovators on the topic of smart, efficient infrastructure. Videos of the keynotes, breakout sessions and Main Street Awards can be viewed here.

Body	• Due to the many workforce challenges facing North Dakota, Job Service took a strategic, targeted approach to a statewide campaign called #JOBUPND. The campaign utilized several online ad platforms generating over 3 million impressions with a 75% view rate. • Smart, efficient infrastructure is a pillar of the Main Street Initiative, and infrastructure is vital to North Dakotaâ€™s economy, commerce, agriculture, tourism and families. In 2021, the state of North Dakota made an unprecedented $2.3 billion dollar investment in infrastructure. • Recognizing the key role that parks play in creating healthy, vibrant communities, lawmakers approved and Burgum signed legislation during the special session investing $17.9 million in deferred maintenance and capital improvements at state parks, plus $5 million in matching funds to renovate and upgrade existing facilities in local park districts. The Legislature last spring also created a Challenge Grant for the Parks and Recreation Department to drive investment from the private and public sectors for parks. • Commerce, Job Service and the DOCR worked together on The Last Mile, a collaborative effort to provide instruction on front- and back-end website design to enable DOCR residents to be workforce ready in a highly technical field of coding and website design. • The Department of Water Resourcesâ€™ Cost-Share Program continued to advance critical water supply infrastructure in all areas of the state. For municipal water supply projects, $19.7 million was approved to benefit over 15,000 water users in communities of all sizes. Rural water systems received over $8 million for system expansions and improvements that will benefit over 20,000 water users. • The larger regional water supply systems, including the Western Area Water Supply, Red River Valley Water Supply, Southwest Pipeline Project, and Northwest Area Water Supply were approved for $93.6 million in state funding, and $20.4 million in federal Municipal, Rural and Industrial Water Supply Program funding. Combined, these four regional water supply systems will one day provide water service to 75% of North Dakotaâ€™s population. Behavioral Health and Addiction • More than 650 in-person attendees and over 3,000 online viewers participated in the fifth Recovery Reinvented, a daylong event in Bismarck focused on reinventing recovery through eliminating the stigma of addiction. The governor and First Lady Kathryn Burgum shared the results of the statewide North Dakota Addressing Addiction survey, which found stigma has been reduced over the last three years. • The Department of Human Services completed statewide implementation of a behavioral health crisis services response system that includes crisis line, mobile response and walk-in services at its eight human service centers. At the Life Skills and Transition Center in Grafton, the system was expanded with a specialized team who respond to people with developmental and intellectual disabilities in crisis so they can continue to live successfully in their communities. Crisis response services de-escalate situations and prevent law enforcement involvement and unnecessary emergency room visits. • Building on the success of the Free Through Recovery program, Human Services launched the Community Connect program, which provides community-based behavioral health services designed to assist individuals with care coordination, peer support and recovery services. • Human Services also implemented a Medicaid 1915(i) state plan amendment, which allows North Dakota Medicaid to pay for additional in-home and community-based services to support individuals with behavioral health conditions. Services include care coordination, benefits planning, nonmedical transportation, respite, supported education, supported employment, housing and peer support. • The DOCR partnered with Restoring Promise, an initiative of the Vera Institute of Justice, and MILPA, to create a housing unit at the State Penitentiary grounded in dignity for young adults in prison. Restoring Promise helps transform correctional culture through training, presentations, workshops and healing circles â€“ setting a new tone for the entire system. Young adults participate in meaningful daily activities, experience healing, cultivate an ideology of self-determination and restore relationships with family and community. Mentors over the age of 25 support them in their personal growth, and staff undergo intensive training to become agents of change within the system. • The Highway Patrol created a two-member crash assistance program that will provide enhanced services to victims of crashes, including providing information about understanding grief; reducing stress reactions after trauma; tools to process reactions to crisis and trauma; and information to support children as they process grief and trauma. Tribal Engagement • The North Dakota National Guard finished signing memorandums of agreement with all five tribal colleges in North Dakota to make the State Tuition Assistance program available to qualified student service members attending college. • Burgum signed legislation providing a framework for the state and the Mandan, Hidatsa and Arikara (MHA) Nation to share tax revenue from oil wells that straddle the boundary of the Fort Berthold Reservation, settling an unresolved issue from the stateâ€™s historic 2019 tax agreement with the MHA Nation. • The North Dakota Highway Patrol entered an agreement with the MHA Nation to enhance emergency response on the Fort Berthold Reservation. The agreement, signed by Burgum and MHA Chairman Mark Fox, allows the closest available peace officer to respond to an emergency call for service until the agency with primary jurisdiction arrives and assumes the lead. The agreement to allow mutual aid across reservation boundaries was made possible by legislation signed in 2019 and 2021. • Burgum also signed legislation to allow NDIT to enter into agreements with tribes and other government entities to assist with cybersecurity incident response, and to allow NDDOT to enter into agreements with tribal governments to assist with federally funded safety improvement projects on tribal-owned highways, streets, roads and bridges. • The Highway Patrol created and implemented a five-member criminal interdiction team that

Body	focuses on drug and human trafficking and other criminal activity occurring on roadways in the state. The team is tasked with working closely with tribal law enforcement to intercept illegal substances destined for North Dakota reservations. • A pilot program that aims to ensure all justice-involved, at-risk tribal and non-tribal youth have access to similar services was extended for two years. Transforming Education • Burgum signed â€œpathways to graduationâ€ legislation that capped a four-year collaborative effort to pave the way for authentic learning and flexibility in pathways for North Dakota students to achieve graduation. Creating personalized graduation pathways to complement the traditional credit-hour K-12 education system was the No. 1 recommendation from the Governorâ€™s Innovative Education Task Force created through executive order in 2017. • Burgum proposed and ultimately signed legislation providing $38 million to Bismarck State College to create the stateâ€™s first polytechnic institution. This new approach to higher education will equip students with the skills needed to fill in-demand careers throughout the state. • The North Dakota Information Technology (NDIT) Cybersecurity Team enhanced IT security services for the K-12 education community as part of the IT Shared Services/Unification initiative. This increased cybersecurity posture for the K-12 community sets the stage for better response planning and defense, and better security around school and student data. NDIT also expanded Extended Detection Response in schools, added protection to 10,000 Chromebooks, and provided Security User Awareness training to over 2,500 users. • NDIT also enabled a 24-hour service desk supported by live agents for all state agencies and school districts. In the past year, NDIT has processed an average of 12,000 incidents per month. By offering around-the-clock support, NDIT is better equipped to handle support queries more quickly while improving customer service and creating long-lasting relationships. Reinventing Government • The North Dakota Department of Transportation (NDDOT) increased driverâ€™s license and motor vehicle kiosks to 52 locations across North Dakota. Citizens are now able to print their motor vehicle tabs, renew or request a replacement license or ID card, schedule a road test, pay a reinstatement fee, change their address and edit donor registry information without visiting an office. The department also increased online appointments and reduced customer wait times for driverâ€™s license and motor vehicle services from nearly 30 minutes to less than 10 minutes. • The NDDOT also launched driverâ€™s license online knowledge tests, allowing North Dakotans an easy and convenient way to get their learnerâ€™s permit 24/7 from anywhere with internet access. • The Highway Patrolâ€™s unmanned aircraft systems (UAS) program became fully active in 2021 following several months of planning and officer training. The UAS program will provide enhanced crash reconstruction services and allow officers to assess dangerous incidents from a safe distance, such as fire hot spots, unknown package identification or quickly locating missing or dangerous individuals in rough terrain. • The DES completed a new streamlined system to provide a one-stop shop for energy industry producers, transporters and developers, as well as the public, to report hazardous material spills and releases instead of reporting spills to multiple state agencies. The reporting system, available at www.spill.nd.gov or by calling 1-833-99SPILL (1-833-997-7455), was supported by the Department of Environmental Quality, Department of Agriculture and the Industrial Commissionâ€™s Oil and Gas Division. • Wildfire response by the DES led to some dramatic improvements leveraging technology. One of those innovations was a GPS-configured wildland fire dashboard that provided leaders, planners and firefighters with better situational awareness. It was the first time data could be compiled through reports from local emergency managers and 9-1-1 calls, as well as historical data from the Integrated Reporting of Wildland-Fire Information (IRWIN) system used by fire departments. • The DES also initiated a program to augment the stateâ€™s firefighting capabilities and resources by creating a wildland task force for the state. The task force concept was adopted to allow local fire departments the ability to respond outside their jurisdictions, if needed. Departments that volunteer will coordinate directly with the Forest Service to preposition personnel and equipment for potential state wildfire suppression missions. • The North Dakota Game and Fish Department became the first state in the nation to allow electronic posting of private land with the passage of Senate Bill 2144. The bill gives landowners and hunters alike a convenient option for posting private land and checking its status for hunting, while also leaving the traditional physical posting process in place for those who wish to continue using it. • The Department of Human Services implemented the Safety Framework Practice model, which redesigned in-home child and family support services and foster care services to increase the number of children remaining safely in their homes. • Human Services also launched statewide centralized intake for child abuse and neglect reporting in January 2021. Overall, the number of children living in foster care has decreased in 2021. Efforts are underway to continue shifting resources to in-home services to support children and their families together. • The pandemicâ€™s challenges provided an opportunity for Job Service to reinvent how it ensures benefits are getting to those who need it and not to identity thieves and criminal enterprises. By implementing an industry-leading ID proofing/verification service and by expanding utilization of fraud detection data analytics, Job Service prevented over 8,000 fraudulent claims, which could have resulted in over $150 million in fraudulent payments. • The North Dakota Healthcare Directive Registry development by NDIT was completed and is available at https://apps.nd.gov/itd/nin/hdir/login. This system allows citizens to store, maintain and retrieve important health care documents, such as advance directive documents that are key when determining proper patient care. Users can share documents with providers and family as

- Workforce Safety & Insurance (WSI) successfully deployed upgrades to its myWSI and CAPS systems, providing better customer experience for internal and external customers through automation of manual tasks and online accessibility.

- The Department of Water Resources expanded the utility and functionality of PRESENS (Pushing REmote SENSors), a real-time water level monitoring program. The program now has a much broader range of data collection opportunities to include soil moisture, soil temperature and precipitation measurements. This real-time data will assist with water management into the future and will be used for modeling efforts and analysis. The department deployed more than 220 PRESENS units at peak operation, and aims to grow that number to around 1,000 units in the coming years.

- The Securities Department completed two significant technology projects designed to improve efficiency and the service experience for constituents. A new case management system facilitates the timely, effective and impactful execution of examinations and investigations to support the departmentâ€™s mission of protecting investors. And the new ND Securities Filing Portal delivers a fully electronic filing experience for issuers of securities and other filers, while completing the departmentâ€™s conversion to electronic systems for all securities and investment industry filings, which totaled approximately 148,000 in the last fiscal year.

- Five state agencies â€" the NDDOT, Department of Water Resources, Department of Environmental Quality, Public Finance Authority and Bank of North Dakota â€" collaborated to create Funding for Infrastructure in North Dakota (FIND), a central hub for local governments to apply for infrastructure funding. With five different infrastructure funding programs in the state, knowing which fund to apply for and completing multiple applications was a strain for city and county staff, but FIND provides a one-stop shop for applications. The site was gradually rolled out starting in June and has already received 13 applications.

Citizen-focused agencies make progress

In addition, state agencies worked hard to deliver core services and improve outcomes in many areas:

- Human Services launched a new early childhood division to focus resources on school readiness; strong, stable families; and quality early childhood experiences. To date, the division has awarded federal grant dollars to 713 North Dakota child care programs for financial stabilization.

- Human Services worked with housing partners to implement the new, more comprehensive ND Rent Help program to support housing stability and financial stability and promote strong, stable families. In 2021, 3,295 renter households received emergency rent or utility assistance from ND Rent Help, and 1,095 unique housing providers and utility providers received direct payments from the program. Total assistance disbursed through Nov. 30, 2021, was $13,428,408.

- Human Services improved access to in-home and community-based long-term support services so that older adults and adults with physical disabilities who qualify for skilled nursing care can live at home if they choose. North Dakotans can easily apply online or by phone through the Aging and Disability Resource LINK (ADRL) to get connected to in-home services.

- Human Service provided all Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) households with the maximum benefit amount for households their size. During 2021, approximately 17,800 North Dakota households benefited each month during the COVID-19 public health emergency.

- During the 67th Legislative Assembly, Burgum signed a bill to redesign the way nursing homes are paid by North Dakota Medicaid. Under this new payment system, nursing homes will be incentivized to provide cost-effective care and to renovate rather than build facilities. The new payment system will reduce overall expenses in the future, making it advantageous to taxpayers as well.

- In January 2021, Human Services assumed administration and operation of resettlement support services from contracted vendor Lutheran Social Services of North Dakota. Services help individuals adjust to life in North Dakota and become self-sufficient. The goal is to see New Americans accepted, integrated and supported as they add value to North Dakota and enrich the culture of their new communities. In 2021, 35 refugees resettled in North Dakota.

- The statewide cancer registry maintained by the NDDoH was recognized by the CDC as a â€œRegistry of Excellence.â€ For the period December 2020 through November 2021, Womenâ€™s Way screened 284 people for breast and/or cervical cancer. The program provides these important services to more than 70 women per month.

- The Women, Infants & Children (WIC) Program provided healthy food and support to more than 15,000 North Dakotans. The oral health program distributed 47,000 toothbrushes to 188 schools; 14 workplaces were designated as infant friendly, benefiting 3,821 employees; and the child passenger safety program launched new interactive maps and certified 67 technicians.

- The NDDoH distributed 1,560 state-of-the-art automated external defibrillators (AEDs) to law enforcement via a partnership with the Helmsley Charitable Trust. One of these AEDs was successfully deployed in August 2021 in Grand Forks and helped save a life.

- OMB launched Team ND Connect, a statewide intranet available to all state team members, and delivered Leadership Everywhere training to over 1,500 Team ND members. The agency also led a statewide change management initiative, launched a new website on the statewide platform and centralized certain printing and procurement services.

- Parks and Recreation began offering a new option for North Dakota State park annual permit holders. The family permit, authorized by the 67th Legislative Assembly, allows members of the same household to buy two annual permits at a discounted price of $55.

- The NDDOT finalized the long-range transportation plan, â€œTransportation Connection.â€ The 25-year plan helps identify future transportation needs in the state.

- The NDDOT and Parks and Recreation partnered to replace and install various signs to promote recreational opportunities across the state. The project is designed to increase visibility of state parks and help guide visitors to parks and recreational areas.

- Parks and Recreation also partnered with the State Historical Society to offer the North Dakota

Body	Passport. The goal is to help residents and out-of-state travelers make the most of their visits to recreational and historical sites throughout the state. The passport is an all-in-one guide to adventure as users collect stamps at 37 featured destinations, varying from state parks and recreation areas to state historic sites and museums. • North Dakotaâ€™s regulatory framework for geologic sequestration of carbon dioxide led the nation as the state Industrial Commission in October approved the first Class VI carbon capture and storage project under state primacy in North Dakota and in the United States. North Dakota was the first state to receive primacy of Class VI wells from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency in 2018, followed only by Wyoming in 2020. • An exhibit featuring Dakota, a mummified hadrosaur, opened at the North Dakota Heritage Center with over 600 families and friends of paleontology at the grand opening in October. The new interactive exhibit includes a 3D print of Dakotaâ€™s mummified dinosaur skin and a large mural depicting what Dakota looked like when she roamed North Dakota. • Bank of North Dakota transferred the servicing of most of its residential loan portfolio to the North Dakota Housing Finance Agency, taking advantage of an opportunity to consolidate residential lending, streamline service to consumers and increase efficiency in state government. On April 1, BND discontinued its residential lending program by the end of the year. BNDâ€™s residential portfolio was just over $535 million on Dec. 31, 2020, compared to NDHFAâ€™s portfolio of $1.4 billion. • Game and Fish unveiled the Meadowlark Initiative, a statewide strategy that teams landowners, conservation groups, biologists and others to enhance, restore and sustain native grasslands in North Dakota. • The Heart River Correctional Center (HRCC) opened its doors to minimum custody women on June 15 in Mandan, the result of a team approach to ensure the facility was prepared for adult women. HRCC focuses on providing person-centered rehabilitative and recovery services in a safe, consistent and structured environment of support where women can develop lifelong skills and experience long-term success. • Burgum signed bipartisan legislation aimed at increasing access to services and improving outcomes for youth involved in the juvenile justice system. It was the first major overhaul of state law covering juvenile justice issues since 1969. • The North Dakota Department of Labor and Human Rights entered a space-sharing agreement with the Gaming Division of the Attorney Generalâ€™s Office to utilize office space and tax dollars effectively while continuing to work on a rotating remote basis and in a completely paperless system. • In just the past six months, the NDIT Cybersecurity Team has defended against 187 million threats that were prevented or detected; over 72 million vulnerability attacks that were blocked; and more than 7 million spam and phishing messages. • The Department of Financial Institutions (DFI) spent considerable efforts modernizing outdated laws affecting banks and credit unions and oversaw a 17% increase in financial service providers doing business in North Dakota, now licensing 8,300 entities. Banks and credit unions under DFIâ€™s supervision grew their assets by 18% to a total of $43 billion. • WSI reported that workplace injury rates have been reduced by 30% over the last decade, with a rate of 4.6 claims filed per 100 covered workers in 2021. The agency issued nearly $26 million in safety premium discounts to employers for successful participation in safety programs in fiscal year 2021. • North Dakota maintains one of the nation's highest drinking water compliance rates, with 99% of public water systems meeting all health-based standards overseen by the Department of Environmental Quality. The state also ranked No. 3 in cleanest air and water in US News and World Reportâ€™s Best States for Air and Water Quality. • The Happy Hooligans of the North Dakota Air National Guardâ€™s 119th Wing accepted the Air Force Outstanding Unit Award (AFOUA) for the 22nd time on March 6 and is among the most decorated Air National Guard wings in the nation. Burgum will deliver his 2022 State of the State Address at 10 a.m. Jan. 19 in Festival Concert Hall at the Reineke Fine Arts Center at North Dakota State University in Fargo. The address will be livestreamed from the Governorâ€™s Office website at www.governor.nd.gov. Census 2020 results released in April showed North Dakotaâ€™s population at a record high of 779,094, with a 15.8% growth rate that was the fourth-highest among states from 2010 to 2020. â€œWorking together, we are overcoming the challenges facing our state and emerging stronger than ever before,â€ Burgum said. â€“ # # # â€“ CONTACT: Mike Nowatzki mnowatzki@nd.gov 701.328.2424 Mike Kennedy mikekennedy@nd.gov 701.328.2937 600 E Boulevard Ave. Bismarck ND 58505-0001 PHONE 701.328.2200

Body	NEWS: FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE Burgum, Dohrmann visit North Dakota National Guard soldiers supporting CBP at U.S.-Mexico border VIEW THIS RELEASE ONLINE: governor.ND.gov NEAR THE RIO GRANDE, TEXAS (DEC. 15, 2021) – Gov. Doug Burgum and the North Dakota National Guard's adjutant general, Maj. Gen. Al Dohrmann, today visited the 125 soldiers from the Bismarck-based 957th Engineer Company serving along the U.S.-Mexico border in Texas, getting a first-hand look at their border mission and thanking them for their service in support of U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP). The multi-role bridge unit was mobilized in October as requested by the U.S. Army through the National Guard Bureau to continue the southwest border military mission that began in 2018. They are expected to be deployed for approximately one year. "These highly trained North Dakota National Guard soldiers are serving a critically important role in support of U.S. border security efforts along the southwest border," said Burgum, who serves as commander-in-chief of the North Dakota National Guard. "From the southwest border to our shared northern border with Canada, border security affects every state in the nation, from ensuring the safe and efficient flow of goods and services to stopping illegal immigration and drug and human trafficking. We're deeply grateful to our North Dakota soldiers for doing their part with courage and professionalism to support the efforts to end the humanitarian crisis and secure the southwest border." While at the border, Burgum and Dohrmann received briefings from CBP and Guard officials and met with the soldiers and command team from the 957th to understand first-hand the ground truth of the record number of illegal crossings into the United States. "I couldn't be more proud of the professionalism I saw within our soldiers during the visit down here," Dohrmann said. "I also gained a greater appreciation for the enormous challenge that Customs and Border Protection is facing down here, and really gained an appreciation for the work they do, the professionalism of that organization. I'm proud and humbled that the North Dakota National Guard can be part of the solution." At nearly 2,000 miles long, the southwest border is the most frequently crossed international border in the world, with approximately 350 million documented crossings annually. More than 1.6 million migrants have been apprehended trying to cross the border illegally since January 2021. October data from CBP reported a record 164,303 apprehensions, a record for the month. In the two months the 957th has been deployed at the border, members through their surveillance mission have assisted CPB in 30,000 apprehensions. For the year ending Sept. 30, CBP officials recorded nearly 260,000 encounters with migrants attempting to cross the border illegally, compared with 40,000 the previous year in the 957th's operating sector. Burgum was among 26 Republican governors who sent President Biden a letter in September requesting a meeting with the president to discuss the ongoing crisis at the border. The request has not been granted. Created in 1987, the 957th has a rich history of mobilizations and has been extremely active the last 20 years, with several key deployments including Iraq in 2003-2004, Kosovo in 2009-2010 and Kuwait in 2019-2020. The unit also contributed to North Dakota's historic statewide flood fight in 2011. Due to security concerns, the military requested that the location of the 957th not be publicized. — # # # — CONTACT: Mike Nowatzki mnowatzki@nd.gov 701.328.2424 Mike Kennedy mikekennedy@nd.gov 701.328.2937 600 E Boulevard Ave. Bismarck ND 58505-0001 PHONE 701.328.2200

NEAR THE RIO GRANDE, TEXAS (DEC. 15, 2021) – Gov. Doug Burgum and the North Dakota National Guard's adjutant general, Maj. Gen. Al Dohrmann, today visited the 125 soldiers from the Bismarck-based 957th Engineer Company serving along the U.S.-Mexico border in Texas, getting a first-hand look at their border mission and thanking them for their service in support of U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP).

The multi-role bridge unit was mobilized in October as requested by the U.S. Army through the National Guard Bureau to continue the southwest border military mission that began in 2018. They are expected to be deployed for approximately one year.

"These highly trained North Dakota National Guard soldiers are serving a critically important role in support of U.S. border security efforts along the southwest border," said Burgum, who serves as commander-in-chief of the North Dakota National Guard. "From the southwest border to our shared northern border with Canada, border security affects every state in the nation, from ensuring the safe and efficient flow of goods and services to stopping illegal immigration and drug and human trafficking. We're deeply grateful to our North Dakota soldiers for doing their part with courage and professionalism to support the efforts to end the humanitarian crisis and secure the southwest border."

While at the border, Burgum and Dohrmann received briefings from CBP and Guard officials and met with the soldiers and command team from the 957th to understand first-hand the ground truth of the record number of illegal crossings into the United States.

"I couldn't be more proud of the professionalism I saw within our soldiers during the visit down here," Dohrmann said. "I also gained a greater appreciation for the enormous challenge that Customs and Border Protection is facing down here, and really gained an appreciation for the work they do, the professionalism of that organization. I'm proud and humbled that the North Dakota National Guard can be part of the solution."

At nearly 2,000 miles long, the southwest border is the most frequently crossed international border in the world, with approximately 350 million documented crossings annually. More than 1.6 million migrants have been apprehended trying to cross the border illegally since January 2021. October data from CBP reported a record 164,303 apprehensions, a record for the month.

In the two months the 957th has been deployed at the border, members through their surveillance

Body	mission have assisted CPB in 30,000 apprehensions. For the year ending Sept. 30, CBP officials recorded nearly 260,000 encounters with migrants attempting to cross the border illegally, compared with 40,000 the previous year in the 957th's operating sector. Burgum was among 26 Republican governors who sent President Biden a letter in September requesting a meeting with the president to discuss the ongoing crisis at the border. The request has not been granted. Created in 1987, the 957th has a rich history of mobilizations and has been extremely active the last 20 years, with several key deployments including Iraq in 2003-2004, Kosovo in 2009-2010 and Kuwait in 2019-2020. The unit also contributed to North Dakota's historic statewide flood fight in 2011. Due to security concerns, the military requested that the location of the 957th not be publicized. — # # # — - Photo cutlines Border photo 1: Gov. (DEC. 17, 2021) – Gov. Doug Burgum released the following statement after North Dakota Attorney General Wayne Stenehjem announced today he will not seek re-election in 2022. Stenehjem is the longest-serving attorney general in North Dakota history, having held the position for 21 years. He was elected as the state's 29th attorney general in 2000 and was re-elected in 2004, 2006, 2010, 2014 and 2018. Stenehjem also served in the North Dakota Legislature for 24 years, including four years in the House and 20 years in the Senate, where he was chair of the Senate Judiciary Committee from 1995-2000. "Wayne Stenehjem is the epitome of a dedicated public servant. We are deeply grateful for his more than four decades of exemplary service to the State of North Dakota, both as a legislator and attorney general, a position he held longer than his three predecessors combined," Burgum said. "As the state's top law enforcement officer for more than 20 years, Wayne's chief concern has always been the safety and well-being of North Dakota citizens, and our state is a better place because of his devoted service. We very much look forward to partnering with him on important initiatives during his remaining time in office to keep our state moving forward." — # # # — - CONTACT: Mike Nowatzki mnowatzki@nd.gov 701.328.2424 Mike Kennedy mikekennedy@nd.gov 701.328.2937 600 E Boulevard Ave. Bismarck ND 58505-0001 PHONE: 701.328.2200 -

Subject	BURGUM -- SALE OF COAL CREEK STATION TO RAINBOW ENERGY CLEARS FINAL REGULATORY HURDLE WITH APPROVAL OF TRANSMISSION LINE PERMIT TRANSFER

Body	NEWS: FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE Burgum: Sale of Coal Creek to Rainbow Energy clears final regulatory hurdle with transmission line transfer VIEW THIS RELEASE ONLINE: governor.ND.gov BISMARCK, N.D. (JAN. 6, 2022) – Gov. Doug Burgum released the following statement today after the sale of Coal Creek Station to Rainbow Energy Center LLC cleared its final regulatory hurdle. The Minnesota Public Utilities Commission today unanimously approved the transfer of Coal Creek Station's high-voltage direct current transmission line from Great River Energy (GRE) to Nexus Line LLC, a subsidiary of Rainbow Energy Center LLC. Rainbow Energy Center and Nexus Line are both affiliates of Bismarck-based Rainbow Energy Marketing Corp. "This approval is a momentous step toward Rainbow Energy taking ownership of Coal Creek Station and providing a long-term future for the power plant, its workers and the communities supported by the hundreds of jobs at Coal Creek and the nearby Falkirk Mine," Burgum said. "It also offers North Dakota the opportunity to further prove that we can be a national and world leader in carbon capture, storage and utilization through our continued focus on innovation over regulation. Preserving the baseload generation that Coal Creek provides is critical to U.S. energy security and maintaining a strong regional power grid, and we're grateful to the industry, the state Legislature and our congressional delegation for their collaboration on ensuring a viable future for North Dakota's abundant lignite coal." Burgum and Lt. Gov. Brent Sanford began working with GRE to facilitate a sale of Coal Creek Station to a third party operator even before GRE announced in May 2020 its plans to close the 1,151-megawatt generating plant in Underwood during the second half of 2022. Burgum announced on March 25, 2021, that GRE was in exclusive negotiations to sell Coal Creek Station and GRE's high-voltage, direct current transmission system that extends between central North Dakota and Minnesota. The pending sale to Rainbow Energy Center and Nexus Line was announced June 30. In July, GRE's member cooperatives approved a related purchase power agreement under which GRE will buy 1,050 megawatts of power from Rainbow Energy Center for approximately two years, followed by 300 megawatts for approximately eight years. Burgum signed several bills during this year's legislative session that will support the lignite industry as it continues to innovate for the future and supply reliable, low-cost electricity for residents and businesses in North Dakota and beyond. Those bills included: • House Bill 1412, which exempts coal plants from the state's coal conversion facility tax for the next five years. The bill is expected to save the industry over $20 million per year, freeing up funds to invest in innovative projects such as carbon capture and sequestration that will curb emissions and improve the industry's long-term viability. • Senate Bill 2152, which provides a sales tax exemption for carbon dioxide used for secure geologic storage. • SB 2206, which allows utilities to recover costs for carbon capture. Burgum and Sanford have promoted an all-of-the-above energy approach based on "innovation, not regulation" to advance energy development with environmental stewardship. Under the Burgum-Sanford administration, in 2018 North Dakota became the first state in the nation to receive approval from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to regulate geologic storage of carbon dioxide, which presents a huge economic opportunity for both the lignite industry and the oil industry through enhanced oil recovery. — # # # — CONTACT: Mike Nowatzki mnowatzki@nd.gov 701.328.2424 Mike Kennedy mikekennedy@nd.gov 701.328.2937 600 E Boulevard Ave. Bismarck ND 58505-0001 PHONE 701.328.2200

(JAN. 6, 2022) – Gov. Doug Burgum released the following statement today after the sale of Coal Creek Station to Rainbow Energy Center LLC cleared its final regulatory hurdle. The Minnesota Public Utilities Commission today unanimously approved the transfer of Coal Creek Station's high-voltage direct current transmission line from Great River Energy (GRE) to Nexus Line LLC, a subsidiary of Rainbow Energy Center LLC. Rainbow Energy Center and Nexus Line are both affiliates of Bismarck-based Rainbow Energy Marketing Corp. "This approval is a momentous step toward Rainbow Energy taking ownership of Coal Creek Station and providing a long-term future for the power plant, its workers and the communities supported by the hundreds of jobs at Coal Creek and the nearby Falkirk Mine," Burgum said. "It also offers North Dakota the opportunity to further prove that we can be a national and world leader in carbon capture, storage and utilization through our continued focus on innovation over regulation. Preserving the baseload generation that Coal Creek provides is critical to U.S. energy security and maintaining a strong regional power grid, and we're grateful to the industry, the state Legislature and our congressional delegation for their collaboration on ensuring a viable future for North Dakota's abundant lignite coal." Burgum and Lt. Gov. Brent Sanford began working with GRE to facilitate a sale of Coal Creek Station to a third party operator even before GRE announced in May 2020 its plans to close the 1,151-megawatt generating plant in Underwood during the second half of 2022. Burgum announced on March 25, 2021, that GRE was in exclusive negotiations to sell Coal Creek Station and GRE's high-voltage, direct current transmission system that extends between central North Dakota and Minnesota. The pending sale to Rainbow Energy Center and Nexus Line was announced June 30. In July, GRE's member cooperatives approved a related purchase power agreement under which GRE will buy 1,050 megawatts of power from Rainbow Energy Center for approximately two years, followed by 300 megawatts for approximately eight years. Burgum signed several bills during this year's legislative session that will support the lignite industry as it continues to innovate for the future and supply reliable, low-cost electricity for residents and businesses in North Dakota and beyond. Those bills included: • House Bill 1412, which exempts coal plants from the state's coal conversion facility tax for the next five years. The bill is expected to save the industry over $20 million per year, freeing up funds to invest in innovative projects such as carbon capture and sequestration that will curb emissions and improve the industry's long-term viability. • Senate Bill 2152, which provides a sales tax exemption for carbon dioxide used for secure geologic storage. • SB 2206, which allows utilities to recover costs for carbon capture. Burgum and Sanford have promoted an all-of-the-above energy approach based on "innovation, not regulation" to advance energy development with environmental stewardship. Under the Burgum-Sanford administration, in 2018 North Dakota became the first state in the nation to receive approval from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to regulate geologic storage of carbon dioxide, which presents a huge economic opportunity for both the lignite industry and the oil industry through enhanced oil recovery. — # # # — CONTACT: Mike Nowatzki mnowatzki@nd.gov 701.328.2424 Mike Kennedy mikekennedy@nd.gov 701.328.2937 600 E Boulevard Ave. Bismarck ND 58505-0001 PHONE 701.328.2200

(JAN. 6, 2022) – North Dakota Gov. Doug Burgum and Montana Gov. Greg Gianforte have staked a friendly wager on Saturday's NCAA Football Championship Subdivision (FCS) title game between the Montana State University Bobcats and the North Dakota State University Bison, who are vying for their ninth national title since 2011. The governor of the state whose team wins the championship will receive a gift basket with North Dakota- or Montana-made goods from the losing team's governor, who also must post a photo to social media of himself wearing the winning team's jersey. "Congratulations to the Bobcats on scratching their way to the FCS championship game, but it takes a lot more than sharp claws to stop a Thundering Herd," Burgum said. "North Dakota State is hungry to regain the FCS title and continue building on its incredible dynasty of eight championships in the last decade, and Bison Nation won't be denied. Go Bison!" If the Bobcats win, Burgum pledged to send North Dakota treats including Dot's Homestyle Pretzels from Velva, Widman's Candy Chippers from Grand Forks, honey from A Touch of Honey in Linton, Badlands Delicious Jerky from Bismarck, Cloverdale sausage from Mandan, Giants sunflower seeds from Wahpeton, Baker Boy donuts from Dickinson, Grubbersputz's Premium Popcorn from Devils Lake and Ax Water from Fargo. — # # # — CONTACT: Mike Nowatzki mnowatzki@nd.gov 701.328.2424 Mike Kennedy mikekennedy@nd.gov 701.328.2937 600 E Boulevard Ave. Bismarck ND 58505-0001 PHONE: 701.328.2200

Doug Burgum released the following statement today after the U.S. Supreme Court ruled that the Biden administration did not have authority to impose a vaccine mandate on private businesses with 100 or more employees. "Today's ruling reaffirms what we've said from the beginning: This misguided vaccine mandate was blatant federal overreach by the Biden administration," Burgum said. "Vaccines and boosters remain the best defense against COVID-19 severe illness, hospitalization and death and are readily available to all North Dakota residents, and we encourage those who haven't been vaccinated to consult with their trusted medical provider." The Supreme Court upheld 5-4 a separate vaccine mandate on employers who receive funding through federal Medicare or Medicaid programs, affecting an estimated 17 million health care workers. Burgum expressed his disappointment that hospitals and long-term care facilities won't be allowed to make their own vaccine decisions as private employers.

(JAN. 26, 2022) – Gov. Doug Burgum today announced the construction of one of the largest data centers in the world near Williston as North Dakota continues to emerge as a hub for high-performance computing, including cryptocurrency mining. The Atlas Power Data Center being built by FX Solutions Inc. is part of a $1.9 billion, multiyear project that will require more than 100 workers during the two-year construction period and create more than 30 permanent jobs, according to Richard Tabish, president of Missoula, Mont.-based FX Solutions. Atlas Power, an operator of high-density facilities serving cryptocurrency mining and high-performance computing utilizing alternative power generation, will own and operate the data center following its completion. Burgum announced the project at a press conference with Tabish and Kevin Washington, founder and President of Atlas Power, which currently operates a 75-megawatt data center in Butte, Mont. "This major investment in North Dakota will further cement our state's growing reputation as a hub for data centers and cryptocurrency mining, thanks to our incredibly reliable, affordable and redundant power supply and a climate that lowers cooling costs for data center operations," Burgum said. "With our all-of-the-above energy approach and nation-leading efforts in carbon capture, utilization and storage, we are well-positioned to support data centers and other energy-intensive industries with environmental stewardship while attracting high-paying jobs and diversifying our economy." The first phase of the project will consist of 16 buildings, each 350 feet long by 30 feet wide, to house tens of thousands of servers that will conduct high-performance computing using 240 megawatts of electricity. Phases 2 and 3 call for expanding to 500 megawatts and then 700 megawatts, adding additional buildings and servers. "We're thrilled to partner with Governor Burgum, FX Solutions and Mountrail-Williams Electric Cooperative to announce the construction of Atlas Power's second facility," Washington said. "Building on the success of our Butte, Montana location, Phase One of the Williston site alone will become Atlas's largest center of operations, while also ensuring we draw on a diversified mix of alternative power sources. As a company with strong Mountain West roots, we applaud the Governor's efforts to support the growth of North Dakota's crypto sector and are pleased to bring new tech-sector jobs to the region." "North Dakota is going to be a true leader worldwide in this industry," Tabish said. "Our ability to energize and build this project is creating a speed to market never seen before in this space. I have had the pleasure of witnessing the progressive development in this region with our construction and consulting division in Mountrail and Williams counties, and the support this project has received from MWEC and myriad local and state leaders is paramount. I am extremely happy to be back in North Dakota, adding to the forward thinking that Gov. Burgum has been implementing to buttress the already robust business culture." Sitework for the first phase of the project started earlier this month on a 77-acre site west of Williston. A 100-by-400-foot inflatable dome will be erected to allow for construction through the winter months. Mountrail-Williams Electric Cooperative will supply power to the data center, with the ability to supply the quantity of electricity required for the facility from multiple sources to support 24/7 operations. An electrical substation is already built near the data center with available capacity. "Our new data center member has great expectations of MWEC, and we are prepared and committed to their success and to our community," MWEC General Manager Dale Haugen said. – ### – CONTACT: Mike Nowatzki mnowatzki@nd.gov 701.328.2424 Mike Kennedy mikekennedy@nd.gov 701.328.2937 600 E Boulevard Ave. Bismarck ND 58505-0001 PHONE 701.328.2200

Body	NEWS: FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE Burgum to attend NGA Winter Meeting, participate in sessions on infrastructure, education VIEW THIS RELEASE ONLINE: governor.ND.gov BISMARCK, N.D. (JAN. 28, 2022) – Gov. Doug Burgum will attend the National Governors Association (NGA) Winter Meeting Friday through Monday in Washington, D.C., as the bipartisan gathering of the nation's governors takes place in person for the first time in two years. Governors will discuss best practices and collaboration on top policy issues such as infrastructure, cybersecurity and computer science education, which is the chairman's initiative of the current NGA chairman, Arkansas Gov. Asa Hutchinson. Commerce Secretary Gina Raimondo and Transportation Secretary Pete Buttigieg are among the cabinet officials scheduled to participate. Burgum also will attend a business session being held at the White House in conjunction with the Winter Meeting. "The National Governors Association offers a unique bipartisan forum for governors to share ideas, discuss best practices and highlight policy successes and solutions to the challenges we have in common," Burgum said. "We look forward to connecting with state, national and international leaders on topics that affect North Dakotans and advocating for federal policy that respects states' rights and supports economic growth, including in our two biggest industries, agriculture and energy." Burgum also will meet with members of the bipartisan Western Governors' Association while in the nation's capital. The NGA Winter Meeting is one of two annual convenings of the NGA, a bipartisan organization representing governors from the 55 states and U.S. territories. — # # # — CONTACT: Mike Nowatzki mnowatzki@nd.gov 701.328.2424 Mike Kennedy mikekennedy@nd.gov 701.328.2937 600 E Boulevard Ave. Bismarck ND 58505-0001 PHONE 701.328.2200

Body	NEWS: FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE Burgum appoints Pat Bertagnolli to lead Job Service North Dakota as executive director VIEW THIS RELEASE ONLINE: governor.ND.gov BISMARCK, N.D. (JAN. 28, 2022) – Gov. Doug Burgum today announced he has appointed Pat Bertagnolli of Watford City to serve as executive director of Job Service North Dakota, effective Feb. 21, citing his extensive background in workforce recruitment, his experience in both the public and private sectors and his service on the state's Workforce Development Council. Bertagnolli (BERT-n-OH-lee) has served as director of the Rough Rider Center and community enhancement in Watford City since December 2019. He previously served as vice president of human resources for MBI Energy Services and has held human resources management positions at several other energy-related businesses in the Watford City and Williston areas since 2011. Prior to that he had a 22-year career with UPS serving in multiple capacities, most notably as a multistate operations manager and workforce planning and employee relations manager. "Having spent much of the last decade recruiting and retaining workers in the fastest-growing area of the country, Pat Bertagnolli has the right experience to lead Job Service North Dakota as we tackle our state's significant workforce challenge – our No. 1 barrier to economic growth," Burgum said. "We are deeply grateful for Pat's service on the Workforce Development Council these past eight years and look forward to his leadership at Job Service in connecting jobseekers with employers and removing barriers to employment." Bertagnolli earned his bachelor's degree in business administration in 1990 from Carroll College in Helena, Mont., and a Senior Certified Professional credential from the Society for Human Resource Management in 2015. He currently serves on the TrainND Northwest Advisory Board and on Williston State College's nursing advisory board. He has served on the state's Workforce Development Council for eight years, having been first appointed by then-Gov. Jack Dalrymple in 2014 and reappointed by Burgum in 2016, and is a former president of the Watford City Area Chamber of Commerce. "I'm thankful to have had a front row seat to the greatest growth in the nation as referenced in results of the 2020 Census, and Job Service North Dakota has been a key partner in that growth," Bertagnolli said. "I look forward to working alongside this amazing team in a more formal capacity to help facilitate statewide collaboration and alignment to support our state's recruiting and retention efforts. I'm grateful to Gov. Burgum for this incredible opportunity to serve the great people of North Dakota." Burgum expressed his gratitude to North Dakota Workforce Safety & Insurance (WSI) Director Bryan Klipfel, who has served as interim executive director of JSND since 2019 and will return to leading WSI full time. Job Service North Dakota has 156 full-time team members, 66 temporary employees and a biennial budget of $65.4 million to manage multiple federal grants for workforce and unemployment services. The agency has nine workforce centers across the state staffed with regional workforce experts to remove barriers to employment and to connect employers and job seekers by building partnerships within local communities with employers, schools, local economic development associations and chambers. Unemployment Insurance services are carried out at the central office location in Bismarck. Through this program, the agency stabilizes the workforce and economy by providing income replacement to eligible workers. The agency also provides education and labor market information to businesses and job seekers to make informed decisions. – ### – CONTACT: Mike Nowatzki mnowatzki@nd.gov 701.328.2424 Mike Kennedy mikekennedy@nd.gov 701.328.2937 Sarah Arntson, Job Service sjarntson@nd.gov 701.328.3031 600 E Boulevard Ave. Bismarck ND 58505-0001 PHONE 701.328.2200

Body	NEWS: FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE Burgum releases statement on passing of Attorney General Wayne Stenehjem, orders flags at half-staff VIEW THIS RELEASE ONLINE: governor.ND.gov BISMARCK, N.D. (JAN. 28, 2022) – Gov. Doug Burgum released the following statement today regarding the passing of longtime North Dakota Attorney General Wayne Stenehjem. Stenehjem was the longest-serving attorney general in North Dakota history, having held the position for 21 years. He was elected as the state's 29th attorney general in 2000 and was re-elected in 2004, 2006, 2010, 2014 and 2018. Stenehjem also served in the North Dakota Legislature for 24 years, including four years in the House and 20 years in the Senate, where he was chair of the Senate Judiciary Committee from 1995-2000. He announced on Dec. 17, 2021, that he would not seek another term in office as attorney general. Stenehjem died today at age 68. "Like so many North Dakotans who treasured his friendship and admired him for his more than four decades of exceptional service to our state, we are absolutely devastated by the passing of Attorney General Wayne Stenehjem," Burgum said. "Wayne embodied public service, both as a dedicated legislator and the longest-serving attorney general in our state's 133-year history. As the top law enforcement officer in North Dakota for over two decades, Attorney General Stenehjem always put the safety and well-being of our citizens first. North Dakota is a safer place because of his unwavering commitment to law and order, his loyalty to his team members and his utmost respect for our men and women in uniform. State and local governments also are more transparent thanks to his strong enforcement of North Dakota's sunshine laws. "On a personal level, Wayne was extremely proud of his small-town roots, his ties to UND and time spent practicing law in Grand Forks, and especially his Scandinavian heritage. His dry Norwegian humor was at its sidesplitting best at Norsk Høsfest in Minot during the induction ceremonies for the Scandinavian-American Hall of Fame – an honor he himself received in 2007. Most of all, he was a loving husband and father, often sharing photos of his travels with Beth and beaming with pride as he would carry a plate of her Scotcheroos into a meeting or talk about son Andrew's military service and latest adventures. "It was an honor and a privilege to serve alongside Wayne on the North Dakota Industrial Commission and state Land Board. No matter how complex or contentious the issue, we all benefited from his incredible intellect, legal expertise and professionalism. He cared deeply about North Dakota and wanted only the best for its citizens. Kathryn and I extend our deepest condolences and prayers to Beth, Andrew and the entire Stenehjem family, his current and former colleagues from the Attorney General's Office and Legislature, his friends throughout state government and the entire law enforcement community as we grieve this terrible loss." Burgum has directed all government agencies to fly the United States and North Dakota flags at half-staff until further notice and encourages North Dakotans to do the same at their homes and businesses, in honor of Stenehjem and his longtime service to the state. — # # # — - CONTACT: Mike Nowatzki mnowatzki@nd.gov 701.328.2424 Mike Kennedy mikekennedy@nd.gov 701.328.2937 600 E Boulevard Ave. Bismarck ND 58505-0001 PHONE 701.328.2200 -

Elizabeth,

The State of South Dakota is a body politic created by the Constitution and laws of the State; as such, it is not a citizen of any state. This action is brought by the State in its sovereign capacity in order to protect the interests of the State of South Dakota and its citizens as parens patriae, by and through Jason R. Ravnsborg, the Attorney General of the State of South Dakota. The Attorney General is acting pursuant to his authority to appear for the State and prosecute any civil matter in which the State is a party or interested when, in his judgment, the welfare of the State demands. SDCL Â§1-11-1(2).

Thanks.

David

Elizabeth,

The State of South Dakota is a body politic created by the Constitution and laws of the State; as such, it is not a citizen of any state. This action is brought by the State in its sovereign capacity in order to protect the interests of the State of South Dakota and its citizens as parens patriae, by and through Jason R. Ravnsborg, the Attorney General of the State of South Dakota. The Attorney General is acting pursuant to his authority to appear for the State and prosecute any civil matter in which the State is a party or interested when, in his judgment, the welfare of the State demands. SDCL Â§1-11-1(2).

Thanks.

David

I will share this afternoon. Happy to take edits too. We are just compiling our notes from talking to Directors and teachers. If you have someone who has more to add or has special expertise in speech development and early childhood ed then just adapt.

Subject: RE: ACF/OHS/HHS - Head Start Mandate

Louisiana is in the process of drafting a compliant. We will have draft declarations available today. We have identified about 6 program directors willing to sign declarations (some more detailed than others).

We plan to file in the Western District of La, which at this point is where most if not all our declarations will come from. As a practical matter, I donâ€™t think we can get the Complaint and PI filed until next week so we are

Body	shooting for Tuesday of next week. We welcome all joiners. From: Thacker, Christopher L (KYOAG) <christopher.thacker@ky.gov> Sent: Thursday, December 09, 2021 11:54 AM To: Scott Stewart <Scott.Stewart@ago.ms.gov>; Ensign, Drew <Drew.Ensign@azag.gov>; Maddox, Victor (KYOAG) <victor.maddox@ky.gov>; Brasington, Charles E (LAW) <charles.brasington@alaska.gov>; Murrill, Elizabeth <MurrillE@ag.louisiana.gov>; Benjamin Flowers <Benjamin.Flowers@OhioAGO.gov>; Judd Stone <Judd.Stone@oag.texas.gov>; Joshua Richardson <Joshua.Richardson@OhioAGO.gov> Cc: Henry Whitaker <Henry.Whitaker@myfloridalegal.com>; Bowdre, Barrett <Barrett.Bowdre@alabamaag.gov>; Mills, Cori M (LAW) <cori.mills@alaska.gov>; Alloway, Jessie M (LAW) <jessie.alloway@alaska.gov>; Dixon, Ninia R (LAW) <ninia.dixon@alaska.gov>; Roysden, Beau <Beau.Roysden@azag.gov>; Daniel Bell <Daniel.Bell@myfloridalegal.com>; James Percival <James.Percival@myfloridalegal.com>; Jeffrey DeSousa <Jeffrey.DeSousa@myfloridalegal.com>; Drew Waldbeser <DWaldbeser@law.ga.gov>; Ross Bergethon <RBergethon@law.ga.gov>; brian.kane@ag.idaho.gov; tom.fisher@atg.in.gov; kian.hudson@atg.in.gov; jeff.chanay@ag.ks.gov; Brant.Laue@ag.ks.gov; Kuhn, Matt F (KYOAG) <Matt.Kuhn@ky.gov>; St. John, Joseph <StJohnJ@ag.louisiana.gov>; Whitney Lipscomb <Whitney.Lipscomb@ago.ms.gov>; Justin Matheny <Justin.Matheny@ago.ms.gov>; john.sauer@ago.mo.gov; Justin.Smith@ago.mo.gov; David.Dewhirst@mt.gov; Jim.Campbell@nebraska.gov; Daniel.E.Will@doj.nh.gov; Anthony.J.Galdieri@doj.nh.gov; wstenehjem@nd.gov; masagove@nd.gov; tseibel@nd.gov; May Mailman <May.Mailman@OhioAGO.gov>; mithun.mansinghani@oag.ok.gov; zach.west@oag.ok.gov; Emory Smith <ESmith@scag.gov>; HKirkland@scag.gov; BCook@scag.gov; ThomasHydrick@scag.gov; steven.blair@state.sd.us; Paul.Swedlund@state.sd.us; Sarah K. Elizabeth,

The State of South Dakota is a body politic created by the Constitution and laws of the State; as such, it is not a citizen of any state. This action is brought by the State in its sovereign capacity in order to protect the interests of the State of South Dakota and its citizens as parens patriae, by and through Jason R. Ravnsborg, the Attorney General of the State of South Dakota. The Attorney General is acting pursuant to his authority to appear for the State and prosecute any civil matter in which the State is a party or interested when, in his judgment, the welfare of the State demands. SDCL Â§1-11-1(2).

Thanks.

I will share this afternoon. Happy to take edits too. We are just compiling our notes from talking to Directors and teachers. If you have someone who has more to add or has special expertise in speech development and early childhood ed then just adapt.

Subject: RE: ACF/OHS/HHS - Head Start Mandate

Louisiana is in the process of drafting a compliant. We will have draft declarations available today. We have identified about 6 program directors willing to sign declarations (some more detailed than others).

We plan to file in the Western District of La, which at this point is where most if not all our declarations will come from. As a practical matter, I donâ€™t think we can get the Complaint and PI filed until next week so we are shooting for Tuesday of next week.

We welcome all joiners.

Elizabeth,

The State of South Dakota is a body politic created by the Constitution and laws of the State; as such, it is not a citizen of any state. This action is brought by the State in its sovereign capacity in order to protect the interests of the State of South Dakota and its citizens as parens patriae, by and through Jason R. Ravnsborg, the Attorney General of the State of South Dakota. The Attorney General is acting pursuant to his authority to appear for the State and prosecute any civil matter in which the State is a party or interested when, in his judgment, the welfare of the State demands. SDCL Â§1-11-1(2).

Thanks.

SD will likely join LA. Elizabeth, can you share a draft declaration and I will see if I can find appropriate signatories.

Subject: RE: ACF/OHS/HHS - Head Start Mandate

Louisiana is in the process of drafting a compliant. We will have draft declarations available today. We have identified about 6 program directors willing to sign declarations (some more detailed than others).

We plan to file in the Western District of La, which at this point is where most if not all our declarations will come from. As a practical matter, I donâ€™t think we can get the Complaint and PI filed until next week so we are shooting for Tuesday of next week.

We welcome all joiners.

I will send you a couple of model declarations. To the extent you have cooperative Head Start officials, it certainly helps. I will send you something later today that you can use and feel free to modify. It would help to know who you have that would sign. State officials say something a different from Program Directors and Teachers.

If you need a declaration of some sort from North Dakota, we can get one.
Just let me know.

Elizabeth,

The State of South Dakota is a body politic created by the Constitution and laws of the State; as such, it is not a citizen of any state. This action is brought by the State in its sovereign capacity in order to protect the interests of the State of South Dakota and its citizens as parens patriae, by and through Jason R. Ravnsborg, the Attorney General of the State of South Dakota. The Attorney General is acting pursuant to his authority to appear for the State and prosecute any civil matter in which the State is a party or interested when, in his judgment, the welfare of the State demands. SDCL Â§1-11-1(2).

Thanks.

Subject: RE: ACF/OHS/HHS - Head Start Mandate

Louisiana is in the process of drafting a compliant. We will have draft declarations available today. We have identified about 6 program directors willing to sign declarations (some more detailed than others).

We plan to file in the Western District of La, which at this point is where most if not all our declarations will come from. As a practical matter, I donâ€™t think we can get the Complaint and PI filed until next week so we are shooting for Tuesday of next week.

We welcome all joiners.

I will send you a couple of model declarations. To the extent you have cooperative Head Start officials, it certainly helps. I will send you something later today that you can use and feel free to modify. It would help to know who you have that would sign. State officials say something a different from Program Directors and Teachers.

If you need a declaration of some sort from North Dakota, we can get one.
Just let me know.

Elizabeth,

The State of South Dakota is a body politic created by the Constitution and laws of the State; as such, it is not a citizen of any state. This action is brought by the State in its sovereign capacity in order to protect the interests of the State of South Dakota and its citizens as parens patriae, by and through Jason R. Ravnsborg, the Attorney General of the State of South Dakota. The Attorney General is acting pursuant to his authority to appear for the State and prosecute any civil matter in which the State is a party or interested when, in his judgment, the welfare of the State demands. SDCL Â§1-11-1(2).

Thanks.

Elizabeth,
What kind of deadline do you have for declarations?

I will send you a couple of model declarations. To the extent you have cooperative Head Start officials, it certainly helps. I will send you something later today that you can use and feel free to modify. It would help to know who you have that would sign. State officials say something a different from Program Directors and Teachers.

If you need a declaration of some sort from North Dakota, we can get one.
Just let me know.

Elizabeth,

The State of South Dakota is a body politic created by the Constitution and laws of the State; as such, it is not a citizen of any state. This action is brought by the State in its sovereign capacity in order to protect the interests of the State of South Dakota and its citizens as parens patriae, by and through Jason R. Ravnsborg, the Attorney General of the State of South Dakota. The Attorney General is acting pursuant to his authority to appear for the State and prosecute any civil matter in which the State is a party or interested when, in his judgment, the welfare of the State demands. SDCL Â§1-11-1(2).

Thanks.

Subject: RE: ACF/OHS/HHS - Head Start Mandate

Louisiana is in the process of drafting a compliant. We will have draft declarations available today. We have identified about 6 program directors willing to sign declarations (some more detailed than others).

We plan to file in the Western District of La, which at this point is where most if not all our declarations will come from. As a practical matter, I donâ€™t think we can get the Complaint and PI filed until next week so we are shooting for Tuesday of next week.

We welcome all joiners.

Elizabeth,
What kind of deadline do you have for declarations?

I will send you a couple of model declarations. To the extent you have cooperative Head Start officials, it certainly helps. I will send you something later today that you can use and feel free to modify. It would help to know who you have that would sign. State officials say something a different from Program Directors and Teachers.

Elizabeth,
North Dakota will also likely want to join you.
Thanks.

Elizabeth,

The State of South Dakota is a body politic created by the Constitution and laws of the State; as such, it is not a citizen of any state. This action is brought by the State in its sovereign capacity in order to protect the interests of the State of South Dakota and its citizens as parens patriae, by and through Jason R. Ravnsborg, the Attorney General of the State of South Dakota. The Attorney General is acting pursuant to his authority to appear for the State and prosecute any civil matter in which the State is a party or interested when, in his judgment, the welfare of the State demands. SDCL Â§1-11-1(2).

Thanks.

I will share this afternoon. Happy to take edits too. We are just compiling our notes from talking to Directors and teachers. If you have someone who has more to add or has special expertise in speech development and early childhood ed then just adapt.

Subject: RE: ACF/OHS/HHS - Head Start Mandate

Louisiana is in the process of drafting a compliant. We will have draft declarations available today. We have identified about 6 program directors willing to sign declarations (some more detailed than others).

We plan to file in the Western District of La, which at this point is where most if not all our declarations will come from. As a practical matter, I donâ€™t think we can get the Complaint and PI filed until next week so we are shooting for Tuesday of next week.

We welcome all joiners.

All, Just by way of advance notice, it appears that OSHA does not intend to withdraw the COVID ETS and is still accepting comments on the ETS until January 19. Moreover, OSHA has previously indicated that the "ETS also acts as a proposal for a permanent standard." Thus, unless the ETS is withdrawn before then, Kentucky plans to proceed with submitting a comment letter in opposition to the ETS (and any similar permanent standard) next Wednesday. We are in the process of revising the draft comment letter to incorporate reference to yesterday's Supreme Court opinion, and will circulate that new draft by Monday to invite any other AG's who would like to join the comment letter to do so Best, Christopher L. Hobbs Hello all, I've attached a draft States amicus brief in support of Arizona's motion to dismiss in its most recent voting litigation concerning two laws: (1) requiring missing signatures on mail-in ballots to be provided by election day; and (2) removing voters from the early voting list such that they no longer automatically receive mail-in ballots if they don't vote for two cycles and fail to respond when asked if they wish to remain on the list. Plaintiffs have not brought a section 2 results claim, but only a discriminatory-purpose claim and an undue-burden claim. Our amicus brief focuses on the purpose claim and highlights the need for adequate allegations of invidious purpose, the presumption of legislative good faith, and the discovery burdens that await if the motion to dismiss is denied. I have waited for Marcie to set a time to discuss concerns with me since December 22nd , as she suggested, with no response. Now I see she in on leave until the day I retire. I expect a call from someone regarding my concerns listed below before I retire. All of you have been very good at ignoring my issues and the issues of many, many other staff within the Dept of Human Services hoping they will quietly disappear. I know you are all very aware of the issues and chalking the way you are treating state employees, that have years of service, with never any complaint about their work, under the guise of "restructure" is inhumane or worse. If you are not part of the solution, you are part of the problem as the saying goes.

Wayne, as a prior next door neighbor of yours in Grand Forks, I am including you in this email. I wonder if you have any idea what has been going on in the Department of Human Services for the past while and all the staff that are quitting because of the way they (we) are being treated? I truly believe things need to be looked into very deeply.....starting of course at the top.

Marci—

I have not heard from you regarding a time to verbally discuss. Please talk to Donna and Jeff before we talk. If there is one thing I am certain of, it is that laws were broken in not posting the positions given to two Fargo staff for accounts payable entry statewide.

Things are in self destruct mode here at NEHSC which in the end will be good overall for anyone that ends of staying at NEHSC going forward. If anyone does stay.

Thank you for the response Becky. I understand that you are frustrated and I do want to assure that your questions are answered, even though your concerns go back farther than 15 days. In order to look into what your questions are, discussion will need to be held with Jeff Stenseth and Donna Aukland. As you point out, the grievance process is a written process with specific time limits governed by Century Code and Administrative Rule. But that does not mean that issues cannot be resolved by other means.

I would add that when reorganizations occur, certain processes are handled differently, but still are required to be follow State and Federal employment laws. This reorganization would be no different.

I'm not sure when your last day of work is, but would you have any time next week or the following week to connect and we can verbally walk through your concerns?

Subject: RE: Question---are you going to reply or confirm receipt of below email?

Good Morning Marcie,

I know from prior staff that grievances go nowhere and it almost always hurts the staff that files them. I did look at the grievance form and it said that it needed to be filed with 15 days of incident. I am questioning what happened long after 15 days has past and just want a few answers before I retire. I have included others in this email because they need to know what is going on if they are not aware already. I am not going to personally talk to Jeff Stenseth or Donna Aukland about this because I am afraid of what they would potentially do to me.

In further clarification:

I received verbal notification in a meeting (no written notice) from Lynn Bingham with Jeff Stenseth present and a few other staff that were also having some minor duties removed. Again, Lynn apologized for not giving me more notice but said he was instructed not to! I just left Lynn Bingham's office and asked Lynn who he received the instruction from as far as giving me no notice that all my duties were being taken away. He said it was Donna Aukland. He said Donna, in meetings, told all business managers not to say anything to staff until they met with staff the end of July. The meeting occurred at the very end of July and I was told I was losing almost all of accounts payable duties immediately. There was another staff or two in the office that were also losing a few duties but I was the only one losing 90 percent or more along with others in my position in the state. I'm sure this was due to statewide reorganization. That is not the problem or the question. In the meeting it was said that some of my duties, going forward, were going to be required to be done by the business managers and the remainder was being given to two office assistants in SEHSC. I immediately asked why these 2 staff were just given all of my duties other than what the business manager was to do. Lynn Bingham threw out the response that their office was bigger or something to that effect, which of course I knew had nothing to do with anything. Jeff Stenseth sat there and said nothing regarding that.

My questions remain—

- Why didn't the two office assistants have to apply for the jobs they got working on accounts payable for the whole state? Jobs that were taken from others statewide and just given to them? Is it not policy that these positions should have been opened up for me or others to have applied for if we wished? That is a question that I believe you would have the answer to Marcie.
- Why did I get such late notice that my job was disappearing. This, most likely, would be a question for Donna Aukland and Jeff Stenseth.
- Donna Aukland said there would be other duties to replace the ones I lost but I was never given

Body	anything? I do not know if my counterparts statewide were given new duties or not. Also please note that Lynn Bingham asked Donna several times, if I could help him out with duties given to him and Donna said No. I expect that Donna and Jeff will come up with excuses that in their minds they can justify. I however, think it is very sad what they, and possibly their superiors, are doing to so many employees within the state. Jeff Stenseth introduces himself at meetings as the person who they bring in to get rid of staff but that it is not true. I have heard him say this on more than one occasion as has everyone else here. You do not get a reputation for something that is not deserved so of course it is true. I am not certain that he was trying to get rid of me. I do think they were getting rid of my position but there has to be a better way of doing this other than devaluing people that have given many years of service to this state and offering them nothing in return as far as other duties, a buy out or whatever. There are many instances where staff have been treated so badly that they quit or retire but I can't and won't speak for others. All anyone has to do is look at the turnover to know this as a fact. I do want my questions answered and this brought out in the open so hopefully going forward a better process can be in place that treats employees with dignity and respect. Neither of which I feel I was afforded. This is the reason unions are formed to protect employees from being treated the way I have been treated. I have never been a union member or even thought there was a need for unions prior to this but I am , unfortunately, realizing that there is a need. Hi Becky, Thank you for your email, as well as your patience as I have looked into this issue. Based on the information I've been able to ascertain, it appears there was a statewide reorganization that occurred which impacted many different positions. Unfortunately I don't have answers to your specific questions; however, I think it's important that you get them. I also want to assure that you are aware of the grievance policy and your rights under that policy I am not sure if you are inferring that you wish to file a grievance, but regardless, you should receive an answer to the questions you have posed. Can you please confirm for me who you have received what notifications from? That will help me determine next steps. My initial thought is that Jeff Stenseth should be able to answer some of your questions, as he is the senior leader within your chain of command, but I am not certain who you have already talked to or asked these questions of. Also, if you have received any notifications in writing please send those to me. Thank you, Becky, for the work that you do. If you can let me know those two pieces of information I will be able to make some determination as to next steps. Marcie Wuitschick, SHRM-CP, PHR Director, Human Resources ND Department of Human Services 701-328-1290 mwuitschick@nd.gov From: Savaloja, Rebecca L. <rsavaloja@nd.gov> Sent: Tuesday, December 07, 2021 8:46 AM To: Wuitschick, Marcie D. <mwuitschick@nd.gov> Subject: FW: Question---are you going to reply or confirm receipt of below email? From: Savaloja, Rebecca L. Sent: Friday, December 3, 2021 3:13 PM To: Wuitschick, Marcie D. <mwuitschick@nd.gov> Subject: Question Marcie— Something has been bothering me and I would like your input on it. The end of July, I was told by my supervisor that I would be losing most of my job duties immediately the next day and he told me he was sorry he did not give me more notice but that he was instructed not to. That it was not only me but also my counterparts in the other human service centers in the state. I was told that part of my accounts payable duties and others that had the same position as me, were going to be done by the Business Managers and the rest of it was going to 2 office assistants at SEHSC who would take over the remainder of our duties statewide. I was told that this decision was made by Donna Aukland. I asked why those positions that were given to SEHSC staff were not posted internally for me or others to apply for and I did not receive an answer, even though Jeff Stenseth was in the meeting and would certainly know why his staff were just handed our duties. I was told that Donna would be giving us new job duties but there has been nothing so far and that the new duties would have nothing to do with anything that I had experience in. I am retiring in January (a little earlier than I intended because of this) and am very bitter that my 15 years with the state is ending this way. I know that the decisions that were made had nothing to do with my job performance because I was excellent in my position as everyone can attest to. What I would like from you is an explanation on how this can happen? How and why would I and others not have been able to at least apply for the job that was being taken away from us and just given to others with no notice? Is this a new direction the state is going in regards to how they treat state employees? Are you the person that can answer my questions or would it be legal or someone else? Your response will not change anything. I will retire in January but like I said, this has had an impact on my mental health and I feel that I am at least owed an explanation and should have asked for it months ago. Marci—

I have not heard from you regarding a time to verbally discuss. Please talk to Donna and Jeff before we talk. If there is one thing I am certain of, it is that laws were broken in not posting the positions given to two Fargo staff for accounts payable entry statewide.

Things are in self destruct mode here at NEHSC which in the end will be good overall for anyone that ends of staying at NEHSC going forward. If anyone does stay.

Thank you for the response Becky. I understand that you are frustrated and I do want to assure that your questions are answered, even though your concerns go back farther than 15 days. In order to look into what your questions are, discussion will need to be held with Jeff Stenseth and Donna Aukland. As you point out, the grievance process is a written process with specific time limits governed by Century Code and Administrative Rule. But that does not mean that issues cannot be resolved by other means.

I would add that when reorganizations occur, certain processes are handled differently, but still are required to be follow State and Federal employment laws. This reorganization would be no different.

I'm not sure when your last day of work is, but would you have any time next week or the following week to connect and we can verbally walk through your concerns?

Subject: RE: Question---are you going to reply or confirm receipt of below email?

Good Morning Marcie,

I know from prior staff that grievances go nowhere and it almost always hurts the staff that files them. I did look at the grievance form and it said that it needed to be filed with 15 days of incident. I am questioning what happened long after 15 days has past and just want a few answers before I retire. I have included others in this email because they need to know what is going on if they are not aware already. I am not going to personally talk to Jeff Stenseth or Donna Aukland about this because I am afraid of what they would potentially do to me.

In further clarification:

I received verbal notification in a meeting (no written notice) from Lynn Bingham with Jeff Stenseth present and a few other staff that were also having some minor duties removed. Again, Lynn apologized for not giving me more notice but said he was instructed not to! I just left Lynn Bingham's office and asked Lynn who he received the instruction from as far as giving me no notice that all my duties were being taken away. He said it was Donna Aukland. He said Donna, in meetings, told all business managers not to say anything to staff until they met with staff the end of July. The meeting occurred at the very end of July and I was told I was losing almost all of accounts payable duties immediately. There was another staff or two in the office that were also losing a few duties but I was the only one losing 90 percent or more along with others in my position in the state. I'm sure this was due to statewide reorganization. That is not the problem or the question. In the meeting it was said that some of my duties, going forward, were going to be required to be done by the business managers and the remainder was being given to two office assistants in SEHSC. I immediately asked why these 2 staff were just given all of my duties other than what the business manager was to do. Lynn Bingham threw out the response that their office was bigger or something to that effect, which of course I knew had nothing to do with anything. Jeff Stenseth sat there and said nothing regarding that.

My questions remain—

- Why didn't the two office assistants have to apply for the jobs they got working on accounts payable for the whole state? Jobs that were taken from others statewide and just given to them? Is it not policy that these positions should have been opened up for me or others to have applied for if we wished? That is a question that I believe you would have the answer to Marcie.
- Why did I get such late notice that my job was disappearing. This, most likely, would be a question for Donna Aukland and Jeff Stenseth.
- Donna Aukland said there would be other duties to replace the ones I lost but I was never given

Body	anything? I do not know if my counterparts statewide were given new duties or not. Also please note that Lynn Bingham asked Donna several times, if I could help him out with duties given to him and Donna said No. I expect that Donna and Jeff will come up with excuses that in their minds they can justify. I however, think it is very sad what they, and possibly their superiors, are doing to so many employees within the state. Jeff Stenseth introduces himself at meetings as the person who they bring in to get rid of staff but that it is not true. I have heard him say this on more than one occasion as has everyone else here. You do not get a reputation for something that is not deserved so of course it is true. I am not certain that he was trying to get rid of me. I do think they were getting rid of my position but there has to be a better way of doing this other than devaluing people that have given many years of service to this state and offering them nothing in return as far as other duties, a buy out or whatever. There are many instances where staff have been treated so badly that they quit or retire but I can't and won't speak for others. All anyone has to do is look at the turnover to know this as a fact. I do want my questions answered and this brought out in the open so hopefully going forward a better process can be in place that treats employees with dignity and respect. Neither of which I feel I was afforded. This is the reason unions are formed to protect employees from being treated the way I have been treated. I have never been a union member or even thought there was a need for unions prior to this but I am , unfortunately, realizing that there is a need. Hi Becky, Thank you for your email, as well as your patience as I have looked into this issue. Based on the information I've been able to ascertain, it appears there was a statewide reorganization that occurred which impacted many different positions. Unfortunately I don't have answers to your specific questions; however, I think it's important that you get them. I also want to assure that you are aware of the grievance policy and your rights under that policy I am not sure if you are inferring that you wish to file a grievance, but regardless, you should receive an answer to the questions you have posed. Can you please confirm for me who you have received what notifications from? That will help me determine next steps. My initial thought is that Jeff Stenseth should be able to answer some of your questions, as he is the senior leader within your chain of command, but I am not certain who you have already talked to or asked these questions of. Also, if you have received any notifications in writing please send those to me. Thank you, Becky, for the work that you do. If you can let me know those two pieces of information I will be able to make some determination as to next steps. Marcie Wuitschick, SHRM-CP, PHR Director, Human Resources ND Department of Human Services 701-328-1290 mwuitschick@nd.gov From: Savaloja, Rebecca L. <rsavaloja@nd.gov> Sent: Tuesday, December 07, 2021 8:46 AM To: Wuitschick, Marcie D. <mwuitschick@nd.gov> Subject: FW: Question---are you going to reply or confirm receipt of below email? From: Savaloja, Rebecca L. Sent: Friday, December 3, 2021 3:13 PM To: Wuitschick, Marcie D. <mwuitschick@nd.gov> Subject: Question Marcie— Something has been bothering me and I would like your input on it. The end of July, I was told by my supervisor that I would be losing most of my job duties immediately the next day and he told me he was sorry he did not give me more notice but that he was instructed not to. That it was not only me but also my counterparts in the other human service centers in the state. I was told that part of my accounts payable duties and others that had the same position as me, were going to be done by the Business Managers and the rest of it was going to 2 office assistants at SEHSC who would take over the remainder of our duties statewide. I was told that this decision was made by Donna Aukland. I asked why those positions that were given to SEHSC staff were not posted internally for me or others to apply for and I did not receive an answer, even though Jeff Stenseth was in the meeting and would certainly know why his staff were just handed our duties. I was told that Donna would be giving us new job duties but there has been nothing so far and that the new duties would have nothing to do with anything that I had experience in. I am retiring in January (a little earlier than I intended because of this) and am very bitter that my 15 years with the state is ending this way. I know that the decisions that were made had nothing to do with my job performance because I was excellent in my position as everyone can attest to. What I would like from you is an explanation on how this can happen? How and why would I and others not have been able to at least apply for the job that was being taken away from us and just given to others with no notice? Is this a new direction the state is going in regards to how they treat state employees? Are you the person that can answer my questions or would it be legal or someone else? Your response will not change anything. I will retire in January but like I said, this has had an impact on my mental health and I feel that I am at least owed an explanation and should have asked for it months ago. Becky, you are correct that I am out. I arranged for a colleague to contact you during my absence to discuss your concerns. Her name is Joanie Pesek and she is ccd on this email. I apologize if this email is duplicate - sending it from my phone.

I would again encourage you to follow your chain of command. You also have the employee grievance process available to you.

In a previous message you suggested that I talk to Donna Aukland and Jeff Stenseth. I do not know all of the questions you have. It would be most appropriate for you to start with Jeff as I believe he is next in your chain of command, but you have refused to do that .

Joanie will be reaching out to you.

I have waited for Marcie to set a time to discuss concerns with me since December 22nd, as she suggested, with no response. Now I see she in on leave until the day I retire. I expect a call from someone regarding my concerns listed below before I retire. All of you have been very good at ignoring my issues and the issues of many, many other staff within the Dept of Human Services hoping they will quietly disappear. I know you are all very aware of the issues and chalking the way you are treating state employees, that have years of service, with never any complaint about their work, under the guise of "restructure" is inhumane or worse. If you are not part of the solution, you are part of the problem as the saying goes.

Wayne, as a prior next door neighbor of yours in Grand Forks, I am including you in this email. I wonder if you have any idea what has been going on in the Department of Human Services for the past while and all the staff that are quitting because of the way they (we) are being treated? I truly believe things need to be looked into very deeply.....starting of course at the top.

I immediately asked why these 2 staff were just given all of my duties other than what the business manager was to do. Lynn Bingham threw out the response that their office was bigger or something to that effect, which of course I knew had nothing to do with anything. Jeff Stenseth sat there and said nothing regarding that. My questions remain— • Why didn't the two office assistants have to apply for the jobs they got working on accounts payable for the whole state? Jobs that were taken from others statewide and just given to them? Is it not policy that these positions should have been opened up for me or others to have applied for if we wished?

That is a question that I believe you would have the answer to Marcie.

- Why did I get such late notice that my job was disappearing. This, most likely, would be a question for Donna Aukland and Jeff Stenseth.
- Donna Aukland said there would be other duties to replace the ones I lost but I was never given anything? I do not know if my counterparts statewide were given new duties or not. Also please note that Lynn Bingham asked Donna several times, if I could help him out with duties given to him and Donna said No.

I expect that Donna and Jeff will come up with excuses that in their minds they can justify. I however, think it is very sad what they, and possibly their superiors, are doing to so many employees within the state. Jeff Stenseth introduces himself at meetings as the person who they bring in to get rid of staff but that it is not true. I have heard him say this on more than one occasion as has everyone else here. You do not get a reputation for something that is not deserved so of course it is true. I am not certain that he was trying to get rid of me. I do think they were getting rid of my position but there has to be a better way of doing this other than devaluing people that have given many years of service to this state and offering them nothing in return as far as other duties, a buy out or whatever. There are many instances where staff have been treated so badly that they quit or retire but I can't and won't speak for others. All anyone has to do is look at the turnover to know this as a fact.

I do want my questions answered and this brought out in the open so hopefully going forward a better process can be in place that treats employees with dignity and respect. Neither of which I feel I was afforded. This is the reason unions are formed to protect employees from being treated the way I have been treated. I have never been a union member or even thought there was a need for unions prior to this but I am , unfortunately, realizing that there is a need.

Thank you

Hi Becky,

Thank you for your email, as well as your patience as I have looked into this issue. Based on the information I've been able to ascertain, it appears there was a statewide reorganization that occurred which impacted many different positions. Unfortunately I don't have answers to your specific questions; however, I think it's important that you get them.

I also want to assure that you are aware of the grievance policy and your rights under that policy I am not sure if you are inferring that you wish to file a grievance, but regardless, you should receive an answer to the questions you have posed.

Can you please confirm for me who you have received what notifications from? That will help me determine next steps. My initial thought is that Jeff Stenseth should be able to answer some of your questions, as he is the senior leader within your chain of command, but I am not certain who you have already talked to or asked these questions of. Also, if you have received any notifications in writing please send those to me.

Thank you, Becky, for the work that you do. If you can let me know those two pieces of information I will be able to make some determination as to next steps.

Subject: Question

Marcie—

Something has been bothering me and I would like your input on it.

The end of July, I was told by my supervisor that I would be losing most of my job duties immediately the next day and he told me he was sorry he did not give me more notice but that he was instructed not to. That it was not only me but also my counterparts in the other human service centers in the state. I was told that part of my accounts payable duties and others that had the same position as me, were going to be done by the Business Managers and the rest of it was going to 2 office assistants at SEHSC who would take over the remainder of our duties statewide. I was told that this decision was made by Donna Aukland. I asked why those positions that were given to SEHSC staff were not posted internally for me or others to apply for and I did not receive an answer, even though Jeff Stenseth was in the meeting and would certainly know why his staff were just handed our duties. I was told that Donna would be giving us new job duties but there has been nothing so far and that the new duties would have nothing to do with anything that I had experience in. I am retiring in January (a little earlier than I intended because of this) and am very bitter that my 15 years with the state is ending this way. I know that the decisions that were made had nothing to do with my job performance because I was excellent in my position as everyone can attest to.

What I would like from you is an explanation on how this can happen? How and why would I and others not have been able to at least apply for the job that was being taken away from us and just given to others with no notice? Is this a new direction the state is going in regards to how they treat state employees? Are you the person that can answer my questions or would it be legal or someone else?

Your response will not change anything. I will retire in January but like I said, this has had an impact on my mental health and I feel that I am at least owed an explanation and should have asked for it months ago.

Thank you

Body	NEWS RELEASE-Office of Attorney General Media contact: Liz Brocker, 701-328-2213 December 13, 2021 STENEHJEM: GIFT CARD SCAMS ON THE INCREASE BISMARCK, ND – As the holidays approach, Attorney General Wayne Stenehjem reminds North Dakotans that gift cards are for gifts. "Only buy gift cards if you are giving them as gifts to family or friends, because gift cards are a favorite tool used by scam artists," cautioned Stenehjem. According to the Federal Trade Commission, many gift card scams start with a phone call from someone impersonating a government agency. Scammers may claim that they will freeze your accounts or threaten to arrest you, unless you make an immediate payment. The scammers will even stay on the phone with their victims while they go to the store to purchase specific gift cards or a prepaid card. Once the victim has purchased the gift cards, the scam artist asks them for the numbers on the back of the cards. Those numbers are all anyone needs to go online from anywhere in the world and transfer the balance of the gift card into their own account. "No government agency ever accepts gift cards to pay a debt," Stenehjem warned. The Attorney General's Consumer Protection division reports that in the last two weeks, they have received nine reports from victims of gift card scams, with losses totaling $45,000. The victims, who range in age from 26 to 75, reportedly fell for different versions of the scam, including: • telephone calls from fake government officials threatening the victim would lose their benefits; • phony sweepstakes officials pretending the victim had won a prize but needed to make an upfront payment; • fake online job listings; and • false account payment error emails supposedly from Amazon and other well- known businesses. "The one thing all these scams had in common is that the victim was told to purchase prepaid cards and gift cards," said Parrell Grossman, director of the Consumer Protection division. "The government and legitimate companies do not demand that you make payments using gift cards. If that is what you are told, it is guaranteed to be a scam," he continued. ### ###

Body	A new Attorney General's Opinion has been issued: Opinion #: 2021-L-04 Date issued: December 30, 2021 Issued to: Ethics Commission Request: Is Article XIV Section 2(5) of the North Dakota State Constitution an unconstitutional restriction of the First Amendment freedom of association, because of its restriction on campaign contributions? Conclusion: Section 2(5) requires recusal of a public official in a quasi-judicial role where there is an appearance of bias to a reasonable person in order to provide a fair tribunal for adjudication of the issue. It does not restrict a party's political speech. Because ND Const. art XIV, Section 2(5) requires recusal and does not limit political speech, it is not manifestly contrary to the federal constitution and therefore, likely to be upheld by a court of competent jurisdiction. As the Supreme Court majority opinion stated, "Although Congress has indisputably given OSHA the power to regulate occupational dangers, it has not given that agency the power to regulate public health more broadly." I can appreciate the distinction the Supreme Court made between the OSHA mandate for workers generally and the CMS mandates for medical workers, but I continue to have serious concerns about the effect the ruling will have on retaining health care workers, many of whom may elect to simply quit rather than get the vaccine, seriously exacerbating staffing issues, especially in our rural medical facilities. As I have emphasized from the beginning, the lawsuits were not about whether people should get vaccinated, they were about opposing federal overreach. Two other lawsuits continue, one against the federal mandate for federal contractors, and the other for employees, volunteers, and children with Head Start programs. # ##

Body	NEWS RELEASE-Office of Attorney General Media contact: Liz Brocker, 701-328-2213 January 13, 2022 Statement of Attorney General Wayne Stenehjem in response to today's Supreme Court decisions on vaccine mandates I am pleased that the Supreme Court, by a 6- 3 vote, held that the federal Occupational Safety & Health Administration lacked constitutional authority under its "workplace safety" regulations to impose a vaccine mandate that would have affected more than 80 million employees across the country. As the Supreme Court majority opinion stated, "Although Congress has indisputably given OSHA the power to regulate occupational dangers, it has not given that agency the power to regulate public health more broadly." I can appreciate the distinction the Supreme Court made between the OSHA mandate for workers generally and the CMS mandates for medical workers, but I continue to have serious concerns about the effect the ruling will have on retaining health care workers, many of whom may elect to simply quit rather than get the vaccine, seriously exacerbating staffing issues, especially in our rural medical facilities. As I have emphasized from the beginning, the lawsuits were not about whether people should get vaccinated, they were about opposing federal overreach. Two other lawsuits continue, one against the federal mandate for federal contractors, and the other for employees, volunteers, and children with Head Start programs. ###

Body	NEWS RELEASE-Office of Attorney General Media contact: Liz Brocker, 701-328-2213 January 14, 2022 ATTORNEY GENERAL STENEHJEM WORKS TO STOP INTERNATIONAL SCAM CALLS BISMARCK, ND – This week, Attorney General Wayne Stenehjem joined a bipartisan group of attorneys general in urging the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to adopt measures to help stem the tide of foreign-based illegal robocalls that attempt to scam Americans. "Illegal robocalls are more than just a nuisance. Every day, my office receives reports from victims of these scam calls. Unfortunately, when consumers unwittingly respond to these calls, they may lose thousands of dollars, often with financially devastating results. I will continue my efforts to protect North Dakotans," said Stenehjem, who reminded consumers not to accept or return any of these calls under any circumstances. The comment letter, which was signed by the attorneys general from all 50 states, calls for the FCC to require "gateway providers" – companies that allow foreign calls into the United States – to take steps to reduce how easily robocalls have been able to enter the US telephone network, including requiring those providers to implement caller ID technology that helps prevent spoofed calls. The letter states that based upon consumer complaints, these fraudulent foreign-originated robocalls often involve caller ID spoofing US phone numbers. The attorneys general called on the FCC to take decisive action, stating "[T]he time has come to start cutting the strings that form the nets that these illegal robocallers cast over the public." The attorneys general asked the FCC to require these gateway providers to take additional steps to reduce robocalls, including to: • Block calls when providers are aware of an illegal or likely fraudulent caller. • Block calls that originate from numbers that are on a "do not originate" list – such as government phone numbers that take incoming calls only. • Ensure that foreign telephone companies they partner with are ensuring that calls are being made from legitimate numbers. • Respond to requests from law enforcement, state attorneys general, or the FCC to trace back calls within 24 hours. The attorneys general encouraged the FCC to require all phone companies to block calls from any gateway provider that fails to meet these requirements. Illegal robocalls are a scourge – in 2020, Americans lost more than $520 million through robocall scams. ### Read the Comment Letter: https://attorneygeneral.nd.gov/sites/ag/files/documents/MediaAttachments/2022-01-14-Robocalls-FCC.pdf

Body	A new Attorney General's Opinion (Open Records/Meetings) has been issued: Opinion #: 2022-O-01 Date issued: January 19, 2022 Issued to: Stark County Commission Request: Did the Stark County Commission violate the open records laws by failing to respond to a request within a reasonable time and by improperly denying a record request? Conclusion: At the time Stark County received the request for records relating to finalist applications for a human resources position, the County was experiencing staff turnover, illness, and an election. As a result, the county took 11 days to acknowledge the response. The County initially denied the request on the ground that there were no finalists designated. When the County realized the denial was based on misinformation, it voluntarily provided the records. Although the initial denial was correct based on the information available at the time, and the county provided the records as soon as the error was realized, the delay acknowledging the request and eventually providing records was unreasonable. You can view this opinion at: UNREASONABLE DELAY IN RESPONDING TO RECORDS Stark County Commission violated the law when it took eleven days to acknowledge a request for records, failed to communicate with the requester about the delay, and ultimately took more than two months to provide the records. https://attorneygeneral.nd.gov/sites/ag/files/documents/Opinions/2022/OR-OM/2022-O-01.pdf North Dakota Office of Attorney General Wayne Stenehjem Attorney General

Body	A new Attorney General's Opinion (Open Records/Meetings) has been issued: Opinion #: 2022-O-02 Date issued: January 19, 2022 Issued to: Hettinger Public School Request: Did Hettinger Public School violate the open meetings laws by failing to properly describe the subject matter and legal authority before entering an executive session and by holding an unauthorized executive session? Conclusion: At its regular meeting, the Hettinger School Board received a letter from the Hettinger Agriculture Education Advisory Board Committee recommending that a part-time teaching position become full-time. The Board then passed a motion to enter an executive session to "discuss negotiating strategy." The meeting notice failed to provide any information to the public about the topic of the executive session. During the approximately 41-minute executive session no actual negotiation discussion took place; rather, the board members talked unrelated topics. The board's announcement before entering the executive session failed to convey a specific topic to be discussed. The executive session failed to meet the legal authority and the discussed topics outside the announced topics. In these respects, the Board violated the law. The Board must provide, at no cost, the recording or transcript of the executive session. You can view this opinion at: HETTINGER PUBLIC SCHOOL VIOLATED OPEN MEETING LAW Hettinger Public School Board violated the open meetings law by holding an executive session without the proper legal authority and then by discussing topics outside those that were announced. https://attorneygeneral.nd.gov/sites/ag/files/documents/Opinions/2022/OR-OM/2022-O-02.pdf North Dakota Office of Attorney General Wayne Stenehjem Attorney General

A $150,000 Powerball with Power Play ticket for last night's draw won big by matching four white balls and the Powerball. The winning numbers were 11, 15, 43, 55, 61 and the Powerball was 10. The Power Play multiplier was 3. The lucky ticket was sold at Superpumper #80246, 1833 East Main Avenue, in Bismarck. The prize was $50,000, but as the player had also purchased the Power Play option, the ticket is worth $150,000. Superpumper will receive a $2,000 bonus for selling the winning Powerball ticket. No one has contacted the Lottery office to claim the prize. "January has been an extremely lucky month for North Dakota Powerball players," said Randy Miller, director of the North Dakota Lottery. "Since 2018, January has produced four $100,000 Powerball winners, one $150,000 winner and two $1 Million winners." Winners have 180 days from the date of the drawing to claim their prize. The Powerball jackpot for the Saturday, January 22 draw is $76 million. For winning numbers and other information, visit us on the web at LOTTERY.ND.GOV. ###

Pr ogramming for middle and high school students can present a major challenge, especially wh en combatting just how busy of lives teens typically live. The middle and high school year s offer more opportunities for classes and extracurriculars, as well as work outside of sc hool. Then, thereâ€™s the balance of keeping up with social groups, hopefully getting enou gh sleep, and finding time to maybe (just maybe) sit down for meals instead of eating on t he go. In short, teens have a lot going on, and school libraries want to fit into teensâ€™ priority lists! <di v align="justify" style="text-align:justify">One of the best ways to accommodate f or teensâ€™ hectic schedules involves using passive or anti-program activities. Schadlich clarifies anti-programs as activities that are left up for an extended period (such as a w hole week) and can be conducted at teensâ€™ leisure (2015). Schadlichâ€™s book Cookin g Up Library Programs Teens and â€˜Tweens Will Love outlines various options for anti -programming ideas and is available at the North Dakota State Library. < /div> Another way to draw in tweens and teens is through Teen Advisory Boards. A Teen Ad visory Board (TAB) puts teens at the forefront of their own library programming. TABs can be as active or inactive as their participants (and library personnel) want. Some activiti es TABs have been involved in include helping run school book fairs, creating promotional materials for the library, and planning and running events for peers.  Read More </td>< /tr></tbody></table> </td></tr></tbody></table><table width="100%" cellpadding="0" ce llspacing="0" border="0" class="galileo-ap-layout-editor" style="min-width:100%"><tbody><t r><td class=" editor-col OneColumnMobile" width="100%" align="" valign="top"><table class="editor-divider" width="100%" cellpadding="0" cellspacing ="0" border="0" style="min-width:100%"><tbody><tr><td class="" align="center" valign="top" ><table width="100%" class="galileo-ap-content-editor" style="min-width:100%"><tbody><tr>< td class="divider-base divider-solid" width="100%" align="center" valign="top" style="padd

Body	Good morning. I am sorry to say that I will be missing todays years of service award's ceremony. I was looking forward to coming and seeing everyone and receiving my years of service recognition in person. However, the roads are not the best, slippery. It is a cold and windy ND day and not ideal for 7 hours of driving. I can't believe I have nearly 21.5 years of combined service to Grand Forks County and the State. Time flies. Thank you both for giving me the opportunity to do the work that I do and for being wonderful to work with/for. I hope to see you soon. Merry Christmas. Regulatory Potholes Loom For Expanding Electric Fleet

Plenty of recent groundwork has been laid for getting more electric vehicles on the road, but solid regulatory frameworks for EV infrastructure must still be erected in order to kick electrification efforts into high gear. Here, policy experts identify five regulatory issues that must be addressed in order to accelerate EV deployment in the U.S.

Body	FYI: As separate example, not the one alluded to in the e-mail below, Missy Steele received the photo gallery for birth pictures for one of her daughter's friends, and it shows the child's birthdate. In addition to other obvious concerns, I believe this constitutes a data breach by Glasser and Shootproof. All any recipient needs to do is to enter someone's e-mail address.  CAUTION: This email originated from an outside source. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know they are safe. *****

Colleagues,

The Ninth Circuit issued an opinion at the end of December affirming the class action settlement in In Re Google Inc. Street View Electronic Communications Litigation (opinion attached). Your AGs previously signed on to the amicus brief that we filed in the Ninth Circuit in August 2020 (also attached).

As a reminder, this is a case where the settlement creates a $13 million cash fund, but the entire fund is being sent to class counsel, class representatives, and cy pres recipients. Additionally, the settlement's injunctive

Body	relief mirrored relief already obtained by 39 State AGs in 2013. Judge Bade wrote the opinion for the court, affirming the district court's order certifying the class, approving the settlement agreement, and awarding attorneys' fees. But Judge Bade also wrote a separate concurrence expressing general concerns about cy pres awards. The objector has filed a petition for rehearing and rehearing en banc (attached). We intend to file a short amicus brief in support of the petition. Our brief will focus on the importance of this issue, as evidenced by the Supreme Court granting a petition in a similar case a few years ago (in which they ultimately did not reach the merits). We will also include some of the language in our original brief about cy pres in class actions generally. The brief is due January 20th, but because of the quick turnaround, we may not be able to circulate until a day or two before and wanted to give you advance notice of the request to join. If you have any questions in the meantime, please feel free to reach out to me, Keena, or Beau. And the settlement's injunctive relief mirrored relief already obtained by 39 State AGs in 2013. Colleagues,

Attached is a draft of the below mentioned brief, which we are still editing and finalizing. Much of this information was already in our coalition's earlier brief in this appeal.

The brief is due tomorrow night. If you would like to continue to be a part of this coalition, please let us know by no later than 6 p.m. EST tomorrow (Thursday, 1/20). If we do not hear from you by that time, we will assume that you do not want to be included on this brief.

As always, please feel free to reach out to us with any questions or suggestions.

Street View Electronic Communications Litigation* (opinion attached). Your AGs previously signed on to the amicus brief that we filed in the Ninth Circuit in August 2020 (also attached). As a reminder, this is a case where the settlement creates a $13 million cash fund, but the entire fund is being sent to class counsel, class representatives, and cy pres recipients. Additionally, the settlement's injunctive relief mirrored relief already obtained by 39 State AGs in 2013. Judge Bade wrote the opinion for the court, affirming the district court's order certifying the class, approving the settlement agreement, and awarding attorneys' fees. But Judge Bade also wrote a separate concurrence expressing general concerns about cy pres awards. The objector has filed a petition for rehearing and rehearing en banc (attached). We intend to file a short amicus brief in support of the petition. Our brief will focus on the importance of this issue, as evidenced by the Supreme Court granting a petition in a similar case a few years ago (in which they ultimately did not reach the merits). We will also include some of the language in our original brief about cy pres in class actions generally. The brief is due January 20th, but because of the quick turnaround, we may not be able to circulate until a day or two before and wanted to give you advance notice of the request to join. If you have any questions in the meantime, please feel free to reach out to me, Keena, or Beau. ATTORNEY GENERAL NEWS

ORGANIZED RETAIL CRIME

The Attorney General Alliance Organized Retail Crime Working Group held a discussion on Monday, led by Illinois Attorney General Kwame Raoul informing State Attorneys General and their staff on how to identify and combat the recent trend of organized retail criminals targeting businesses. He highlighted his recent successful recovery of stolen goods from a retail theft ring his office investigated.

AGA and Illinois Attorney General brought attention to this crucial issue affecting Attorneys General all over the United States; discussing the importance of the investigation and prosecution of these retail criminals.

HUMAN TRAFFICKING

California Attorney General Rob Bonta announced securing guilty pleas from three additional individuals involved in an organized crime trafficking ring that operated across California . As a result of the guilty pleas, Pengcheng Cai, Dafeng Wen, and Peishin Lee will be required to serve prison sentences of up to approximately eight years in prison for sex trafficking, labor trafficking, and money laundering. The guilty pleas announced are in addition to a sentence of 10 years and eight months previously secured against Jing Chiang Huang. The guilty pleas are the result of a cooperative investigation by the California Department of Justice, Ventura County Sheriff's Office, Contra Costa District Attorney's Office, and several other local, state, and federal law enforcement agencies.

Kentucky Attorney General Daniel Cameron announced that his office was awarded a $600,000 federal grant from the Department of Justice (DOJ) to develop a transitional and short-term housing-assistance program for survivors of human trafficking.

The Attorney General's Office of Trafficking and Abuse Prevention and Prosecution (TAPP) will develop the program in partnership with Refuge for Women, a nonprofit recovery program for survivors of human trafficking and sexual exploitation. The housing-assistance program will offer survivors the option to participate in a communal- site, transitional- housing program in Garrard County or a short- term housing assistance program. Both options will include case- management support from professionals within the Refuge for Women organization and assistance from community survivors.

Georgia Attorney General Chris Carr announced the office's Human Trafficking Prosecution Unit has rescued an underage victim and arrested four individuals in Fulton County for Human Trafficking, among other charges, following an extensive 10- month investigation. To date, the Human Trafficking Prosecution Unit has initiated 25 cases, arrested 9 individuals, investigated and prosecuted 51 defendants, and rescued and assisted 107 victims this year.

New Mexico Attorney General Hector Balderas announces that New Mexico- based U.S. Eagle Federal Credit Union is the first financial institution to become certified in the country for outstanding U.S. monetary banking protocols in banking cannabis and hemp operations.

This honor is part of a financial services certification program overseen by the Policy Center for Public Health & Safety (PH&S) in collaboration with state attorneys general. It is also part of a broader certification effort being implemented by ASTM International and PH&S. The certification brings banking and financial transparency to ensure the safety of the monetary system for those institutions that bank hemp and cannabis.

Lowe's announced that it will donate $1 million to support immediate relief and recovery efforts after tornadoes cut through Kentucky and the nation's heartland , causing catastrophic and unprecedented damage. The $1 million donation will assist Lowe's disaster relief partners including the American Red Cross and Lowe's nonprofit Pro customers, helping these organizations and others provide emergency shelter, critical relief supplies, food, blood center operations and comfort to those affected by the deadly tornadoes. This year, Lowe's has committed more than $4 million to support disaster relief.

Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) issued a series of orders to five companies offering â€œbuy now, pay laterâ€ (BNPL) credit. The orders to collect information on the risks and benefits of these fast- growing loans went to Affirm, Afterpay, Klarna, PayPal, and Zip. The CFPB is concerned about accumulating debt, regulatory arbitrage, and data harvesting in a consumer credit market already quickly changing with technology. Buy now, pay later credit is a type of deferred payment option that generally allows the consumer to split a purchase into smaller installments, typically four or less, often with a down payment of 25 percent due at checkout. The application process is quick, involving relatively little information from the consumer, and the product often comes with no interest . The law requires that the CFPB monitor consumer financial markets and enables the agency to require market players to submit information to inform this monitoring.

Former Human Trafficking Victim to Provide Keynote Address at Summit

The office of Ohio Attorney General Dave Yost announced that Cyntoia Brown- Long, a nationally recognized advocate for criminal justice reform and victims of human trafficking, will be the keynote speaker for the attorney generalâ€™s third annual Human Trafficking Summit on Jan. 13, 2022.

The Human Trafficking Summit, to be held virtually for the second consecutive year due to COVID- 19 concerns, will feature 16 workshops offering valuable information and resources for healthcare providers, law enforcement, court personnel, advocates, survivors, and community members. Much like the workshop's and the summitâ€™s targeted audience, the fight against human trafficking is multifaceted.

Registration for the summit is open and costs $25.

ORGANIZED RETAIL CRIME

Attorney General Rob Bonta was recently interviewed by NPR. In the interview, he spoke of the recent activity in Organized Retail Crime in California. Bonta says a pattern is emerging where people use social media platforms to help hatch a plan and then sell the stolen goods online. He said websites and tech companies had a role to play in fighting this.

*"The evidence we have demonstrates that these are organized retail crimes, it is multiple individuals planning, strategizing, targeting a store or stores and then implementing that plan and then taking the proceeds that they've stolen and reselling them on secondary marketplaces to make a profit." - - California Attorney General Rob Bonta

WORKER RIGHTS

California Attorney General Rob Bonta led a multistate coalition of 11 states in urging the U.S. Department of Labor (DOL) to finalize rules clarifying that fiduciaries of private- sector employee retirement plans, such as 401(k) plans, can consider environmental, social, and governance (ESG) factors when making investment decisions. Fiduciaries â€" including investment managers â€" are legally mandated to make decisions in the best interest of the people whose money they manage, in this case the millions of employees who put some of their income each month into an employer- sponsored retirement plan. By allowing fiduciaries to consider ESG factors, particularly the costs and impacts of climate change, fiduciaries can make investment decisions that better address the long- term investment horizons of the employees they represent.

ENVIRONMENTAL

Alabama Attorney General Steve Marshall is leading a national coalition of 18 attorneys general to include the attorneys general of Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Texas, Utah, West Virginia and Wyoming. They are urging the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service not to reimpose costly and unnecessary restrictions of private property rights.

The issue involves the Endangered Species Act and the federal governmentâ€™s authority to designate land or water as â€œcritical habitatâ€ for species the government considers endangered. Property that receives this designation is often subject to stringent restrictions that can greatly reduce its utility and value.

In a letter to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the National Marine Fisheries Service, Attorney General Marshall and the other attorneys general urged the agencies to reject the efforts to roll back the reformed regulations. Under current rules, an area may be designated as critical habitat only if it currently or periodically has the conditions and resources to support a species, and not just because such conditions could be developed in the future. Furthermore, current rules provide an important balance, providing analysis of economic impact and whether excluding an area from critical habitat would result in extinction of a species.

IMMIGRATION

Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton has announced that the â€œRemain in Mexicoâ€ (MPP) program has been restored through a permanent injunction. United States Fifth Circuit Judge Andrew Oldham affirmed the trial courtâ€™s decision against the current Administration in a thorough, 117- page opinion. MPP is a policy that requires immigrants seeking to enter the U.S. illegally to remain in Mexico until U.S. courts can rule upon their immigration status.

Approximately 70,000 illegal immigrants were apprehended and assigned to the MPP program from early 2019 until early 2021, when the current Administration discontinued it. The number of illegal immigrants crossing the U.S.- Mexico border has more than doubled since then.

In the amicus brief filed before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit, the coalition highlights the critical contributions of hundreds of thousands of DACA recipients to public health efforts, the economy, and communities across the country. Since 2012, DACA has provided access to work authorization and protected from removal approximately 825,000 individuals, who grew up in this country, most of whom have known no home other than the United States.

CONSUMER PROTECTION

Pennsylvania Attorney General Josh Shapiro announced that Pennsylvania based THS Group, LLC â€" more commonly known as Total Home Protection â€" and its owner has agreed to pay $400,000 in restitution as part of a settlement of the lawsuit filed by the Office of Attorney General against the home security company for deceptive marketing practices. With the settlement, THS and the owner have agreed to revise their business practices.

THS advertised and sold home warranty â€œservice contractsâ€ to consumers, many of whom were elderly or otherwise vulnerable, in Pennsylvania and dozens of other states. The settlement agreement prohibits THS from, among other things, using advertisements for service contracts that contradict the terms of the service contracts themselves and engaging in unfair and deceptive conduct to deny coverage. THS is required to make meaningful, substantial, and specific changes to its business practices.

Oregon Attorney General Ellen Rosenblum co- led a bipartisan letter from 33 Attorneys General to Rohit Chopra, Director of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) calling for stronger consumer safeguards for money sharing platforms and apps. Popular payment apps include Apple Pay, Venmo, Square, Zelle, and others. The Attorneys General highlight a rise in consumer complaints related to these payment platforms, especially complaints from consumers about difficulties reaching customer service representatives, inability to retrieve funds, and fraudulent money transfers by third- party scammers. These payment platforms are sometimes marketed as a solution for consumers without access to traditional banks, even though these apps are not considered a bank. The letter addresses three major issues with the platforms - customer service, account access, and third-party scams.

Amicus Brief

CONSUMER PROTECTION

Pennsylvania Attorney General Josh Shapiro announced that Pennsylvania based THS Group, LLC â€" more commonly known as Total Home Protection â€" and its owner has agreed to pay $400,000 in restitution as part of a settlement of the lawsuit filed by the Office of Attorney General against the home security company for deceptive marketing practices. With the settlement, THS and the owner have agreed to revise their business practices.

THS advertised and sold home warranty â€œservice contractsâ€ to consumers, many of whom were elderly or otherwise vulnerable, in Pennsylvania and dozens of other states. The settlement agreement prohibits THS from, among other things, using advertisements for service contracts that contradict the terms of the service contracts themselves and engaging in unfair and deceptive conduct to deny coverage. THS is required to make meaningful, substantial, and specific changes to its business practices.

Press Release

Oregon Attorney General Ellen Rosenblum co- led a bipartisan letter from 33 Attorneys General to Rohit Chopra, Director of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) calling for stronger consumer safeguards for money sharing platforms and apps. Popular payment apps include Apple Pay, Venmo, Square, Zelle, and others. The Attorneys General highlight a rise in consumer complaints related to these payment platforms, especially complaints from consumers about difficulties reaching customer service representatives, inability to retrieve funds, and fraudulent money transfers by third- party scammers. These payment platforms are sometimes marketed as a solution for consumers without access to traditional banks, even though these apps are not considered a bank. The letter addresses three major issues with the platforms - customer service, account access, and third-party scams.

National Human Trafficking Prevention and Awareness Month

National Human Trafficking Awareness Day is recognized each year on January 11th

ATTORNEY GENERAL ALLIANCE

HUMAN TRAFFICKING

The office of Ohio Attorney General Dave Yost announced the attorney generalâ€™s third annual Human Trafficking Summit to be held on Thursday, January 13, 2022.

The Human Trafficking Summit, to be held virtually for the second consecutive year due to COVID- 19 concerns, will feature 16 workshops offering valuable information and resources. Much like the workshops and the summitâ€™s targeted audience, the fight against human trafficking is multifaceted. Registration for the summit is open and costs $25.

Click to Register

The Office of the Michigan Attorney General Dana Nessel and the Michigan Human Trafficking Commission work to provide general updates and awareness information on human trafficking to keep the public informed. â€œAddressing Human Trafficking in Health Care Settings,â€ created by The University of Michiganâ€™s Human Trafficking Collaborative, is an excellent training on human trafficking for health professionals.

Attorney General Ashley Moody is recognizing National Human Trafficking Prevention Month by highlighting resources to help Floridians spot and report the crime. According to the most recent study by Polaris, Florida ranks third highest in the number of calls to the National Human Trafficking Hotline. It is important to remember that human trafficking can happen anywhere at any time. Raising public awareness of this evil trade will help law enforcement rescue victims and save lives.

Fighting human trafficking is a major priority for Attorney General Moody, who serves as Chair on the Statewide Council on Human Trafficking. The council consists of 15 members who work to build on existing state and local partnerships to combat human trafficking.

Last October, Attorney General Moody kicked off the 2021 Human Trafficking Summit. The summit is being offered virtually for the second year in a row and brings together l eaders to eradicate all forms of trafficking. That same month, Attorney General Moody and FLHSMV celebrated the one-year anniversary of Highway Heroes.

â€œHuman trafficking is an atrocious crime and if we are going to end this illicit practice in Florida, it will take all of us working together. In recognition of this important month, I am calling on Floridians to learn the signs of human trafficking and how to alert law enforcement to suspicious behavior.â€

Montana Attorney General Austin Knudsen joined Governor Greg Gianforte in declaring January Slavery and Human Trafficking Prevention Month in Montana and encouraging Montanans to be part of the solution to end human trafficking. The Attorney General and Governor were joined by Montana Highway Patrol Colonel Steve Lavin and representatives from the HER Campaign and The LifeGuard Group â€“ two non-profit organizations combatting human trafficking in Montana.

Human trafficking is a form of modern- day slavery whereby traffickers, which are often organized criminal enterprises, profit at the expense of adults or children by compelling them to perform labor or engage in commercial sex. It has been on the rise in Montana in recent years. Attorney General Knudsen will continue to raise awareness of human trafficking during January by visiting communities across the state to address the issue with local law enforcement and encourage prevention efforts.

â€œHuman trafficking and sexual slavery are happening in Montana and we canâ€™t ignore it. Thatâ€™s why fighting human trafficking is one of my top priorities as Attorney General. These are not victimless crimes and ignoring the problem will not make them go away. I urge every Montanan to join us in our fight to eliminate human trafficking â€“ educate yourself about the problem, learn the signs, and report suspected human traffickers.â€
--Montana Attorney General Austin Knudsen

In 2020, the National Beer Wholesalers Association launched an initiative entitled, Distributors Against Human Trafficking, to help combat human trafficking in the United States. Working alongside state attorneys general, NBWA created an awareness training video to help more than 140,000 beer distribution employees in the U.S. recognize and report signs of human trafficking. Beer distributors are uniquely positioned to help fight this heinous crime given their level of access to locations often unseen by the public as they visit around 600,000 licensed retail locations across the country.

OPIOIDS

Nevada Attorney General Aaron D. Ford announced that Nevada will receive almost $285.2 million for the fight against the opioid epidemic from a multitude of sources, including a federal grant and settlements with an opioid manufacturer and distributors.

The money will come from three sources: a multistate settlement with the three largest opioid distributors; an agreement with opioid manufacturer Johnson & Johnson and its U.S.-based Janssen Pharmaceutical Companies; and a grant from the U.S. Department of Justice to increase rural countiesâ€™ access to mitigation and health programs.

Body

Earlier this year, the state, along with all Nevada counties, and cities that currently have active litigation against opioid companies, came to an agreement on the intrastate allocation of funds from opioid- related recoveries. Nevada will participate in a $26 billion opioid settlement with the three largest opioid distributors â€" AmerisourceBergen, Cardinal Health and McKesson â€" that will bring much- needed resources to Nevada. Attorney General Ford decided to join the multistate settlement with the three major distributors in order to ensure what is best for Nevada and its residents.

This settlement with the three major opioid distributors hold them accountable through a monetary payment and strict injunctive terms for their actions in creating and fueling the opioid epidemic. The agreement will require the distributors to establish a centralized independent clearinghouse to provide regulators with aggregated data and analytics about where opioids are going and how often; use data- driven systems to detect suspicious opioid orders from pharmacies; and report companies to state regulators when they show signs of diversion, among other important terms.

"The funds that our state will receive going forward will help us save lives and mitigate the harms done to our residents because of the ongoing opioid epidemic. Our team has worked diligently to get Nevada the resources we must have to help Nevadans in need in one of the epidemic's hardest-hit states, and to obtain justice from many opioid manufacturers and distributors. While no settlement will bring back those lost to opioids, these funds will be used to prevent further loss of life and help heal Nevada's families."
--Nevada Attorney General Ford

MISSING INDIGENOUS WOMEN & PEOPLE

Washington Attorney General Bob Ferguson announced that he is working with Rep. Debra Lekanoff, D- Anacortes, to propose a bill in the next legislative session to create an alert in Washington state to help identify and locate missing Indigenous women and people. The alert, similar to â€œsilver alertsâ€ for missing vulnerable adults, will broadcast information about missing Indigenous people on message signs and in highway advisory radio messages when activated, as well as through press releases to local and regional media.

This will be the first alert system specifically for missing and murdered Indigenous women and people in the country. Indigenous women and people go missing and are murdered at rates higher than any other ethnic group in the United States. In Washington, more than four times as many Indigenous women go missing than white women, according to research conducted by the Urban Indian Health Institute in Seattle.

Wyoming Attorney General Bridget Hill and Hawaii Attorney General Holly T. Shikada joined Minnesota Attorney General Keith Ellison as he led a bipartisan coalition of 16 attorneys general in sending a letter to U.S. Department of Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack, with recommendations to improve competition in the livestock industry.

The letter raises concerns about the increasing concentration in meatpacking and offers solutions to aid USDA in efforts to strengthen enforcement under the Packers and Stockyards Act. The Packers and Stockyards Act, which dates to 1921, was intended to address unfair, deceptive, and anti-competitive practices in meat markets.

Without increased enforcement and government oversight, the promise of the Packers and Stockyard Act is in jeopardy. In the letter, the bipartisan coalition provides several recommendations for Fair and Competitive Markets.

The Wyoming Attorney General was joined by the attorneys general of Minnesota, Iowa, California , Delaware, Hawaii , Illinois, Idaho, Maryland, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Dakota, and Utah.

Kentucky Attorney General Daniel Cameron joined officials from the City of Mayfield and Graves County to launch an emergency contractor registration program to register contractors looking to assist storm victims.

The program aims to prevent â€œfly- by- nightâ€ contractors that often enter areas affected by natural disasters in an attempt to take advantage of consumers. The program requires contractors to register prior to doing business. Registered contractors will be issued placards, which must be displayed on their job sites and in the contractorâ€™s vehicle. The program will also provide scam and fraud prevention information to Kentuckians affected by the tornadoes and storms.

New Jersey Acting Attorney General Andrew J. Bruck announced that the Division on Civil Rights (DCR) has adopted new rules that expand opportunities for people with criminal records to find safe, affordable housing. The new rules codify the Fair Chance in Housing Act, which took effect on January 1, 2022.

Due to racial disparities in the criminal justice system, practices that restrict housing opportunities for people with criminal histories have disproportionately affected people of color, especially Black people. By signing the Fair Chance in Housing Act into law last year, Governor Phil Murphy furthered his Administrationâ€™s commitment to taking action to dismantle systemic racial disparities that have been allowed to exist for too long in New Jersey, while reducing housing instability that can contribute to recidivism.

With limited exceptions, the Fair Chance in Housing Act and DCRâ€™s new rules bar housing providers who have not yet made a conditional offer from requiring applicants to fill out any type of form that includes questions about their criminal background.

NEW VIRGINIA ATTORNEY GENERAL

Virginia Attorney General Jason Miyares was recently sworn- in as the stateâ€™s first Latino attorney general. Virginiaâ€™s new attorney general is proud of his Cuban-American heritage and proud of his record of public service.

A former commonwealth's attorney and state delegate from Virginia Beach, Virginia, Miyares said he will be impartial in upholding the law. â€œI want to be an attorney general who will call balls and strikes,â€ he said. â€œThe attorney general does not take an oath of allegiance to any individual, and certainly not to any political party or political leader. My allegiance will be to the U.S. Constitution, the Virginia Constitution and the people of Virginia.

NOTABLE

Ohio Attorney General Dave Yost applauds Jonathan Blanton, a member of his executive team, who was recently honored with the 2021 Senior Staff of the Year Award. This award is given to a member of an attorney generalâ€™s management staff who has distinguished himself/herself through exemplary leadership, expertise and achievement.

Blanton has served as a leader nationally in the statesâ€™ ongoing battle to hold the offending drug companies accountable, monitoring and communicating with counsel for all parties in the opioids multidistrict litigation (MDL). Blanton has earned national acclaim and respect for his role in the extended opioids- litigation fight; more important, his work ethic, intelligence and leadership will have a real impact in communities throughout Ohio and the rest of the country.

"There is no one more deserving of this national recognition than Jonathan Blanton (â€œJBâ€) JBâ€™s passion for holding the drug manufacturers and distributors responsible for the devastation they wreaked and his commitment to ensuring that hard- hit areas of Ohio would not be forgotten in any approved settlement were nothing short of amazing.â€

January
HUMAN TRAFFICKING Awareness Month

Michigan Attorney General Dana Nessel and Governor Gretchen Whitmer are highlighting resources available and important work being done to combat trafficking. AG Nesselâ€™s Human Trafficking Initiative prosecutes traffickers and provides training throughout the state. Since its inception, 34 individuals have been arrested on human trafficking charges. While several cases are currently pending, 25 convictions have been secured thus far.

Since 2019 alone, in over 30 presentations, the initiative provided human trafficking training to approximately 200 law enforcement professionals, 350 legal professionals, 300 victim service providers, 800 medical professionals, as many as 1,000 various other professionals and about 300 members of the public. Information and educational tools are available on the initiativeâ€™s website. The Department of Attorney General is also home to the Michigan Human Trafficking Commission.

California Attorney General Rob Bonta highlighted resources available to businesses and members of the public to help combat human trafficking and support survivors. California law requires certain businesses and establishments to post notices that provide information and resources for survivors and the public regarding human trafficking. The Attorney General urges businesses and members of the public across the state to use these resources to help federal, state, and local authorities and community organizations combat human trafficking in California.

Press Release

â€œEvery year, there are thousands of reported human trafficking cases across the United States â€" including right here in California. Whether itâ€™s for sex or labor, abusing power to force or coerce someone into doing something against their will is wrong. At the California Department of Justice, weâ€™re committed to standing up for survivors, disrupting and dismantling human trafficking rings, and securing justice. However, it takes all of us to combat human trafficking. I urge businesses across the state to use the resources weâ€™re sharing today to help put an end to trafficking in California. If you or someone you know has been affected by human trafficking, there are resources available to you. You are not alone.â€

Virginia Attorney General Mark R. Herring announced that the Hampton Roads Human Trafficking Task Force (Task Force) has been selected as one of two sites nationally to participate in the federal TraffickSTOP (Signs To Observe and Prevent) pilot program to educate high school youth about human trafficking. This program will be a collaboration between the Task Force, the Newport News Police Department, and Newport News Public Schools. Attorney General Herring was instrumental in the creation of the Hampton Roads Human Trafficking Task Force and the Task Force Coordinator is housed in the Office of the Attorney General.

TraffickSTOP is both a human trafficking identification and prevention curriculum for high school students, as well as training for law enforcement to deliver the curriculum in schools. Newport News School resource officers will deliver the curriculum to students, along with members of the Hampton Roads Human Trafficking Task Force and others, and with support from other community stakeholders.

Press Release

â€œI am incredibly proud of the work that the Hampton Roads Human Trafficking Task Force has done to combat human trafficking in the region, and their selection to participate in this program shows just how impactful their work has been. The sad reality is that unscrupulous people will prey on young, impressionable people, which is why itâ€™s so important that Virginiaâ€™s youth are armed with the tools they need to help protect themselves and others.â€

ROBOCALLS

A bipartisan group of 51 attorneys general is working to stop international scam calls. In a comment letter, the coalition urged the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to put in place measures that will help stem the tide of foreign- based illegal robocalls that attempt to scam Americans.

The 51 attorneys general are calling for the FCC to require gateway providers â€" the companies that allow foreign calls into the United States â€" to take steps to reduce how easily robocalls have been able to enter the U.S. telephone network, including implementing STIR/SHAKEN, a caller ID authentication technology that helps prevent spoofed calls. Gateway providers should be required to implement this technology within 30 days of it becoming a rule to help eliminate spoofed calls and to make sure that international calls that originate from U.S. telephone numbers are legitimate. In December the coalition of 51 attorneys general successfully persuaded the FCC to shorten by a year the deadline for smaller telephone companies to implement STIR/SHAKEN.

The attorneys general are also encouraging the FCC to require all phone companies to block calls from a gateway provider if it fails to meet these requirements. Illegal robocalls are a scourge â€" in 2020, Americans lost more than $520 million through robocall scams.

Attorneys General in the coalition that joined in sending this letter to the FCC includes Alabama, Alaska, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

STUDENT DEBT

A bipartisan coalition of 39 attorneys general secured $1.85 billion from Navient, one of the nationâ€™s largest student loan servicers, resolving allegations of widespread unfair and deceptive student loan servicing practices and abuses in originating predatory student loan and resolved allegations that Navient harmed student borrowers. As part of the total $1.85 billion in relief, Navient will pay $1.7 billion in debt forgiveness and $95 million in restitution to former students across the country. The settlement agreement, which concludes a nearly five- year investigation into the company, states that Navient will also reform its practices and pay penalties of $46.9 million to the states.

ORGANIZED RETAIL CRIME

Florida Attorney General Ashley Moody is working with state legislators to address organized retail theft in Florida. Attorney General Moody held a news conference with lawmakers in Hialeah to announce legislative efforts to help law enforcement and prosecutors dismantle retail theft crime rings. The announcement comes one week before Floridaâ€™s 2022 Legislative Session begins.

FORCE is a statewide task force and database to help spot trends, identify suspects and take down massive, organized retail theft rings. The database is designed to bridge the gap between retailers, law enforcement and prosecutors by allowing shareable, searchable information on theft incidents statewide.

To help bolster the effectiveness of FORCE, the Florida Attorney Generalâ€™s Office will partner with state legislators this session to seek to remove barriers to prosecution for what is clearly organized criminal activity. Upcoming legislation will provide a targeted revision to current statutes determining the felony status for retail theft when someone steals multiple items from multiple locations in a short period of time. These changes would strengthen the laws on the books to allow prosecutors to bring stronger penalties against criminals who commit crimes across the state to avoid justice.

Organized retail theft is on the rise nationwide, and the Attorney General Alliance is dedicated to ensuring all states remains ahead of the trend to help prevent the retail crime wave.

CONSUMER PROTECTION

A bipartisan coalition of 42 states and territories joined together in urging the U.S. Food and Drug Administration to preserve state authority to enforce their consumer protection laws in connection with the sale of over-the-counter hearing aids.

The FDA is currently considering a proposal that would establish for the first time a new category of over- the- counter hearing aids that would allow such devices to be sold directly to consumers without a medical exam or fitting by an audiologist.

Currently, all 50 states have professional licensing requirements for selling hearing aids, and many states have important protections for hearing aid consumers, including mandatory warranties and returns and advertising restrictions. The attorneys general caution that rules currently under review by the FDA may unintentionally hinder those important consumer protection efforts, undermining statesâ€™ abilities to ensure safe and affordable access to hearing aids. The attorneys general urge the FDA to make explicit that their federal rule will not preempt these critical state consumer protections.

The attorneys general further urge the FDA to strengthen age verification processes to protect children under 18 and make it clear that over- the- counter hearing aids are only appropriate for those with mild to moderate hearing loss.

The comment letter was led by Connecticut Attorney General William Tong and Ohio Attorney General Dave Yost , and joined by the attorneys general of Arizona , Arkansas, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Guam, Hawaii , Illinois , Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina , South Dakota, Texas , Utah, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, and Wisconsin.

â€œOver- the- counter hearing aids could become a good option for adults with mild to moderate hearing loss, but we need regulations to ensure they are marketed and managed safely. States have long played that consumer protection role, and federal regulation should complement, not preempt these important safeguards.â€
- - Connecticut Attorney General WilliamTong.

â€œThere need to be affordable options for Ohioans who need hearing assistance, but some of the â€˜aidsâ€™ out there are nothing more than a decorative ear piece. The statesâ€™ ability to protect consumers with things such as warranties, refunds and exchanges is vital and these new rules could prevent that.â€

MEDICIAD FRAUD

Massachusetts Attorney General Maura Healey announced that her officeâ€™s Medicaid Fraud Division recovered more than $55 million in calendar year 2021.

The AGâ€™s Medicaid Fraud Division investigates and prosecutes providers who defraud the stateâ€™s Medicaid program, MassHealth. The Division is also responsible for reviewing complaints of abuse, neglect, mistreatment, and financial exploitation of patients in long-term care facilities and MassHealth members in any health care settings.

In 2021, the Division secured 22 civil settlements with various entities, including home health agencies, substance abuse treatment facilities, adult day health centers, adult foster care providers, skilled nursing facilities, and dental practices. The overwhelming majority of the Divisionâ€™s recoveries were returned to MassHealth, but funds were also returned to the Department of Public Healthâ€™s Long- Term Care Facility Quality Improvement Fund; patients who had paid out- of- pocket for services that should have been covered by MassHealth; the federal Medicare program; and whistleblowers who brought lawsuits against providers alleging fraud.

Press Release

â€œIâ€™m proud of the vital work our Medicaid Fraud Division does to protect our most vulnerable residents, safeguard taxpayer dollars, and uphold the integrity of the MassHealth program. Addressing fraud and misconduct in the health care sector is a top priority for my office, and we will continue this important work in 2022.â€

CONSUMER PROTECTION & COVID-19

California Attorney General Rob Bonta issued a price- gouging alert following Governor Gavin Newsom's Executive Order prohibiting price gouging of at- home COVID- 19 test kits. The Executive Order protects Californians by generally prohibiting the sale of at- home COVID- 19 test kits at a price that exceeds, by more than 10%, the price the seller charged for the item on December 1, 2021. Sellers who have not previously sold at- home COVID-19 test kits may not sell testing kits for a price that is greater than 50% of what the seller paid to acquire the testing kit.

Press Release Executive Order

Michigan Attorney General Dana Nessel is amplifying new warnings related to reports of fake at- home COVID- 19 tests being sold online. Both the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) and Better Business Bureau (BBB) recently released warnings related to fraudulent tests as AG Nessel issues her website's alert.

Press Release

Body	 New Mexico Attorney General Hector Balderas issued a consumer alert warning New Mexicans about COVID- 19 test scams. With more and more people seeking tests, scammers may be exploiting this demand to steal personal, financial, or medical information. New Mexicans should also be aware of reports that certain testing sites are issuing illegitimate â€œnegativeâ€ test results without actual testing taking place. Attorney General Balderas asks New Mexicans to remain vigilant when requesting a COVID- 19 testâ€”both at a testing site and at home. Press Release Colorado Attorney General Phil Weiser , in cooperation with the Colorado Department of Public Health & Environment, have ordered the Center for COVID Control to stop all testing operations in the state for failing to be properly certified by the federal government to perform COVID- 19 testing and for failing to report COVID- 19 testing results and cases to the Department as required by state law. Testing locations operated by Macagain Corp. were also ordered to halt operations due to failure to comply with reporting requirements. Press Release Washington Attorney General Bob Ferguson is urging consumers to be on the lookout for price gouging on at- home test kits for COVID- 19. Businesses that raise prices on emergency goods and services in order to maximize profit during a declared public health emergency or natural disaster commit an unfair business practice. Washington is one of a minority of states that does not have an anti- price gouging law. Last year, AG Ferguson proposed legislation to prohibit price- gouging on emergency goods and services during a declared state of emergency. Press Release Oregon Attorney General Ellen Rosenblum encourages Oregonians to watch out for suspicious COVID- 19 Testing Sites. With the growth of the highly contagious Omicron variant and the demand for COVID- 19 tests rising throughout Oregon, Attorney General Ellen Rosenblum reminded Oregonians to watch for testing sites or vendors that are selling at- home tests for sky- high prices. Oregonians should be cautious of pop- up testing sites that charge out- of- pocket fees, do not display logos, do not disclose the laboratory performing the test, are not affiliated with a known organization, and those that ask for sensitive information like social security numbers. Press Release STUDENT LOANS

Body	 A coalition of 39 state attorneys general â€" led by AGs from Pennsylvania , Washington , Illinois, Massachusetts , and California â€" reached a settlement with student loan servicer Navient over allegedly unfair, deceptive, and abusive student loan origination and servicing practices. The $1.8 billion settlement will undoubtedly draw eyes, but perhaps just as important is the validation that state AGs are keying in on ability- to- repay determinations as a source for potential unfair and deceptive acts or practices (UDAP) claims. Over the last several years, this ability- to- repay theory has gained major traction with the AGs as they combat what they perceive to be predatory lending in a number of industries. WELCOMING VIRGINIA'S NEW ATTORNEY GENERAL Jason Stuart Miyares assumed the office of the State of Virginia's 48th Attorney General on January 15, 2022. Attorney General Miyares was born February 11, 1976 in Greensboro, North Carolina and attended public schools in Virginia Beach. He earned a Bachelor of Business Administration from James Madison University and a Juris Doctor from College of William & Maryâ€™s Law School. He served as an assistant commonwealth's attorney in Virginia Beach and was elected a member of the Virginia House of Delegates on November 3, 2015, from the 82nd district which encompasses part of Virginia Beach. "A person whoâ€™s different than you politically is not your enemy, so letâ€™s stop acting like it.â€ -- Virginia Attorney General Jason Miyares VIRTUAL SEMINAR LIBRARY Missed our live programs? No problem! Follow the button below to visit our Virtual Seminar Library for access to all recordings. ATTORNEY GENERAL NEWS

UPCOMING EVENTS

This half- day seminar is a series of discussions designed to empower and educate individuals and companies to take action to safeguard data and promote trust. This event will highlight the rights of consumers and obligations for entities under the Colorado Privacy Act (CPA) - - the third comprehensive state privacy law in the U.S., set to take effect in 2023.

Participants will hear from Colorado Attorney General Phil Weiser and Wyoming Attorney General Bridget Hill, their staff, and from state and federal officials about privacy resources, data privacy and protection best practices, and developments in U.S. privacy and cryptocurrency regulation.

HUMAN TRAFFICKING
Awareness Month

U.S. Virgin Islands Attorney General Denise George announced a collaboration with the national child protection thinktank, CHILD USA, local and federal law enforcement agencies as well as victim services organizations in the Virgin Islands to spearhead programs to combat human trafficking crimes that have plagued the Virgin Islands for years.

This month is proclaimed National Human Trafficking Prevention Month and dedicated to deepening public understanding of human trafficking, as well as an opportunity to denounce the individuals, institutions, and systems that enable and perpetuate human trafficking.

CONSUMER PROTECTION

A bipartisan group of four Attorneys Generals recently sued Google, LLC for deceiving and manipulating consumers to gain access to their location data, including making it nearly impossible for users to stop their location from being tracked. This coordinated bipartisan effort is meant to hold Google accountable for misleading and violating the privacy of its users.

CNN News The Washington Post CNBC News

Body

"Iâ€™m proud to lead this bipartisan group of attorneys general that will hold Google accountable for its deception. Through this lawsuit, we will hold Google accountable, and in the process, educate consumers on how their personal dataâ€”particularly sensitive data about their physical locationâ€”is collected, stored, and monetized. This result of our collective action is that consumers, not Google, will determine how their data is or is not used.â€
-- District of Columbia Attorney General Karl A. Racine

DC Lawsuit | Press Release

â€œGoogleâ€™s founding motto is â€"Donâ€™t Be Evil.â€™ And yet it systematically lies to millions of consumers in order to stack billions of dollars into its coffers. Big Tech companies like Google continue to erode the American way of life and often break the law to maintain their overwhelming dominant market position. This lawsuit is just another part of my fight against Big Tech. Iâ€™ll hold Google accountable for misleading and deceiving Texans. This is not only an unethical invasion of privacyâ€”itâ€™s against the law.â€
-- Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton

TX Lawsuit | Press Release

â€œLocation data is deeply personal for consumers. This information reveals the most significant details of our lives. Google denied consumers the ability to choose whether Google could track their sensitive location data to make a profit. Google kept tracking individualsâ€™ location data even after consumers told the corporation to stop. This is not only dishonest â€" itâ€™s unlawful.â€
-- Washington Attorney General Bob Ferguson

WA Lawsuit | Press Release

â€œProtecting Hoosiers from Big Techâ€™s deceptive and unfair practices continues to be a major focal point of my administration. Consumers tend to believe the promises that companies make to them, and Iâ€™m here to hold businesses accountable when they unlawfully betray consumersâ€™ trust.â€
--Indiana Attorney General Todd Rokita

COVID-19 MANDATES

Missouri Attorney General Eric Schmitt announced nine more lawsuits against Missouri school districts with masking rules, with the majority of new legal actions targeting districts in the St. Louis region. Schmitt, said in a news release that his office was now suing Bayless, Hancock Place, Jennings, Lexington, Kirkwood, Ritenour, Special School District of St. Louis County, Meramec Valley and University City. The new lawsuits were in addition to 36 lawsuits filed last week, including at least 19 that targeted districts in the St. Louis region.

Press Release

Body

â€œAs weâ€™ve made clear from the beginning, the power to make health decisions for their children should be in the hands of parents, not bureaucrats,â€ Schmitt said in a statement.
-- Missouri Attorney General Eric Schmitt

OPIOIDS

New York, North Carolina, California, Ohio, and Illinois Attorneys General announced that a [federal court ruled in favor of the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), and seven other states, finding that convicted criminal Martin Shkreli engaged in illegal and monopolistic behavior when he served as the CEO of Vyera Pharmaceuticals (previously known as Turing Pharmaceuticals). The court found that Shkreli violated both federal and state laws by engaging in anticompetitive conduct to protect monopoly profits on the life- saving drug Daraprim (pyrimethamine) â€" banning him for life from the pharmaceutical industry and ordering him to pay nearly $65 million.

â€Œ â€œâ€Envy, greed, lust, and hate,â€™ donâ€™t just â€"separate,â€™ but they obviously motivated Mr. Shkreli and his partner to illegally jack up the price of a life- saving drug as Americansâ€™ lives hung in the balance. But Americans can rest easy because Martin Shkreli is a pharma bro no more. A federal court has not only found that his conduct was illegal, but also banned this convicted criminal from the pharmaceutical industry for life and required him to pay nearly $65 million. This is on top of the $40 million weâ€™ve already secured from Vyera. The rich and powerful donâ€™t get to play by their own set of rules, so it seems that cash doesnâ€™t rule everything around Mr. Shkreli. New Yorkers can trust that my office will do everything possible to hold the powerful accountable, in addition to fighting to protect their health and their wallets.â€

--New York Attorney General Letitia James

NY Press Release

â€œTodayâ€™s win is an important one in our fight to make sure Americans can get affordable, live- saving medications. Martin Shkreli put profits over peopleâ€™s lives â€" it was unconscionable and illegal, and Iâ€™m pleased heâ€™ll never be able to work in the pharmaceutical industry again. Drug companies and executives should take note: if you illegally raise drug prices for your own financial gain, I will hold you accountable.â€
--North Carolina Attorney General Josh Stein

NC Press Release

â€œWithout regard for the lives he put at risk, Martin Shkreli orchestrated a scheme to raise the price of a vital medication from less than $20 to $750 â€" making it nearly impossible for the people who rely on the medication to access or afford it. Todayâ€™s relief is extraordinary and fair. Shkreli will be held accountable for his misconduct, and I hope it sends a message that similar conduct will not be tolerated.â€
--California Attorney General Rob Bonta

CA Press Release

â€œMartin Shkreli thought he could make his own rules because he had money, but no one is above the law,â€ Yost said. â€œHe's not only is this â€"pharma broâ€™ in prison, now

This message is being sent to all Attorneys General, Chief Deputies/Chiefs of Staff, and Executive Assistants:

The attached letter has reached NAAG policy with 42 signatories. If you would still like to join, return the sign-on form to Tracy Nayer in NC (tnayer@ncdoj.gov), Ryan Greenstein at NAAG (rgreenstein@naag.org) by Friday, January 7, 2022, (TODAY) at 3:00 pm ET.

These Reply Comments support the FCC's proposal to place new obligations on gateway providers that serve as the U.S. point of entry for foreign-originated illegal robocalls.

This effort is co-sponsored by Arkansas, Pennsylvania, and North Carolina. Attached is a copy of the FNPRM, the sign-on memo and form, and the Reply Comments. If you are interested in joining as a signatory to these Reply Comments, please complete and return the sign-on form to Tracy Nayer in NC (tnayer@ncdoj.gov), Ryan Greenstein at NAAG (rgreenstein@naag.org), and Ashley Wynstra at NAAG (awynstra@naag.org) by NEXT Friday, January 7, 2022, at 3:00 pm ET.
NOTE: The FCC filing is the following Monday, so we do have a bit of wiggle room if you need a few more hours beyond the 3pm ET deadline. Please keep Tracy Nayer in NC AGO Tnayer@ncdoj.gov posted on your progress.

These comments build on prior comments to which 51 AGs signed on and these comments are the next steps in our collective advocacy and are absolutely significant and consequential so we urge all prior signatories to these comments as well.

If you have any questions about the Reply Comments as you consider joining, please feel free to contact any of the following members of the Robocall Technologies Working Group Executive Committee:

- John Abel in PA (jabel@attorneygeneral.gov)
- Brandon Bingle in PA (bbingle@attorneygeneral.gov)
- David McCoy in AR (david.mccoy@arkansasag.gov)
- Peggy Johnson in AR (peggy.johnson@arkansasag.gov)
- Tracy Nayer in NC (tnayer@ncdoj.gov).

Press will be coordinated for this sign-on through North Carolina's press office. Please direct all press related inquiries to NC's Press Secretary Nazneen Ahmed at Nahmed@ncdoj.gov or 919-716-0060.

This is being sent to all Attorneys General who signed the attached letter and their Chief Deputies/Chiefs of Staff and Executive Assistants:

Yesterday, Rep. Ken Buck, Ranking Member of the Antitrust, Commercial and Administrative Law Subcommittee, filed a discharge petition in an attempt to force a floor vote on the State Antitrust Enforcement Venue Act of 2021. Discharge petitions require a simple majority of the House of Representatives to discharge a bill from committee to the floor without requiring the support of Congressional leadership. Of the 218 required signatories, Rep. Buck's petition currently has 39 signatures.

The initial NAAG letter was signed by 52 attorneys general and was also supported in an OpEd in October by Attorneys General Peterson and James. NAAG will continue to monitor and will provide updates as available.

Subject: RE: Letter Update: State Antitrust Enforcement Venue Act of 2021

This is being sent to all Attorneys General who signed the attached letter and their Chief Deputies/Chiefs of Staff and Executive Assistants:

Earlier this morning, the Senate Judiciary Committee voted nearly unanimously to report the State Antitrust Enforcement Venue Act of 2021 favorably to the Senate floor. No amendments were added to the bill and it is identical to the version introduced in the House, which passed favorably out of the House Judiciary Committee in June.

Throughout the markup, multiple Senators referenced the bipartisan support from the 52 attorneys general who signed the attached letter and the importance of state antitrust enforcement by attorneys general.

The full debate related to the bill is available HERE. It begins at 00:42:50 and ends with the favorable vote at 1:10:30.

This is being sent to all Attorneys General who signed the attached letter and their Chief Deputies/Chiefs of Staff and Executive Assistants:

The petition to discharge for the State Antitrust Enforcement Venue Act of 2021 now has 56 signatures. Rep. Buck's staff have expressed their goal is to receive at least 70 signatures, which would help encourage leadership to bring the bill to the floor for a vote after its bipartisan successes in both Judiciary Committees already earlier this year.

As the discharge petition is a tool primarily used by the House minority, Rep. Buck's office has asked attorneys general and their staff to consider reaching out to Republican members of their Congressional delegations to encourage them to support both the petition (H. Res. 823) and the bill (HR 3460) to help the bill continue moving forward. Please also consider encouraging members of both parties in your delegation to cosponsor the bill. The State Antitrust Enforcement Venue Act has the best chance of moving forward of any current antitrust legislation and your support and outreach will be critical in helping this bill reach the finish line.

Please let me know if you have any questions about the process or status of the bill. A one pager is also attached.

This is being sent to all Attorneys General who signed the attached letter and their Chief Deputies/Chiefs of Staff and Executive Assistants:

Yesterday, Rep. Ken Buck, Ranking Member of the Antitrust, Commercial and Administrative Law Subcommittee, filed a discharge petition in an attempt to force a floor vote on the State Antitrust Enforcement Venue Act of 2021. Discharge petitions require a simple majority of the House of Representatives to discharge a bill from committee to the floor without requiring the support of Congressional leadership. Of the 218 required signatories, Rep. Buck's petition currently has 39 signatures.

The initial NAAG letter was signed by 52 attorneys general and was also supported in an OpEd in October by Attorneys General Peterson and James. NAAG will continue to monitor and will provide updates as available.

Earlier this morning, the Senate Judiciary Committee voted nearly unanimously to report the State Antitrust Enforcement Venue Act of 2021 favorably to the Senate floor. No amendments were added to the bill and it is identical to the version introduced in the House, which passed favorably out of the House Judiciary Committee in June.

Throughout the markup, multiple Senators referenced the bipartisan support from the 52 attorneys general who signed the attached letter and the importance of state antitrust enforcement by attorneys general.

Do not click links or open attachments unless you know they are safe.  This is being sent to all Attorneys General, Chief Deputies/Chiefs of Staff, and Executive Assistants on behalf of the DEA Diversion Control Division: DEA National Prescription Take Back Day – April 30, 2022 Dear Attorney General: The Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) has scheduled the 22nd National Prescription Drug Take Back Day for April 30, 2022, for the disposal of unused, unneeded, or expired prescription controlled substances. These events over the last eleven years (September 2010 – October 2021) were overwhelmingly successful and resulted in the collection and disposal of over 7,440 tons of pharmaceuticals. The success of the past events is in no small part due to the cooperative efforts of the State Attorney General Offices' in encouraging participation by state, local, and tribal law enforcement agencies. Your outreach is greatly appreciated. The upcoming take back day will provide another opportunity for the public who have accumulated prescription controlled substances to surrender these substance to law enforcement officers for proper disposal. We, again, request your support and hope you will join us in this effort by encouraging participation by law enforcement organizations within your state. Collection locations staffed by duly authorized law enforcement officials are planned from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. at predetermined community sites. Destruction will be accomplished in accordance with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations. Local departments may contact the DEA office in their area of jurisdiction for collection day protocols. As a result of COVID-19, we understand it is a fluid situation and that circumstances for each state will differ. Thank you for your consideration of this important project. If you have questions concerning this matter, please feel free to contact me at (571) 362-8177, or Liaison Section Chief, Claire Brennan at (571) 362-9007. Pension Bridge Annual

Westin St. Francis, San Francisco

18 - 20 April 2022

The Pension Bridge Annual is back on April 18th-20th in San Francisco with a variety of networking sessions and activities ensuring you get the most out of your Annual experience – a great way to reconnect with your peers.

What impact will inflation have on equities portfolios? How are you handling the rising interest rates? What does it all mean? Join us as we discuss these top-of-mind questions and tackle topics like ESG, Diversity, Equity and Inclusion, Cybersecurity and many more. With more investor focus sessions than ever before, we have something for everyone!

Investor attendees are eligible to attend all sessions, so make sure you register for your complimentary place.

Investor Sessions Lineup

Investor Only Roundtable

We begin the Annual with our LP only session! Network with your peers while enjoying a cocktail and hear about key findings from an investor-only survey conducted by With Intelligence. This is the perfect way to kickoff your Summit experience.

Investor Exchange

Back by popular demand, this interactive session is designed to enable our investor audience the opportunity to connect and engage with their peers in small groups. With representatives from public pension plans to endowments, and from corporate funds to family offices, this unstructured and candid conversation is the ultimate platform to exchange ideas and perspectives.

Panels and Presentations

Three days of the market's most pressing topic discussions cover traditional, alternative, and overarching investment themes. Join these highly anticipated sessions:

CIO Roundtable: Inside the Minds of CIOs
Distressed Investing: Taking Stock on Opportunistic and Special Situation Strategies
Cybersecurity Risk: Reducing Threats to LP/GP Organizations
Crypto and Digital Currencies: Weighing its Potential Role in the Portfolio
LDIs: Taking a Fresh Look at LDI and Weighing whether it Works for non-Corporate Funds

And much more! Check out the full agenda for even more panels.

Reserve Your Spot Here!

Body	Good Afternoon. I just wanted to give you a brief update on today's meeting (Troy, sorry you couldn't make it). I think we had some great discussion regarding case prioritizations, communication and paths forward. I will be sending you a prioritization scheme proposal soon. We have some great policies from MN and VA that we plan to mimic in our policy. We will send to the attendees of today's meeting for feedback, then send to you for approval. Once approved I will send a memo to all of our stakeholders. The hot topic of the meeting was what your decision is regarding firearms and latent print analyses. LEAs want to know what our plan is. Apparently, they have been holding these cases so there is a backlog at the LEAs. I have attached the proposal I sent to you in April for your review. We probably should set an in person meeting to discuss these items. Please let me know if you have any questions or need additional information. Regards, Robyn A. I will be sending you a prioritization scheme proposal soon. We have some great policies from MN and VA that we plan to mimic in our policy. We will send to the attendees of today's meeting for feedback, then send to you for approval. Once approved I will send a memo to all of our stakeholders. The hot topic of the meeting was what your decision is regarding firearms and latent print analyses. LEAs want to know what our plan is. Apparently, they have been holding these cases so there is a backlog at the LEAs. I have attached the proposal I sent to you in April for your review. Body	Wayne, Char received a call yesterday from John Mortenson, Hemp Program Coordinator for the ND Department of Agriculture. He indicated he has licensed Hemp processors under the Department of Agriculture that are following the law on Delta-8 but have been complaining that smoke shops and retailers are not and are actively selling Delta-8 products. The Department of Agriculture doesn't regulate Hemp products nor do they have the authority to do so. He asked Char where and to whom he should bring these concerns to. I told her that I would reach out to you for a recommendation and a point of contact for John. Regards, Robyn A. Body	I have waited for Marcie to set a time to discuss concerns with me since December 22nd , as she suggested, with no response. Now I see she in on leave until the day I retire. I expect a call from someone regarding my concerns listed below before I retire. All of you have been very good at ignoring my issues and the issues of many, many other staff within the Dept of Human Services hoping they will quietly disappear. I know you are all very aware of the issues and chalking the way you are treating state employees, that have years of service, with never any complaint about their work, under the guise of "restructure" is inhumane or worse. If you are not part of the solution, you are part of the problem as the saying goes. Wayne, as a prior next door neighbor of yours in Grand Forks, I am including you in this email. I wonder if you have any idea what has been going on in the Department of Human Services for the past while and all the staff that are quitting because of the way they (we) are being treated? I truly believe things need to be looked into very deeply.....starting of course at the top. Marci— I have not heard from you regarding a time to verbally discuss. Please talk to Donna and Jeff before we talk. If there is one thing I am certain of, it is that laws were broken in not posting the positions given to two Fargo staff for accounts payable entry statewide. Things are in self destruct mode here at NEHSC which in the end will be good overall for anyone that ends of staying at NEHSC going forward. If anyone does stay. Thank you for the response Becky. I understand that you are frustrated and I do want to assure that your questions are answered, even though your concerns go back farther than 15 days. In order to look into what your questions are, discussion will need to be held with Jeff Stenseth and Donna Aukland. As you point out, the grievance process is a written process with specific time limits governed by Century Code and Administrative Rule. But that does not mean that issues cannot be resolved by other means. I would add that when reorganizations occur, certain processes are handled differently, but still are required to be follow State and Federal employment laws. This reorganization would be no different. I'm not sure when your last day of work is, but would you have any time next week or the following week to connect and we can verbally walk through your concerns? From: Savaloja, Rebecca L. <rsavaloja@nd.gov> Sent: Tuesday, December 21, 2021 9:30 AM To: Wuitschick, Marcie D. <mwuitschick@nd.gov> Cc: Alm, Jonathan E. <jealm@nd.gov>; Strebe, Arnold <astrebe@nd.gov>; Jones, Chris D. <cdjones@nd.gov> Subject: RE: Question---are you going to reply or confirm receipt of below email? Good Morning Marcie, I know from prior staff that grievances go nowhere and it almost always hurts the staff that files them. I did look at the grievance form and it said that it needed to be filed with 15 days of incident. I am questioning what happened long after 15 days has past and just want a few answers before I retire. I have included others in this email because they need to know what is going on if they are not aware already. I am not going to personally talk to Jeff Stenseth or Donna Aukland about this because I am afraid of what they would potentially do to me. In further clarification: I received verbal notification in a meeting (no written notice) from Lynn Bingham with Jeff Stenseth present and a few other staff that were also having some minor duties removed. Again, Lynn apologized for not giving me more notice but said he was instructed not to! I just left Lynn Bingham's office and asked Lynn who he received the instruction from as far as giving me no notice that all my duties were being taken away. He said it was Donna Aukland. He said Donna, in meetings, told all business managers not to say anything to staff until they met with staff the end of July. The meeting occurred at the very end of July and I was told I was losing almost all of accounts payable duties immediately. There was another staff or two in the office that were also losing a few duties but I was the only one losing 90 percent or more along with others in my position in the state. I'm sure this was due to statewide reorganization. That is not the problem or the question. In the meeting it was said that some of my duties, going forward, were going to be required to be done by the business managers and the remainder was being given to two office assistants in SEHSC. I immediately asked why these 2 staff were just given all of my duties other than what the business manager was to do. Lynn Bingham threw out the response that their office was bigger or something to that effect, which of course I knew had nothing to do with anything. Jeff Stenseth sat there and said nothing regarding that. My questions remain— • Why didn't the two office assistants have to apply for the jobs they got working on accounts payable for the whole state? Jobs that were taken from others statewide and just given to them? Is it not policy that these positions should have been opened up for me or others to have applied for if we wished? That is a question that I believe you would have the answer to Marcie. • Why did I get such late notice that my job was disappearing. This, most likely, would be a question for Donna Aukland and Jeff Stenseth. • Donna Aukland said there would be other duties to replace the ones I lost but I was never given anything? I do not know if my counterparts statewide were given new duties or not. Also please note that Lynn Bingham asked Donna several times, if I could help him out with duties given to him and Donna said No. I expect that Donna and Jeff will come up with excuses that in their minds they can justify. I however, think it

Body	is very sad what they, and possibly their superiors, are doing to so many employees within the state. Jeff Stenseth introduces himself at meetings as the person who they bring in to get rid of staff but that it is not true. I have heard him say this on more than one occasion as has everyone else here. You do not get a reputation for something that is not deserved so of course it is true. I am not certain that he was trying to get rid of me. I do think they were getting rid of my position but there has to be a better way of doing this other than devaluing people that have given many years of service to this state and offering them nothing in return as far as other duties, a buy out or whatever. There are many instances where staff have been treated so badly that they quit or retire but I can't and won't speak for others. All anyone has to do is look at the turnover to know this as a fact. I do want my questions answered and this brought out in the open so hopefully going forward a better process can be in place that treats employees with dignity and respect. Neither of which I feel I was afforded. This is the reason unions are formed to protect employees from being treated the way I have been treated. I have never been a union member or even thought there was a need for unions prior to this but I am , unfortunately, realizing that there is a need. Thank you Becky Savaloja From: Wuitschick, Marcie D. <mwuitschick@nd.gov> Sent: Monday, December 20, 2021 4:33 PM To: Savaloja, Rebecca L. <rsavaloja@nd.gov> Subject: RE: Question---are you going to reply or confirm receipt of below email? Hi Becky, Thank you for your email, as well as your patience as I have looked into this issue. Based on the information I've been able to ascertain, it appears there was a statewide reorganization that occurred which impacted many different positions. Unfortunately I don't have answers to your specific questions; however, I think it's important that you get them. I also want to assure that you are aware of the grievance policy and your rights under that policy I am not sure if you are inferring that you wish to file a grievance, but regardless, you should receive an answer to the questions you have posed. Can you please confirm for me who you have received what notifications from? That will help me determine next steps. My initial thought is that Jeff Stenseth should be able to answer some of your questions, as he is the senior leader within your chain of command, but I am not certain who you have already talked to or asked these questions of. Also, if you have received any notifications in writing please send those to me. Thank you, Becky, for the work that you do. If you can let me know those two pieces of information I will be able to make some determination as to next steps. Marcie Wuitschick, SHRM-CP, PHR Director, Human Resources ND Department of Human Services 701-328-1290 mwuitschick@nd.gov From: Savaloja, Rebecca L. <rsavaloja@nd.gov> Sent: Tuesday, December 07, 2021 8:46 AM To: Wuitschick, Marcie D. <mwuitschick@nd.gov> Subject: FW: Question---are you going to reply or confirm receipt of below email? From: Savaloja, Rebecca L. Sent: Friday, December 3, 2021 3:13 PM To: Wuitschick, Marcie D. <mwuitschick@nd.gov> Subject: Question Marcie— Something has been bothering me and I would like your input on it. The end of July, I was told by my supervisor that I would be losing most of my job duties immediately the next day and he told me he was sorry he did not give me more notice but that he was instructed not to. That it was not only me but also my counterparts in the other human service centers in the state. I was told that part of my accounts payable duties and others that had the same position as me, were going to be done by the Business Managers and the rest of it was going to 2 office assistants at SEHSC who would take over the remainder of our duties statewide. I was told that this decision was made by Donna Aukland. I asked why those positions that were given to SEHSC staff were not posted internally for me or others to apply for and I did not receive an answer, even though Jeff Stenseth was in the meeting and would certainly know why his staff were just handed our duties. I was told that Donna would be giving us new job duties but there has been nothing so far and that the new duties would have nothing to do with anything that I had experience in. I am retiring in January (a little earlier than I intended because of this) and am very bitter that my 15 years with the state is ending this way. I know that the decisions that were made had nothing to do with my job performance because I was excellent in my position as everyone can attest to. What I would like from you is an explanation on how this can happen? How and why would I and others not have been able to at least apply for the job that was being taken away from us and just given to others with no notice? Is this a new direction the state is going in regards to how they treat state employees? Are you the person that can answer my questions or would it be legal or someone else? Your response will not change anything. I will retire in January but like I said, this has had an impact on my mental health and I feel that I am at least owed an explanation and should have asked for it months ago. Body	I have waited for Marcie to set a time to discuss concerns with me since December 22nd , as she suggested, with no response. Now I see she in on leave until the day I retire. I expect a call from someone regarding my concerns listed below before I retire. All of you have been very good at ignoring my issues and the issues of many, many other staff within the Dept of Human Services hoping they will quietly disappear. I know you are all very aware of the issues and chalking the way you are treating state employees, that have years of service, with never any complaint about their work, under the guise of "restructure" is inhumane or worse. If you are not part of the solution, you are part of the problem as the saying goes. Wayne, as a prior next door neighbor of yours in Grand Forks, I am including you in this email. I wonder if you have any idea what has been going on in the Department of Human Services for the past while and all the staff that are quitting because of the way they (we) are being treated? I truly believe things need to be looked into very deeply.....starting of course at the top. Good Morning Marcie, I know from prior staff that grievances go nowhere and it almost always hurts the staff that files them. I did look at the grievance form and it said that it needed to be filed with 15 days of incident. I am questioning what happened long after 15 days has past and just want a few answers before I retire. I have included others in this email because they need to know what is going on if they are not aware already. I am not going to personally talk to Jeff Stenseth or Donna Aukland about this because I am afraid of what they would potentially do to me. In further clarification: I received verbal notification in a meeting (no written notice) from Lynn Bingham with Jeff Stenseth present and a few other staff that were also having some minor duties removed. Again, Lynn apologized for not giving me more notice but said he was instructed not to! I just left Lynn Bingham's office and asked Lynn who he received the instruction from as far as giving me no notice that all my duties were being taken away. He said it was Donna Aukland. He said Donna, in meetings, told all business managers not to say anything to staff until they met with staff the end of July. The meeting occurred at the very end of July and I was told I was losing almost all of accounts payable duties immediately. There was another staff or two in the office that were also losing a few duties but I was the only one losing 90 percent or more along with others in my position in the state. I'm sure this was due to statewide reorganization. That is not the problem or the question. In the meeting it was said that some of my duties, going forward, were going to be required to be done by the business managers and the remainder was being given to two office assistants in SEHSC. I immediately asked why these 2 staff were just given all of my duties other than what the business manager was to do. Lynn Bingham threw out the response that their office was bigger or something to that effect, which of course I knew had nothing to do with anything. Jeff Stenseth sat there and said nothing regarding that. My questions remain— • Why didn't the two office assistants have to apply for the jobs they got working on accounts payable for the whole state? Jobs that were taken from others statewide and just given to them? Is it not policy that these positions should have been opened up for me or others to have applied for if we wished? That is a question that I believe you would have the answer to Marcie. • Why did I get such late notice that my job was disappearing. This, most likely, would be a question for Donna Aukland and Jeff Stenseth. • Donna Aukland said there would be other duties to replace the ones I lost but I was never given anything? I do not know if my counterparts statewide were given new duties or not. Also please note that Lynn Bingham asked Donna several times, if I could help him out with duties given to him and Donna said No. I expect that Donna and Jeff will come up with excuses that in their minds they can justify. I however, think it

Body	is very sad what they, and possibly their superiors, are doing to so many employees within the state. Jeff Stenseth introduces himself at meetings as the person who they bring in to get rid of staff but that it is not true. I have heard him say this on more than one occasion as has everyone else here. You do not get a reputation for something that is not deserved so of course it is true. I am not certain that he was trying to get rid of me. I do think they were getting rid of my position but there has to be a better way of doing this other than devaluing people that have given many years of service to this state and offering them nothing in return as far as other duties, a buy out or whatever. There are many instances where staff have been treated so badly that they quit or retire but I can't and won't speak for others. All anyone has to do is look at the turnover to know this as a fact. I do want my questions answered and this brought out in the open so hopefully going forward a better process can be in place that treats employees with dignity and respect. Neither of which I feel I was afforded. This is the reason unions are formed to protect employees from being treated the way I have been treated. I have never been a union member or even thought there was a need for unions prior to this but I am , unfortunately, realizing that there is a need. Hi Becky, Thank you for your email, as well as your patience as I have looked into this issue. The end of July, I was told by my supervisor that I would be losing most of my job duties immediately the next day and he told me he was sorry he did not give me more notice but that he was instructed not to. That it was not only me but also my counterparts in the other human service centers in the state. I was told that part of my accounts payable duties and others that had the same position as me, were going to be done by the Business Managers and the rest of it was going to 2 office assistants at SEHSC who would take over the remainder of our duties statewide. I was told that this decision was made by Donna Aukland. I asked why those positions that were given to SEHSC staff were not posted internally for me or others to apply for and I did not receive an answer, even though Jeff Stenseth was in the meeting and would certainly know why his staff were just handed our duties. I was told that Donna would be giving us new job duties but there has been nothing so far and that the new duties would have nothing to do with anything that I had experience in. I am retiring in January (a little earlier than I intended because of this) and am very bitter that my 15 years with the state is ending this way. I know that the decisions that were made had nothing to do with my job performance because I was excellent in my position as everyone can attest to. What I would like from you is an explanation on how this can happen? How and why would I and others not have been able to at least apply for the job that was being taken away from us and just given to others with no notice? Is this a new direction the state is going in regards to how they treat state employees? Are you the person that can answer my questions or would it be legal or someone else? Your response will not change anything. I will retire in January but like I said, this has had an impact on my mental health and I feel that I am at least owed an explanation and should have asked for it months ago. Becky, you are correct that I am out. I arranged for a colleague to contact you during my absence to discuss your concerns. Her name is Joanie Pesek and she is ccd on this email. I apologize if this email is duplicate - sending it from my phone.

I would again encourage you to follow your chain of command. You also have the employee grievance process available to you.

In a previous message you suggested that I talk to Donna Aukland and Jeff Stenseth. I do not know all of the questions you have. It would be most appropriate for you to start with Jeff as I believe he is next in your chain of command, but you have refused to do that .

Joanie will be reaching out to you.

Subject: RE: Question---are you going to reply or confirm receipt of below email?

Marci—

I have not heard from you regarding a time to verbally discuss. Please talk to Donna and Jeff before we talk. If there is one thing I am certain of, it is that laws were broken in not posting the positions given to two Fargo staff for accounts payable entry statewide.

Things are in self destruct mode here at NEHSC which in the end will be good overall for anyone that ends of staying at NEHSC going forward. If anyone does stay.

Thank you for the response Becky. I understand that you are frustrated and I do want to assure that your questions are answered, even though your concerns go back farther than 15 days. In order to look into what your questions are, discussion will need to be held with Jeff Stenseth and Donna Aukland. As you point out, the grievance process is a written process with specific time limits governed by Century Code and Administrative Rule. But that does not mean that issues cannot be resolved by other means Administrative Rule. But that does not mean that issues cannot be resolved by other means.

I would add that when reorganizations occur, certain processes are handled differently, but still are required to be follow State and Federal employment laws. This reorganization would be no different.

I'm not sure when your last day of work is, but would you have any time next week or the following week to connect and we can verbally walk through your concerns?

Subject: RE: Question---are you going to reply or confirm receipt of below email?

Good Morning Marcie,

I know from prior staff that grievances go nowhere and it almost always hurts the staff that files them. I did look at the grievance form and it said that it needed to be filed with 15 days of incident. I am questioning what happened long after 15 days has past and just want a few answers before I retire. I have included others in this email because they need to know what is going on if they are not aware already. I am not going to personally talk to Jeff Stenseth or Donna Aukland about this because I am afraid of what they would potentially do to me.

In further clarification:

I received verbal notification in a meeting (no written notice) from Lynn Bingham with Jeff Stenseth present and a few other staff that were also having some minor duties removed. Again, Lynn apologized for not giving me more notice but said he was instructed not to! I just left Lynn Bingham's office and asked Lynn who he received the instruction from as far as giving me no notice that all my duties were being taken away. He said it was Donna Aukland. He said Donna, in meetings, told all business managers not to say anything to staff until they met with staff the end of July. The meeting occurred at the very end of July and I was told I was losing almost all of accounts payable duties immediately. There was another staff or two in the office that were also losing a few duties but I was the only one losing 90 percent or more along with others in my position in the state. I'm sure this was due to statewide reorganization. That is not the problem or the question. In the meeting it was said that some of my duties, going forward, were going to be required to be done by the business managers and the remainder was being given to two office assistants in SEHSC. I immediately asked why these 2 staff were just given all of my duties other than what the business manager was to do. Lynn Bingham threw out the response that their office was bigger or something to that effect, which of course I knew had nothing to do with anything. Jeff Stenseth sat there and said nothing regarding that.

My questions remain—

- Why didn't the two office assistants have to apply for the jobs they got working on accounts payable for the whole state? Jobs that were taken from others statewide and just given to them? Is it not policy that these positions should have been opened up for me or others to have applied for if we wished? That is a question that I believe you would have the answer to Marcie.
- Why did I get such late notice that my job was disappearing. This, most likely, would be a question for Donna Aukland and Jeff Stenseth.
- Donna Aukland said there would be other duties to replace the ones I lost but I was never given anything? I do not know if my counterparts statewide were given new duties or not. Also please note that Lynn Bingham asked Donna several times, if I could help him out with duties given to him and Donna said No.

I expect that Donna and Jeff will come up with excuses that in their minds they can justify. I however, think it is very sad what they, and possibly their superiors, are doing to so many employees within the state. Jeff Stenseth introduces himself at meetings as the person who they bring in to get rid of staff but that it is not true. I have heard him say this on more than one occasion as has everyone else here. You do not get a reputation for something that is not deserved so of course it is true. I am not certain that he was trying to get rid of me. I do think they were getting rid of my position but there has to be a better way of doing this other than devaluing people that have given many years of service to this state and offering them nothing in return as far as other duties, a buy out or whatever. There are many instances where staff have been treated so badly that they quit or retire but I can't and won't speak for others. All anyone has to do is look at the turnover to know this as a fact.

I do want my questions answered and this brought out in the open so hopefully going forward a better process can be in place that treats employees with dignity and respect. Neither of which I feel I was afforded. This is the reason unions are formed to protect employees from being treated the way I have been treated. I have never been a union member or even thought there was a need for unions prior to this but I am , unfortunately, realizing that there is a need.

Thank you
Becky Savaloja

Thank you for the response Becky. I understand that you are frustrated and I do want to assure that your questions are answered, even though your concerns go back farther than 15 days. In order to look into what your questions are, discussion will need to be held with Jeff Stenseth and Donna Aukland. As you point out, the grievance process is a written process with specific time limits governed by Century Code and Administrative Rule. But that does not mean that issues cannot be resolved by other means.

I would add that when reorganizations occur, certain processes are handled differently, but still are required to be follow State and Federal employment laws. This reorganization would be no different.

I'm not sure when your last day of work is, but would you have any time next week or the following week to connect and we can verbally walk through your concerns?

Subject: RE: Question---are you going to reply or confirm receipt of below email?

Good Morning Marcie,

I know from prior staff that grievances go nowhere and it almost always hurts the staff that files them. I did look at the grievance form and it said that it needed to be filed with 15 days of incident. I am questioning what happened long after 15 days has past and just want a few answers before I retire. I have included others in this email because they need to know what is going on if they are not aware already. I am not going to personally talk to Jeff Stenseth or Donna Aukland about this because I am afraid of what they would potentially do to me.

In further clarification:

I received verbal notification in a meeting (no written notice) from Lynn Bingham with Jeff Stenseth present and a few other staff that were also having some minor duties removed. Again, Lynn apologized for not giving me more notice but said he was instructed not to! I just left Lynn Bingham's office and asked Lynn who he received the instruction from as far as giving me no notice that all my duties were being taken away. He said it was Donna Aukland. He said Donna, in meetings, told all business managers not to say anything to staff until they met with staff the end of July. The meeting occurred at the very end of July and I was told I was losing almost all of accounts payable duties immediately. There was another staff or two in the office that were also losing a few duties but I was the only one losing 90 percent or more along with others in my position in the state. I'm sure this was due to statewide reorganization. That is not the problem or the question. In the meeting it was said that some of my duties, going forward, were going to be required to be done by the business managers and the remainder was being given to two office assistants in SEHSC. I immediately asked why these 2 staff were just given all of my duties other than what the business manager was to do. Lynn Bingham threw out the response that their office was bigger or something to that effect, which of course I knew had nothing to do with anything. Jeff Stenseth sat there and said nothing regarding that.

My questions remain—

- Why didn't the two office assistants have to apply for the jobs they got working on accounts payable for the whole state? Jobs that were taken from others statewide and just given to them? Is it not policy that these positions should have been opened up for me or others to have applied for if we wished? That is a question that I believe you would have the answer to Marcie.
- Why did I get such late notice that my job was disappearing. This, most likely, would be a question for Donna Aukland and Jeff Stenseth.
- Donna Aukland said there would be other duties to replace the ones I lost but I was never given anything? I do not know if my counterparts statewide were given new duties or not. Also please note that Lynn Bingham asked Donna several times, if I could help him out with duties given to him and Donna said No.

I expect that Donna and Jeff will come up with excuses that in their minds they can justify. However, think it is very sad what they, and possibly their superiors, are doing to so many employees within the state. Jeff Stenseth introduces himself at meetings as the person who they bring in to get rid of staff but that it is not true. I have heard him say this on more than one occasion as has everyone else here. You do not get a reputation for something that is not deserved so of course it is true. I am not certain that he was trying to get rid of me. I do think they were getting rid of my position but there has to be a better way of doing this other than devaluing people that have given many years of service to this state and offering them nothing in return as far as other duties, a buy out or whatever. There are many instances where staff have been treated so badly that they quit or retire but I can't and won't speak for others. All anyone has to do is look at the turnover to know this as a fact.

I do want my questions answered and this brought out in the open so hopefully going forward a better process can be in place that treats employees with dignity and respect. Neither of which I feel I was afforded. This is the reason unions are formed to protect employees from being treated the way I have been treated. I have never been a union member or even thought there was a need for unions prior to this but I am , unfortunately, realizing that there is a need.

Hi Becky, Thank you for your email, as well as your patience as I have looked into this issue. Based on the information I've been able to ascertain, it appears there was a statewide reorganization that occurred which impacted many different positions. Unfortunately I don't have answers to your specific questions; however, I think it's important that you get them. I also want to assure that you are aware of the grievance policy and your rights under that policy I am not sure if you are inferring that you wish to file a grievance, but regardless, you should receive an answer to the questions you have posed. Can you please confirm for me who you have received what notifications from? That will help me determine next steps. My initial thought is that Jeff Stenseth should be able to answer some of your questions, as he is the senior leader within your chain of command, but I am not certain who you have already talked to or asked these questions of. Also, if you have received any notifications in writing please send those to me. Thank you, Becky, for the work that you do. If you can let me know those two pieces of information I will be able to make some determination as to next steps. Marcie Wuitschick, SHRM-CP, PHR Director, Human Resources ND Department of Human Services 701-328-1290 mwuitschick@nd.gov From: Savaloja, Rebecca L. <rsavaloja@nd.gov> Sent: Tuesday, December 07, 2021 8:46 AM To: Wuitschick, Marcie D. <mwuitschick@nd.gov> Subject: FW: Question---are you going to reply or confirm receipt of below email? From: Savaloja, Rebecca L. Sent: Friday, December 3, 2021 3:13 PM To: Wuitschick, Marcie D. <mwuitschick@nd.gov> Subject: Question Marcie— Something has been bothering me and I would like your input on it. The end of July, I was told by my supervisor that I would be losing most of my job duties immediately the next day and he told me he was sorry he did not give me more notice but that he was instructed not to. That it was not only me but also my counterparts in the other human service centers in the state. I was told that part of my accounts payable duties and others that had the same position as me, were going to be done by the Business Managers and the rest of it was going to 2 office assistants at SEHSC who would take over the remainder of our duties statewide. I was told that this decision was made by Donna Aukland. I asked why those positions that were given to SEHSC staff were not posted internally for me or others to apply for and I did not receive an answer, even though Jeff Stenseth was in the meeting and would certainly know why his staff were just handed our duties. I was told that Donna would be giving us new job duties but there has been nothing so far and that the new duties would have nothing to do with anything that I had experience in. I am retiring in January (a little earlier than I intended because of this) and am very bitter that my 15 years with the state is ending this way. I know that the decisions that were made had nothing to do with my job performance because I was excellent in my position as everyone can attest to. What I would like from you is an explanation on how this can happen? How and why would I and others not have been able to at least apply for the job that was being taken away from us and just given to others with no notice? Is this a new direction the state is going in regards to how they treat state employees? Are you the person that can answer my questions or would it be legal or someone else? Your response will not change anything. I will retire in January but like I said, this has had an impact on my mental health and I feel that I am at least owed an explanation and should have asked for it months ago. Justices to Consider Limiting Clean Water Act

The U.S. Supreme Court, heeding calls from business and property-rights groups, agreed to use a long-running Idaho fight to consider curbing the reach of the Clean Water Act.

The justices said they will hear an appeal from Chantell and Michael Sackett, an Idaho couple waging a 15-year-old battle to build a house on land that federal regulators say is protected wetlands. The Sacketts won a 2012 Supreme Court ruling that let their lawsuit go forward.

The case becomes the second major environmental clash on the court's docket. The justices next month will consider limiting the Environmental Protection Agency's ability to address climate change through sweeping reductions of power-plant emissions.

The Supreme Court is likely to hear the case in the term that starts in October.

The new case could give companies a freer hand to discharge pollutants and let developers construct more new houses without getting a federal permit. The U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Home Builders were among the groups urging the Supreme Court to hear the case.

The Sacketts' appeal asks the court to revisit a 2006 Clean Water Act case, Rapanos v. United States, which failed to produce a majority decision and left uncertainty about the governing standard. Four justices, led by Antonin Scalia, said the law covers wetlands only if they have a continuous surface connection to a river, lake or other major waterway.

A fifth, Justice Anthony Kennedy, created his own test, saying the Clean Water Act covers wetlands with a "significant nexus" to one of those larger bodies of water.

In their appeal, the Sacketts say courts and regulators alike have struggled to figure out how the two standards intersect. The couple's lawyers say the court should adopt Scalia's test and clear up the confusion.

Years of Confusion

Body	Years of Confusion "Fifteen years of fruitless confusion, conflict, and litigation is enough," the Sacketts argued in their appeal. "This court can and should chart a better course for the Clean Water Act by articulating a clear, easily administered, constitutionally sound rule for wetlands jurisdiction, using the surface-water-connection test set forth in the Rapanos plurality opinion." President Joe Biden's administration urged the court to reject the appeal, arguing that the Sacketts were overstating the confusion and that the Scalia approach would create a regulatory gap. Under the Scalia approach, "the agencies would lack authority to protect wetlands separated from a navigable river by a small dune or other natural barrier, even if overwhelming scientific evidence showed that the wetlands significantly affect the river's chemical, physical, and biological integrity," the administration argued in court papers. The administration also told the justices they shouldn't intervene until the EPA and Army Corps of Engineers finalize a proposed revision to the federal regulations that implement the key provision. The Clean Water Act, which took effect in 1972, gives the federal government control over "waters of the United States." The fight involves a 0.63-acre property near Priest Lake in northern Idaho. The property is about 300 feet (91 meters) from the lake and, on the other side, across a road from a tributary of a creek that feeds into the lake. The EPA says that the land is connected to the lake through a subsurface flow of water. The legal fight began in 2007 when the EPA issued an administrative compliance order requiring the Sacketts to restore land they had already begun preparing for construction. The case has been bouncing up and down the court system since then. A federal appeals court last year said the Clean Water Act covered the property, prompting the Sacketts to turn to the Supreme Court a second time. The case is Sackett v. Environmental Protection Agency, 21-454. I spoke with NFIB. They are happy to divide time, though we postponed the precise division until tomorrow.

I will plan on arguing this, absent any objections

All,

Here is a draft brief. We will do all we can to finalize and file shortly after midnight.

Having reviewed the Sixth Circuit opinion, I think it is a gift.

I spoke with NFIB. They are happy to divide time, though we postponed the precise division until tomorrow.

I will plan on arguing this, absent any objections

All,

Here is a draft brief. We will do all we can to finalize and file shortly after midnight.

Having reviewed the Sixth Circuit opinion, I think it is a gift.

As you can see, our flight home for today has been cancelled.
We are now scheduled for tomorrow instead, so it looks like I will not be in the office tomorrow.
I have that one opinion that Ally says must be out before next week so I will be working on that today.
Let me know if there's anything else I need to do before the end of the year.

Also this morning, I became aware of his letter to the editor, which I have attached too. From: clyde reilly <clydecarol1973@gmail.com> Sent: Monday, January 3, 2022 6:11 AM To: Oliver, Lee A. <loliver@nd.gov> Subject: Flanders Hey Lee Ann Oliver, We successfully conducted a recall petition here in Pembina County this past summer. You were most helpful for us to understand the process and get the details for the petition right. I must acknowledge that our County Auditor Linda Schlintenhard was also very cooperative and helpful. The electors of Pembina County were given an opportunity to affect change and the incumbent county commissioner was soundly defeated and the candidate that we endorsed has been seated. The result of the process was a good thing but there is more to do. Loren Estad, one of us Despicable, Radical, Anarchists from Crystal emailed to the Office of Attorney General of North Dakota a petition to conduct an investigation of Pembina County States Attorney Rebecca Flanders according to NDCC 44-11. A copy of this petition was also sent by Loren Estad to the Secretary of State. Attached Lee Ann, is a copy of the response to us from the AG and a copy of that was provided to the Secretary of State. We the people of Pembina County are desperately in need of the remedy provided by law. Prior to the signature gathering that I, Clyde Reilly conducted, a query was sent to the AG asking if there was a format or instructions for the petition needed to move forward with NDCC 44-11. The response to this question from the Office of Attorney General of ND was, "No there is not.", so I proceeded to collect about 80 signatures though only 50 were needed.. Based on this response and the letter attached it would be obvious that the AG would rather not conduct the investigation of our rogue States Attorney Flanders. Note paragraph three of the letter of refusal to do their job from the AG, skip the first sentence as the petition did state the charges. In the second part of the paragraph the writer passes the buck to the Office of Secretary of State(NDCC16.1-01) and the explanation is vague. I also don't understand what is meant by the last sentence that individual pages of the petition be verified. Can you please help unravel the mystery of NDCC 44-11. I get it that the AG doesn't want to do this but it is needed desperately and the law requires it to be done. I fully expected the petition that I presented to be rejected, I gave them obvious reasons to do so, no affidavit by the collector being the main one. I am confused by the last line of paragraph three in the rejection letter where verification of each page of the petition is "apparently" required by NDCC 44-11-03. Seems a bit vague and kind of a stretch. If the petition that I presented to the AG is totally unusable then I am fully prepared to do it again but next time I would like the advice of the Office of Secretary of State now that the AG has referenced it even though there is no mention of Secretary of State in NDCC 44-11. "Apparently". Have a Happy New Year Lee Ann Oliver Clyde Reilly at Stokesville 12-31-21

I wanted to let folks know that I will be leaving Facebook at the end of the year. First, thank you. It has been a remarkable honor to work with you and your offices. Over the past ten years, we have set the standard for how companies and AGs can work together to combat harm and educate consumers. The AG-escalation channel and law enforcement portal, as well as our policy work combating issues from online predation to price gouging, have made a significant difference in people's lives. I firmly believe your offices are the single most effective channel for protecting people from serious harm and I am constantly inspired by how solemnly you take that responsibility. Of course, there were times when you had serious questions and concerns, which you did not hesitate to raise with me. Despite the gravity of some of those conversations, your offices were always honest brokers and treated me with nothing but respect and kindness. I will always appreciate your professionalism, decency, and often friendship. In the new year, I will be joining a small firm where I will focus on helping socially-minded companies, organizations, and policymakers tackle hard policy issues. The goal is to shape the issues that will impact society for the next 100 years and ensure that people with good ideas can bring them to market. Starting on January 1, Dan Sachs will be running our AG outreach program. I will be working with him to ensure the transition is smooth in the new year. All of you who know Dan recognize what a fantastic job he will do in this role. He and I approached issues the same way, but he has much better spelling and grammar. He asked me to pass on his contact information along with his assurance that the company's commitment to working with you and your teams will not change. (dans@fb.com 202.716.2172) Please have a wonderful holiday and, again, thank you for everything. Let me know if you are in Maryland (willcastleberry@gmail.com 202.420.0173) - it would be great to grab a beer or catch an Orioles game*. All the best, Will *O's game offer may exclude certain AG offices, including MA, RI, CT, VT, NH, and ME or any other Red Sox fans.

Body	UND evaluates federal contracts to see how many employees fall under federal vaccine mandate It's a state of flux at UND right now, as the school needs to renegotiate federal contracts on a case-by-case basis. That doesn't necessarily mean changing the dollar amount of those contracts, but including language that requires workers on those projects to be vaccinated. UND has more than $100 million in active federal contracts for research and educational programs. At present, the contractors of two of those deals have requested UND add language requiring vaccines. The Biden administration issued the mandate on Sept. 9. Written By: Adam Kurtz | 6:00 am, Nov. 4, 2021 In the wake of a federal coronavirus vaccine mandate, UND administrators are reviewing the school's federal contracts and are working to determine how many employees need to be vaccinated. It's a state of flux at UND right now, as the school needs to renegotiate federal contracts on a case-by-case basis. That doesn't necessarily mean changing the dollar amount of those contracts, but including language that requires workers on those projects to be vaccinated. UND has more than $100 million in active federal contracts for research and educational programs. At present, the contractors of two of those deals have requested UND add language requiring vaccines. The Biden administration issued the mandate on Sept. 9. "The bottom line is everybody's trying to figure this out, especially at the university level," said John Mihelich, interim vice president for research and economic development. The State Board of Higher Education OK'd a motion at its most recent meeting that gives state universities and colleges the authority to require some employees be vaccinated. The alternative could have potentially been the loss of hundreds of millions of dollars for those institutions. The two contracts at UND that are in the process of being modified come from the U.S. Department of Energy and General Services Administration. The value of those contracts could be up to $20 million. The contracts involve work being done with national defense, technology and biomedical research companies Leidos, and Applied Research Associates. According to Mihelich, contracts beginning on or after Nov. 14 must include language about requiring vaccinated workers. Ongoing contracts awarded before Oct. 15 must also include the language if they are extended or modified. Contracts entered into between those dates can only encourage the specific vaccination language. It's unclear how many of UND's 2,460 benefited staff and faculty members will be required to get the shots. The university has not required employees to disclose their vaccination status, and until now, it hasn't had to. Administrators are working to determine the number of employees who work on a particular federal contract or subcontract, who will then be informed they need to verify they have been vaccinated. "We're working on how we're going to do that logistically," said Meloney Linder, vice president of marketing and communications. "Our (information technology) folks have identified a program that would allow us to easily be able to let people upload their information, and verify that they're vaccinated." The vaccination mandate will also apply to students and graduate students who are doing work on a federal contract or subcontract. Federal grants are not included in the mandate. In a Tuesday, Nov. 2, message to the campus community, President Andrew Armacost said the school will comply with the mandate, the details of which are still unfolding. More information will be released on who must get the shots and when. Armacost is president of UND. From: Sagsveen, Matthew A. <masagsve@nd.gov> Sent: Thursday, November 4, 2021 8:14 AM To: Stenehjem, Wayne K. <wstenehjem@nd.gov> Subject: RE: federal contracts I don't have a subscription to this paper, so I can't read it. From: Stenehjem, Wayne K. <wstenehjem@nd.gov> Sent: Thursday, November 4, 2021 6:37 AM To: Sagsveen, Matthew A. <masagsve@nd.gov> Subject: federal contracts Matt: FYI https://www.grandforksherald.com/news/education/7267227-UND-evaluates-federal-contracts-to-see-how-many-employees-fall-under-federal-vaccine-mandate

Can we find a time in the next few days to discuss thoughts on coordinating as co-petitioners during the briefing process? My colleague Michael Williams is joining me heading up the West Virginia team for the State coalition, and we're available for a call tomorrow (Friday) 8:30-10:30 and 1:00-4:00 ET. If early next week is better, Monday after 3:00 ET and most of Tuesday work for us too. Looking forward to talking more soon. Biden Administration Publishes Vaccine Mandate for Large Businesses

The Biden administration rolled out a new COVID-19 vaccine mandate Thursday morning, giving large companies until Jan. 4 to ensure that their workforces are fully vaccinated.

In a conference call with reporters Wednesday night, a senior administration official said the sweeping new measure, which is scheduled to be published in Friday's Federal Register, will apply to about 84 million private sector workers.

The new rule will be enforced by the Occupational Safety and Health Administration. It requires employers with 100 or more employees to ensure each of their workers is fully vaccinated by Jan. 4, and mandates at least weekly testing for unvaccinated employees after that.

The OSHA rule will also require that these employers provide paid time off for employees to get vaccinated, and ensure all unvaccinated workers wear a face mask in the workplace.

"A better future is built around trust, transparency, and inclusion." LEARN MORE

Body

In addition, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services at the Department of Health and Human Services on Thursday announced details of its requirement that health care workers at facilities participating in Medicare and Medicaid are fully vaccinated.

The rule applies to more than 17 million workers at approximately 76,000 health care facilities, including hospitals and long-term care facilities, the White House said.

The administration has previously implemented policies requiring millions of federal employees and federal contractors to be fully vaccinated.

"While we are encouraged to know that vaccination requirements have already helped cut the number of unvaccinated Americans by nearly 40%, it's important to understand that there are still so many workers who are not protected and remain at risk from becoming seriously ill or dying from COVID-19," the administration official said.

"OSHA estimates that this rule will save thousands of lives and prevent over 250,000 hospitalizations during the six months after implementation," the official continued.

A number of major companies have already embraced COVID-19 vaccination policies similar to those imposed by the Biden administration, seeing them as a corporate responsibility.

Others have moved more slowly, waiting for clarification from the government on how they should proceed, who will pay for testing, and how the rules apply to the large number of people who are now working from home for these companies.

The Federal Register listing, which clocks in at 490 pages, is expected to answer many of these questions.

And while the mandate takes effect immediately, it serves as a proposal for a final standard that could extend the vaccine requirements to smaller businesses.

That means OSHA is soliciting comment on a number of questions, including: Have you instituted vaccination mandates (with or without alternatives), or requirements for regular COVID-19 testing or face covering use? What have been the benefits of your approach? What challenges have you had or could you foresee in implementing such programs? Is there anything specific to your industry, or the size of your business, that poses particular obstacles in implementing the requirements in this standard? How much time would it take, what types of costs would you incur, and how much would it cost for you to implement such requirements?

A senior administration official said OSHA will offer compliance assistance to businesses implementing the new standard beginning Thursday, including sample plans, fact sheets, frequently asked questions, and other materials.
